Lloyd's odds ed here today were 4 to 1 nst any crossing in April, 2 to 1 nst any crossing in May, 2 to 1 favor of Raynham getting , and 2 to 1 against Hawker g across. The latter odds are ed in the opinion of Morgan, ham's pilot, because the Rayn- outfit was ready to take the three days after its arrival, the Sopwith took longer and d one chance of getting away ven days ago. In addition to odds, St. Johns is making its sweepstakes in which lots are n in all sorts of aspects of the t. TRIUMPH FOR WILSON, SAYS LONDON PRESS.

NO HOSTILITY TO COVENANT OF NATIONS, EVEN BY CONSERVATIVE POST.

By Arthur E. Mann.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, April 28.—"We hope it will work," "Triumph for Wilson"—these phrases sum up the majority opinion of London morning papers concerning the revised draft of the League of Nations. There is no absolute hostility expressed against the principle of the covenant by even the conservative Morning Post, which, however, contends that the formation of the league should have been left until after the conclusion of peace.

Some of the papers take note of the Monroe Doctrine amendment in a tone which suggests they feel America is getting more than she is giving. Regarding this point the Post says:

"Supposing now that one of the British dominions quarreled with another nation it might eventually occur that Great Britain would be required to send ships and troops against a member of the British empire. For there is no clause in the covenant to exclude such a contingency whereas in the case of the United States the Monroe Doctrine is excepted from the scope of the league. It would seem to follow therefore that if a South American state were recalcitrant the league would have no power to deal with it, that power presumably being left to the United States to exercise."

On this issue the Daily Express says: "This is an attempt to exchange the practical for ideal conduct of all affairs. Something of the same sort has been seen at the Peace Conference itself and we have seen the extreme difficulty under which the idealist labors when he approaches severely practical issues. Even in the very covenant we take note of the fact that the Monroe Doctrine is expressly inviolate."

President Wilson's influence in the framing of the covenant is recognized by Lord Northcliffe's Daily Mail, which says:

"We join heartily in the felicitations which the conference bestowed on President Wilson on the triumph of his momentous ideal," while the Daily Express in a similar view declares: "President Wilson has his personal triumph."

The Liberal Daily News, always a strong supporter of President Wilson and the league idea, has the most enthusiastic and at the same time the most constructive criticism of the draft and expresses approval of its amended form. However, it takes a stand alone for the Japanese race equality amendment which was withdrawn from discussion at the conference. The News says:

"It is essential in our opinion that Japan's amendment should receive the sanction of the league. It is a simple statement of fact which the league, unless it is to be meaningless, must apply. We can have no color bar in the confederacy of man."

FOUR SAILORS DROWN WHEN LAUNCH SINKS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 28.—Four United States sailors were drowned and a fifth is missing and believed to have been lost when a motor launch bearing a shore party back to the "Victory fleet" on the Hudson collided early this morning with the destroyer Henley and sank.

A statement issued by naval officials tonight listed the following as having been lost: William P. Oliver of Lucien, Miss., fireman second class, of the destroyer Harding; Carl Bedell of San Francisco, fireman third-class of the Harding; Dennis J. O'Connell of Derby, Ct., seaman second-class of the destroyer Bell; Enrique Guilopa of Candoba, P. I., cabin steward of the Bell. John F. Quinn of St. Louis, seaman of the Harding, is missing.

LATEST BULLETINS FROM PARIS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, April 28.—No credence is given at the "White House" to the statement that Thomas Nelson Page, American Ambassador to Italy, is coming to Paris on account of differences with the President over the Fiume question. It is declared nothing is known of any such differences.

PARIS, April 28.—The Temps says it is asserted in American Peace Conference circles that President Wilson does not expect to add anything to his recent statement on the Adriatic issue with Italy.

PARIS, April 28.—The council of five Saturday agreed, La Liberte says, that German war prisoners shall be liberated after the signing of the peace treaty. The newspaper says details concerning the future status of the Kiel Canal have not been settled, but that an agreement has been reached on the principle of internationalization.

PARIS, April 28.—Denial that posters announcing the annexation of Fiume by Italy had appeared in Rome by official order before President Wilson issued his recent statement on the Adriatic question was made by the Italian delegation here today.

PARIS, Saturday, April 26.—A report that M. Loucheur, Minister of Reconstruction, had said importations into France would be entirely free after June 1 is declared erroneous by the Petit Parisien.

GENEVA, April 28.—The battalion of British troops which occupied Fiume with the Italians after the armistice left Fiume when the Italian delegates to the Peace Conference left Paris, according to advices from Agram, capital of Croatia and Slavonia. The reason for this action by the British is reported to be a desire to avoid friction with Italian troops. The dispatch says the Italians are reinforcing their troops in Central Istria.

HELSINGFORS, Saturday, April 26.—The Bolshevik Commissioner for the Interior at Petrograd ordered the sale at auction last week of all the scientific instruments belonging to the Institute of Public Studies. These instruments are said to have been sold at ridiculously low figures.

GENEVA, April 28.—Former Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary has rented for eight months a house that once was the residence of Prince Jerome Napoleon. It is situated on the banks of Lake Geneva at Prangins, near Nyon.

COPENHAGEN, April 28.—A Reval Russian dispatch says there has been a big fire in Narva, eighty-one miles south of Petrograd. The conflagration was started by a bombardment of the town by the Bolsheviki. Hundreds of houses were burned, and 5000 persons are homeless.

EARLY-MORNING FIRE DESTROYS FLATS; SLEEPERS ROUSED BY DOG.

Fire early this morning destroyed a four-flat building at 891-97 West Vernon avenue, owned by J. W. Youngs and occupied by W. H. Besselman, Lloyd Sherman, Miss Esther C. Turner and Mrs. Anna Dunn. The loss was $10,000; $3500 insurance on the building.

The fire started under the rear porch of the apartment occupied by Mrs. Dunn. Mr. Sherman, who is record clerk at Central Police Station, says it looks like the work of a firebug who has been going around the neighborhood using a gasoline gun.

A dog belonging to Mrs. Dunn gave the first warning of the blaze and by its barking roused the tenants to their danger. It ran back into the apartment during the fire and was rescued by a fireman.

The door leading to the Besselman apartment was jammed and the firemen had to chop it down before the tenants could get out. Battalion Chief Davis directed the firemen and officers from the University Police Station assisted in saving furniture.

HUN PEACE DELEGATES AT VERSAILLES; BERLIN PAPERS URGE BASIS OF NEW TREATY

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

VERSAILLES, April 28.—A large number of the Germans who are to attend the Peace Congress arrived here this evening at 9 o'clock. The party numbered sixty. Immediately on their arrival the delegates were taken in automobiles to the Hotel des Reservoirs. There was no untoward incident.

The main plenipotentiaries and the technical delegates, who will complete the full delegation, are expected to arrive tomorrow. The second installment of Germans who are to attend the Peace Congress arrived at 10 o'clock tonight. The party included a large number of women stenographers and typists.

BERLIN, April 28.—Commenting on the departure of the German peace delegates for Versailles, the Tageblatt says:

"The German delegates must put forth every possible effort by reasonable speech, by just and practical counter-proposals, by the appreciation of the feelings, fears and vital interests of others, to prepare a basis on which a tolerable treaty may be constructed."

The Vossische Zeitung says:

"It is in Germany's interest that the greatest possible number of differences among the European states shall be permanently removed. The French must realize that Germany cannot pay with money, but only with work that will restore France."

The Tageblatt says:

"Hard as we are pressed, we can, if we do not again in a decisive hour lose our nerve, hold out longer than our enemies, who, in their revenge, have exhausted themselves and must give their people either peace or revolution."

Vorwaerts says:

"A peace of violence would be nothing but war, in which guns will not be in action."

PARIS, April 28.—The covenant of the League of Nations, in revised form, moved by President Wilson, was adopted today by the Peace Conference in plenary session without a dissenting vote.

The President's motion also named Sir James Eric Drummond as secretary-general of the league and provided for a committee to inaugurate the league.

Thus one of the notable works of the conference passes its final stages and is incorporated in the peace treaty.

The French and Japanese amendments, after a brief discussion, were not pressed, and the way was thus cleared for unanimous acceptance of the league.

Italy was not represented at the session, but the name of Italy appears as one of the members of the league in the covenant as finally adopted. Nine labor principles were adopted for insertion in the treaty.

The session adjourned without considering the report on responsibilities providing for the trial of the former German Emperor by five judges from the great powers. This report was handed in by the council of four and embodies in the peace treaty a provision for the former Emperor's prosecution. This, however, has not yet been adopted by the plenary conference.

The session opened at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the French Foreign Office under circumstances of unusual interest because of the fact that it was to be one of the last of the sessions before the meeting with the German delegates at Versailles; that final action was to be taken on some of the main features of the peace treaty, notably the League of Nations, responsibility for the war and the trial of the former German Emperor and others, and because important labor clauses were to be inserted in the treaty.

President Wilson was recognized at the outset for a detailed explanation of the new covenant of the league. His speech was without oratorical effect, confirmed the explanation of the textual changes and named Belgium, Brazil, Greece and Spain on the league council and also on the committee to prepare plans for the first meeting of the league.

Baron Makino, head of the Japanese delegation, in a brief speech, called renewed attention to the Japanese amendment on racial equality. He said the race question was a standing grievance, which might become a dangerous issue at any time, and announced an effort would be made to have the principle of racial equality adopted as part of the document.

Paul Hymans, representing Belgium, expressed the regret of the Belgian people at the selection of Geneva as the seat of the League of Nations, while approving the high aims of the league.

The amendments of M. Bourgeois, representing France, were not passed. M. Clemenceau then put the question of the adoption of President Wilson's motion, which prevailed without a formal vote.

The covenant was declared adopted and the session proceeded to the labor report, reciting nine principles for inclusion in the treaty, which was accepted. After setting aside the report on war responsibilities for later consideration, the session adjourned.

TEXT OF WILSON ADDRESS BEFORE PLENARY SESSION.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, April 28.—Following is the text of President Wilson's speech before the plenary session of the Peace Conference today:

"Mr. President: When the text of the covenant of the League of Nations was last laid before you I had the honor of reading the covenant in extenso. I will not detain you today to read the covenant as it has now been altered, but will merely take the liberty of explaining to you some of the alterations that have been made.

"The report of the commission has been circulated. You yourselves have in hand the text of the covenant, and will no doubt have noticed that most of the changes that have been made are mere changes of phraseology, not changes of substance, and that, besides that, most of the changes are intended to clarify the document, or, rather, to make explicit what we all have assumed was implicit in the document as it was originally presented to you. But I shall take the liberty of calling your attention to the new features such as they are. Some of them are considerable; the rest trivial.

"The first paragraph of article 1 is new. In view of the insertion of the covenant in the peace treaty, specific provision as to the signatories of the treaty, who would become members of the league, and also as to neutral states to be invited to accede to the covenant, were obviously necessary. The paragraph also provides for the method by which a neutral state may accede to the covenant.

"The third paragraph of article 1 is new, providing for the withdrawal of any member of the league on a notice given of two years.

"The second paragraph of article 4 is new, providing for a possible increase in the council, should other powers be added to the League of Nations whose present accession is not anticipated.

"The two last paragraphs of article 4 are now, providing specifically for one vote for each member of the league in the council, which was understood before, and providing also for one representative of each member of the league.

"The first paragraph of article 5 is new, expressly incorporating the provision as to the unanimity of voting, which was at first taken for granted.

"The second paragraph of article 6 has had added to it that a majority of the assembly must approve the appointment of the secretary-general.

"The first paragraph of article 7 names Geneva as the seat

Chief Justice White of the United States Supreme Court.

Elihu Root.

Atty.-Gen. Palmer.

Former Atty.-Gen. Gregory.

Secretary of State Lansing.

Chief Justice White was mentioned most frequently as the logical and most commendable selection that could be made.

Withdraw U. S. Troops

ARCHANGEL, Sunday, April 27.—The American troops are gradually being withdrawn from the front lines, preparatory to their departure when the harbor opens. As far as possible they are being replaced by new Russian troops, who are being schooled at the front by American and British officers.

There are no Americans on the Pinega or Kadish-Sredmakrenga fronts. The Dvina and Vaga columns still have some Americans. On the Dvina the Allied positions have been slightly withdrawn from Tulgas to give better positions for the expected onslaught by enemy gunboats.

The Bolshevik infantry was dispersed yesterday by Allied artillery. Allied airplanes also dropped bombs with considerable success.

Germans Whine Again

BERLIN, April 28.—In a speech yesterday strongly protesting against what he characterized as the attempts of the Allies to deprive Germany of Danzig and the Saar Valley, Herr Heine, Russian Minister of the Interior, declared those in power in the Entente countries had made just as much use of their "lust for power, their vanity and their lies as ever the former rules of Germany did."

Herr Heine maintained Germany's acceptance of President Wilson's fourteen points had created a contractual position. He added that the wrongs done to Belgium must be repaired, but declared "fresh wrongs must not be heaped upon us."

Finns Capture Town

HELSINGFORS, Sunday, April 27.—The newspapers today report that Finnish volunteers Saturday captured the town of Lotinanpolto, on the White Sea. The town is an important strategic point, the junction of many roads and the railway between Petrograd and the Murman coast, which is closed to the Bolsheviki. It is assumed the Bolsheviki torpedo-boat flotilla at Lotinanpolto was unable to escape owing to the ice.

Huns Wreck Machinery

BUENOS AIRES, April 28.—The Prefect of the Port of Rosario met with resistance by the German officers today as he attempted to board the German steamers Lunenberg and Santa Clara, which are to be delivered to the United States. The Prefect was able to board the ships only after he had threatened to use forces. An inspection of the vessels showed their machinery had been wrecked.

G.O.P. CONFERS ON LEAGUE.

Republican Senators Gather at Washington to Fix Attitude on New Covenant.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Republican Senators began to gather in Washington today for a series of conferences to formulate their position and outline a programme of action with regard to the revised League of Nations covenant.

Those who reached the capital today wore war paint and talked belligerently when they discussed the new league covenant. They denounced "propaganda," as they stamped it, representing them as weakening in their opinion on the league. Even as revised, they declared it unacceptable, and there was a unanimity of belief that the covenant would have to be radically revised before it could be ratified by the Senate.

The attitude of returned Senators was summed up in these words by Senator Sherman of Illinois, who has been absent on an extended visit among his constituents:

"The league has been improved somewhat, but not nearly sufficiently to justify my voting for it."

It could not be learned whether the coming of the Republican Senators was by concerted agreement, or whether, when they get here, there will be one big "pow-wow." Some Senators were inclined to believe that a series of conferences would be held, and that their attitude would be set forth in a public statement. The gathering here will be the first large assembly of Republican Senators since Congress adjourned, March 4.

Peace Treaty Decrees ex-Kaiser Shall Answer for International Crimes to Court of Allies

FIVE TO DECIDE WILLIAM'S FATE

Tribunal of Leading Nations to Fix Punishment.

Extradition to be Demanded of Holland.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, April 28.—At today's plenary session of the Peace Conference the council of four presented the text of a peace treaty provision for the prosecution of former Emperor William by a court of five judges "for a supreme offense against international morality and the sanctity of treaties."

The court is to be composed of representatives of the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan. It will fix the punishment of the accused, whose extradition is to be asked. A separate tribunal will try other military officers.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Although the Peace Conference today failed to take up the question of responsibility for the war, officials here were unanimous tonight in the belief that the peace treaty as delivered to the German plenipotentiaries will call for the trial of William Hohenzollern, former Emperor of Germany, before a court of the associated powers.

Trial of the former Emperor for a "supreme offense against international morality and the sanctity of treaties," the State Department announced today, had been included in the recommendations of the Peace Conference commission on responsibility. These recommendations are embodied in four articles published by the State Department without comment and which the commission proposes to insert in the final treaty.

FIVE JUDGES.

The articles specify that the former Emperor is not to be tried "for an offense against criminal law," and that the international court shall be composed of five judges appointed by Great Britain, the United States, Japan, Italy and France. It is further provided that the associated governments shall request Holland to deliver up the former Emperor.

The commission's recommendations also provide that all persons accused of acts in violation of the international rules of warfare shall be brought before international tribunals.

Some officials said this provision would bring before the associated governments other members of the house of Hohenzollern and such other leaders of extreme German militarism and cruelty as Gen. Von Bissing, military governor of Belgium, and Admiral Von Tirpitz, who conceived and advocated the submarine campaign.

The State Department's announcement of the solution was received here generally with surprise, because it was known that Secretary Lansing, chairman of the commission, had steadfastly opposed any attempt to bring the former kaiser before an international tribunal. Mr. Lansing contended there was no law by which such an offender could be reached by the conference, and that it would be contrary to the constitution of the United States for the American delegates to participate in the execution of a sort of international ex post facto law. At that time, however, it was proposed to charge criminal and military offenses and it was suggested today that the decision to base the indictment upon violation of international morality and the sanctity of treaties was taken to meet the American viewpoint.

Specific provision for punishment of individual enemy officers and officials who order or permit violations of the established rules of war is found in "Rules of Land Warfare," the official handbook of the United States government on this subject. Under the head of "punishment of individuals," the following passage occurs:

"Commanders ordering commission of such acts, or under whose authority they are committed, may be punished by the belligerent into whose hands they fall."

THREE CRIME GROUPS.

Offenses listed against the military forces of the Central Powers, it was said, may be grouped under three general heads: Crimes against opposing armies; crimes against opponents in marine industry; crimes against non-combatants and civilians.

Under the first group would come the employing of "projectiles which have for their object the diffusion of asphyxiating or deleterious gases," prohibited in The Hague convention of 1899; use of mushroom bullets and other weapons tending to cause unnecessary suffering prohibited in The Hague convention of 1907; destruction of Red Cross and hospital personnel and material; pollution of water supply sources, and misuse of flags of truce.

Crimes committed by the enemy's naval forces which would render individual officers culpable would include the sinking without warning of merchant craft, destruction under any conditions of hospital ships, bombardment of undefended ports and sinking of lifeboats and rafts laden with survivors.

Offenses against civilian population in occupied districts, prohibited strictly in the American manual include: Imprisoning enemy subjects en masse; expulsion of civilians from occupied territory; use of prisoner labor on operations directly connected with the war; internment under conditions of hardship; compulsory enlistment; debasement of currency; wanton destruction of property; abrogation of civil governments.

PUNISHMENT NOT LISTED.

While the punishment to be inflicted for such violations is not set forth in "rules of land warfare," reference is made to the severe penalties to be imposed in cases where American officers or enlisted men are guilty of any crimes mentioned. It is thought probable that, in cases where a military tribunal representing the United States was sitting, the procedure laid down to govern army court-martials would be followed and the penalties in every case would be the same as provided when the defendant is a member of the military establishment of this country.

The announcement issued by the State Department follows:

"Following are the proposed articles regarding penalties, for insertion in treaty of peace to be considered at a plenary session of the conference today, Monday, at 3 o'clock p.m., Paris time:

"'Article I. The Allies and associated powers publicly arraign William II of Hohenzollern, formerly German Emperor, not for an offense against criminal law, but for a supreme offense against international morality and the sanction of treaties.

"'A special tribunal will be constituted to try the accused thereby assuring him the guarantees essential to the right of defense. It will be composed of five judges, one appointed by each of the followins five powers: Namely, the United States of America, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan.

TO FIX PUNISHMENT.

"'In its decision the tribunal will be guided by the highest motives of international policy with a view to vindicating the solemn obligationx of international undertakings and the validity of international morality. It will be its duty to fix the punishment which it considers should be imposed.

"'The Allied and associated powers will address a request to the government of The Netherlands for the surrender to them of the ex-Emperor, in order that he may be put on trial.

"'Article II. The German government not having insured the punishment of the persons accused of having exercised acts in violation of the laws and customs of war, such persons will be brought before military tribunals by the Allied and associated powers and if found guilty, sentenced to the punishments laid down by military law.

"'The German government shall hand over to the Allied and associated powers or to such one of them as shall so request, all persons accused of having committed an act in violation of the laws and customs of war who are specified either by name, or by the rank, office or employment which they held under the German authorities.

"'Article III. Persons guilty of criminal acts against the nationals of one of the Allied and associated powers will be brought before the military tribunal of that power.

"'Persons guilty of criminal acts against the nationals of more than one of the Allied and associated powers will be brought before military tribunals composed of members of the military tribunals of the powers concerned.

"'In every case the accused will be entitled to name his own counsel.'"

"'Article IV. The German government undertakes to furnish all documents and information of every kind, the production of which may be considered necessary to insure the full knowledge of the incriminating acts, the discovery of the offenders, the just appreciation of the responsibility.'"

WORLD ADOPTS LEAGUE DRAFT.

The South American representatives expressed approval at great length before the covenant was adopted. During this part of the afternoon a distinct restlessness was notable, President Wilson walking over to a friend, and Premier Lloyd George disappearing from the room.

When the decision was taken President Wilson was surrounded by delegates and friends, who congratulated him on the constitution of the league, which he had steered past many quicksands.

There was not more than a moment's pause in honor of the creation of the League of Nations, the conference then proceeding with the regular programme.

George Nicoll Barnes, British delegate, explained the nine points which the labor commission wished embodied in the peace treaty. Sir Robert L. Borden, Canadian Premier, then read the revised points.

The revised clauses say the standard set by law regarding conditions of labor should have due regard for the equitable and economic treatment of all workers lawfully resident in a country, and also that a forty-eight-hour week should be aimed at. The commission had asked for this, except where climatic conditions interfered.

Sir Robert Borden said the changes in the phraseology were the result of suggestions by different delegations, and they had been accepted by all the great industrial nations.

M. Clemenceau declared the revised nine points carried.

Mrs. Wilson, accompanied by her secretary, listened to the discussions throughout the session with keen interest.

PERSHING OPPOSES LARGE RHINE ARMY.

FOCH ALARMED OVER RAPID WITHDRAWAL OF AMERICAN, BRITISH FORCES.

BY HENRY WALES.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, April 28.—President Wilson is conferring this evening with Gen. Pershing to obtain the general's views regarding Marshal Foch's protests to Clemenceau, Friday. It is understood Foch flatly warned the Premier he would not be responsible for the safety of France unless large occupationary armies were maintained across the Rhine bridgeheads and the marshal suggested that Great Britain and the United States maintain considerably larger forces on the Rhine than heretofore envisaged.

It is stated that Foch views with grave concern the rapid American and British demobilization. It can be stated through staff officers that Pershing definitely opposed maintaining American forces in France longer than is absolutely necessary. Pershing believes that seven regular divisions are a sufficient American quota for the Rhine forces and the British are experiencing difficulty in obtaining the number of battalions they promised Foch. Foch foresees a serious German menace imminent especially since the Italian break and the Japanese threat.

HARDING SAYS LEAGUE IS BIG CONTRADICTION.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MARION (O.) April 28.—"It is difficult to appraise the new covenant until one may study its effects on our own national life," United States Senator Warren G. Harding said today in commenting on the new draft of the League of Nations. "No one disputes the commendable purpose, as the world understands it. Maybe the world has not sensed the big contradiction. We talk freely and enthusiastically of democracy and self-determination, and yet the league clearly proposes to perpetuate the great empires of the world, proposes to hold Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan intact, and we are to give of our man power and resources, as well as moral force, to do so. No new republic like our very own will ever be born in the world while the league keeps its compact.

"Either the covenant involves a surrender of national sovereignty and submits our future destiny to the league, or it is an empty thing, big in name, and will ultimately disappoint all of humanity that hinges hope on it."

KOLCHAK TROOPS IN KINEL.

Three Omsk Armies Make Heavy Gains Against Bolsheviki.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, April 28.—Admiral Kolchak's troops have advanced along the southern branch of the Trans-Siberian Railroad in Eastern European Russia to Kinel, only forty miles east of Samara, according to dispatches received by the Russian commissioners in Paris from Omsk, the capital of Admiral Kolchak's government.

A slower advance is also being made along the northern branch of the trans-Siberian, where the anti-Bolshevik forces have taken Glazov east of Viatka. A third column is moving westward midway between these two forces and has reached Saropul on the Kama River. This stream is navigable and flows into the Volga and with the disappearance of the ice, which is now breaking up, should afford easy transportation to Simbirsk, which is apparently the destination of the central column.

Prince Lvoff and other members of the Russian commission here believe that the movement westward will be rapid as spring advances and they expect that the lower Volga Valley will soon be under the control of the Kolchak government. It is hoped, also that the Omsk forces will soon capture Viatka thus making it imperative that the Bolsheviki withdraw from the Archangel section as the railway running north from Viatka reaches the Dvina at Kotlas and would make communication easy between the Allied forces in northern Russia and those of the Omsk government.

Admiral Kolchak's troops in all three columns are Russians, all Czecho-Slovak and Allied forces having remained in Siberia. Their excellent showing has attracted much attention in Peace Conference circles and is assisting the movement inaugurated some time ago for the recognition of the Omsk government by the Entente Powers and the United States.

HELSINGFORS, April 28.—A national assembly has been formed at Olonotz, 110 miles northeast of Petrograd, where the Finns have driven out the Bolsheviki. The town was captured, according to reports, by volunteer troops.

ARCHANGEL, Saturday, April 26.—The Bolshevik reinforcements which arrived recently on the northern front in preparation for a new offensive against the American and Allied troops, it is reported, have been withdrawn and rushed to Viatka to stem the advance of the northern wing of the Siberian anti-Bolshevik army.

Peasants confirm reports of a revolt of Bolshevik troops in Bolshoie Oserki before the withdrawal from that village. The revolt was quelled by force.

STOCKHOLM, April 27.—The inhabitants of Clonetz, 110 miles northeast of Petrograd, have revolted against the Bolsheviki. The revolt is spreading northward.

TEXT OF WILSON'S LEAGUE ADDRESS.

of the league, and is followed by a second paragraph, which gives the council power to establish the seat of the league elsewhere, should it subsequently deem it necessary.

"The third paragraph of article 7 is new, establishing equality of employment of men and women.

"The second paragraph of Article 12 is new, inasmuch as it undertakes to give it instances of disputes which are generally suitable for submission to arbitration, instances of what have latterly been called 'justiciable' questions.

"The eighth paragraph of Article 15 is new. This is the amendment regarding domestic jurisdiction, that where the council finds a question arising out of an international dispute affects matters which are clearly under the domestic jurisdiction of one or the other of the parties it is to report to that effect and make no recommendation.

"The last paragraph of Article 16 is new, providing for an expulsion from the league in certain extraordinary circumstances.

"Article 21 is new.

"The second paragraph of Article 22 inserts the words with regard to the mandatories 'and who are willing to accept it,' thus explicitly introducing the principle that a mandate cannot be forced upon a nation unwilling to accept it.

"Article 23 is a combination of several former articles and also contains the following:

"A clause providing for the just treatment of aborigines; a clause looking toward a prevention of the white slave traffic, and the traffic in opium, and a clause looking toward progress in international prevention and control of disease.

"Article 26 specifically mentions the Red Cross as one of the international organizations which are to connect their work with the work of the league.

"Article 26 permits the amendment of the covenant by a majority of the states composing the assembly, instead of three-fourths of the states, though it does not change the requirement in that matter with regard to the vote in the council.

"The second paragraph of article 26 is also new, and was added at the request of the Brazilian delegation to avoid certain constitutional difficulties. It permits any member of the league to dissent from an amendment, the effect of such dissent being withdrawal from the league.

"And the annex is added, giving the names of the signatories of the treaty, who become members, and the names of the states invited to accede to the covenant. These are all the changes, I believe, which are of moment.

"Mr. President: I take the opportunity to move the following resolutions in order to carry out the provisions of the covenant. You will notice that the covenant provides that the first secretary-general shall be chosen by this conference. It also provides that the first choice of the four member states who are to be added to the five great powers on the council is left to this conference.

"I move, therefore, that the first secretary-general of the council shall be the Hon. Sir James Eric Drummond, and second, that until such time as the assembly shall have selected the first four members of the league to be represented on the council in accordance with Article IV of the covenant, representatives of Belgium, Brazil, Greece and Spain shall be members; and, third, that the powers to be represented on the council of the League of Nations are requested to name representatives who shall form a committee of nine to perpare plans for the organization of the league and for the establishment of the seat of league and to make arrangements and to perpare the agenda for the first meeting of the assembly, this committee to report both to the council and to the assembly of the league.

"I think it not necessary to call your attention to other matters we have previously discussed—the capital significance of this covenant; the hopes which are entertained as to the effect it will have upon steadying the affairs of the world and the obvious necessity that there should be a concert of the free nations of the world to maintain justice in international relations, the relations between people and between the nations of the world.

"If Baron Makino will pardon me for introducing a matter which I absent-mindedly overlooked, it is necessary for me to propose the alteration of several words in the first line of Article V. Let me say that in several parts of the treaty of which this covenant will form a part, certain duties are assigned to the council of the League of Nations. In several instances it is provided that the action they shall take shall be by a majority vote. It is therefore necessary to make the covenant conform with the other portions of the treaty by adding these words. I will read the first line and add the words:

"'Except where otherwise expressly provided in this covenant, or by the terms of this treaty, decisions at any meeting of the assembly or of the council shall require the agreement of all the members of the league represented at the meeting.'

"'Except where otherwise expressly provided in this covenant,' is the present reading and I move the addition 'or by the terms of this treaty.' With that addition I move the adoption of the covenant."

Chronic Constipation.

There are people who never have a movement of the bowels without it is produced by a cathartic. Most of them have brought that condition on themselves by the use of mineral waters and strong cathartics that take too much water out of the system and aggravate the disease they are meant to relieve. A mild laxative tonic like Chamberlain's Tablets affords a gentle movement of the bowels that you hardly realize has been produced by a medicine, and their use is not so likely to be followed by constipation.—[Advertisement.

SENATORS VOICE LEAGUE OPINIONS

Moses Says Certain Amendments Needed.

Some Withhold Comment Pending Consideration.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Publication by the State Department today of the revised covenant of the League of Nations gave the public the document to the American people several hours in advance of its presentation to the Peace Conference in plenary session at which substance of the covenant, but no material changes desired particularly to meet criticisms in the United States, had been disclosed here ago through an official source, but many members of the senate and officials and other students of the nation's foreign relations withheld final judgment pending careful analysis of the document.

Apparently there was agreement that the official summary gave a fairly comprehensive picture of the document, especially the amendments. The summary specifically exempting Monroe doctrine engagements and regional understandings, "such as the Monroe doctrine," has been generally approved. The summary also listed the amendments examining purely domestic questions from the jurisdiction of the league, providing withdrawal of members on two years' notice, leaving it to member states to decide what force, if any, they will give to any force which the council may determine is necessary to enforce its findings, providing that territories shall be given self-government willing to accept them, and definitely that naval programmes become effective when approved by the governments concerned.

Most of the Congressmen who were out of the city, including Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, who will be chairman of the Senate foreign relations Committee and Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, the ranking Democratic senator.

Two cabled comments on the text of the amended covenant were received at the State Department. In behalf of the members the prime minister of Wales was ultimately favorable. New Zealand cabled that "no" was inserted by error for the last sentence, but that obvious error is to be corrected. Some of the senators, including Senator Knox, Republican, of Pennsylvania, today.

Senator Moses of New Hampshire, Republican, made comments to the United States constitution would be necessary to make the covenant effective, though he thought there had been some improvement in phraseology. He added that he believed the league would not go into any mess that did not suit any part of the world.

Senator Walsh, Democrat, said he was pleased that the covenant reserved the Monroe doctrine from the jurisdiction of the league and said that there was a tendency to disarm the critics of the league.

"I never had any hallucination that we would get anything in that respect in the original covenant," he said.

SENATORS VOICE LEAGUE OPINION

Moses Says Constitutional Amendments Needed.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Publication by the State Department today of the revised covenant of the League of Nations gave the text of the document to the American people several hours in advance of its presentation to the Peace Conference in plenary session at Paris. The substance of the covenant, including material changes designed particularly to meet criticisms in the United States, had been disclosed two weeks ago through an official source, but many members of the foreign officials and other students of the nation's foreign relations had withheld final judgment pending careful analysis of the complete text.

Apparently these observers found that the official summary had given a fairly comprehensive outline of the document, especially of the amendments. The new article specifically exempting international engagements and regional understandings, "such as the Monroe Doctrine," has been quoted verbatim. The summary also had outlined amendments exempting national domestic questions from the jurisdiction of the league, providing for withdrawal of member nations on two years' notice, leaving it to member states to decide what military force, if any, they will contribute to any force which the league may determine is necessary to enforce its findings, providing that mandatories shall be given only to states willing to accept them, and stating definitely that armament reduction programmes become effective only when approved by the states concerned.

Most of the Congressional leaders were out of the city today, including Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, who will be the next chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, retiring chairman.

Two cabled corrections upon the text of the annex to the covenant were received today by the State Department. In the list of original members the name of New South Wales was eliminated and that of New Zealand added. The word "not" was inserted at the beginning of the last sentence to correct an obvious error in transmission.

Some of the Senators [illegible], including Senator Johnson of California, Republican, withheld comment today.

Senator Moses of New Hampshire, Republican, said amendments to the United States constitution would be required in order to make the covenant effective although he thought that years of deliberation had been some improvement over the ology. He added that he believed the league would "never be lured into any mess that might involve any part of the world."

Senator Walsh of Montana, Democrat, said he was gratified that the covenant reserved the Monroe Doctrine from the authority of the league and said this would have a tendency to disarm many of the critics of the league.

"I never had any serious apprehension that we would have signed anything in that respect under the original covenant," he said.

NATION'S LOAN NEAR BILLION.

Week Ends with 18.65 Per Cent. of Total Sought.

Victory Ship Far Behind its Schedule on Trip.

Twelfth District Maintains Average in Fourth.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The nation has subscribed $839,479,900 to the Victory Liberty loan, according to tabulations announced tonight by the treasury. This figure, representing the first week's business, is 18.65 per cent of the $4,500,000,000 total sought.

At the opening of the second week of the three weeks campaign, reports to the treasury reflected a tendency among hundreds of communities, which are approaching or have passed the goals set for them, to oversubscribe, in compliance with the treasury's latest request.

It will be necessary to raise $216,000,000 subscriptions a day between now and May 10, the last day of the campaign, to subscribe the $4,500,000,000 total of the loan.

Having been advised by the Treasury Department that officially recorded subscriptions of the Victory Liberty Loan had totaled approximately $829,000,000, the Navy Department tonight ordered the "Victory ship" Crane to proceed to latitude 22½ degrees north. The orders bring the Crane, whose progress between San Francisco and New York is determined by loan subscriptions to a point about 700 miles south of the Mexican border and 1000 miles from San Francisco. She is much behind her schedule.

PERCENTAGES LISTED.

Subscriptions by districts and percentages of district quotas to the Victory Loan are as follows:

District—	Subscriptions	P.c.
St. Louis	$ 69,302,000	30.54
Chicago	172,969,000	26.04
Boston	90,710,000	24.18
Minneapolis	34,450,000	21.81
Kansas City	41,850,000	21.46
Cleveland	58,500,000	19.37
Richmond	28,250,000	15.28
Philadelphia	56,800,000	15.17
New York	201,000,000	14.85
Dallas	11,853,000	12.91
San Francisco	88,720,000	10.85
Atlanta	6,348,000	4.40

The proportion of the loan already subscribed is slightly greater than that raised at the corresponding time of the Fourth loan campaign, although the amount is about $200,000,000 less.

"This looks rather discouraging for the Victory Liberty Loan," said the treasury's daily review, "and the most hopeful sign connected with the situation is that some of the remote districts are slow in reporting their sales. This is particularly true in the Atlantic district."

New York City has subscribed almost four times as much as the rest of the district in which it is located, having a total of $156,000,000.

TWELFTH DISTRICT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 28.—Substantial additions to Victory Liberty Loan subscriptions were reported today from Northern California counties. Trinity went over the top and Shasta came within four points of the 100 per cent. mark. Close on the heels of these smaller counties are three with materially larger populations.

Humboldt, with a quota of $1,253,650 reported $932,500 collected. Both Napa and Solano are above 70 per cent. Solano had been credited with being over the top as a result of confusion in reports.

San Francisco subscribed today $1,599,900 to the loan, bringing its total subscriptions to 7.04 per cent. of its quota of $79,318,150. Los Angeles was reported as having subscribed to date 6.02 per cent. of its quota.

Reports of bank subscriptions throughout the Twelfth Federal Reserve District showed $55,202,250 from 139,080 subscribers, George K. Weeks, campaign manager said.

NEW YORK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 26.—Victory Liberty Loan subscriptions for the New York Federal Reserve District up to the close of business today totaled $201,369,850, 14.9 per cent. of the $1,350,000,000 quota. Five German submarines, brought to this country in the interest of the loan, soon will start their trips to various cities. The U-88 will go to San Pedro.

CHICAGO, April 28.—Subscriptions to the Victory Loan in Chicago had passed the $50,000,000 mark tonight.

KANSAS CITY, April 28.—The Tenth Federal Reserve District has subscribed $46,298,050 to the Victory Loan, reports tonight showed.

DENVER, April 28.—Theodore Braukman, 14 years old, was seriously injured today when the one-pound gun on the war tank Little Zeb, exploded in the lad's face during a Victory Loan demonstration here. Young Braukman was standing on the tank. The officer firing the one-pounder was inside the tank and could not see the boy.

OPPOSES PLANS FOR FEEDING RED RUSSIA.

SUPPLIES FOR THE BOLSHEVIKI WOULD ONLY PROLONG ASCENDENCY OF LENINE.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, April 28.—Dr. Fridtjof Nansen's plan for the neutrals to supply food to Moscow and Petrograd is apparently making little headway. As yet he has been unable to communicate with Nikolai Lenine, the Bolshevik Premier of Russia, and the opposition to the plan among the Russians here as representatives of the anti-Bolshevik elements in the French press is becoming more pronounced.

The Russian representatives insist that the armies which are now making an excellent showing against the Bolsheviki should not be handicaped by movements which tend to encourage the Lenine troops. The Bolshevik Premier's reported willingness to recognize foreign debts and to grant concessions in consideration of receiving food suplies and ceasing hostilities is taken by the Russians here as a distinct admission of weakness. They argue that plans for supplying food to Bolshevik Russia would only prolong the ascendency of Lenine and his colleagues and prevent a speedy restoration of normal conditions.

The defeat of the Bolsheviki at Kiev, in the Archangel section, on the Baltic front, and also along two branches of the trans-Siberian Railroad is regarded by Nicholas Tschaikovsky, head of the provisional government of Northern Russia, and his associates as proof that transportation facilities are failing the Bolsheviki and that they are no longer able to shift their armies quickly enough to meet attacks.

SAYS MANY PEDDLERS IN UNIFORM FAKERS.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Police chiefs of all cities of the country were appealed to today by Col. Arthur Woods, special assistant to the Secretary of War in charge of the employment of discharged soldiers, to aid the government in preventing peddlers and street fakers from wearing the uniform of the army or navy.

In a letter sent to the chiefs, Col. Woods said he believed many, if not most, of the men in uniform, peddling in the streets, never had seen service. Employers who hire men in uniform to peddle for them were denounced by Col. Woods as "cooties" who do it simply to play upon public sympathy.

WITNESS GIVES TESTIMONY IN MANN ACT CASE ON TRIAL AT SACRAMENTO.

SACRAMENTO, April 28.—Testimony that Miss Marjorie Northcutt had told her that W. E. Gowling was Mrs. Myrna Northcutt's "affinity" and that was the reason that Lieut. Carlton Northcutt went to war was given today in the United States District Court here by Miss Jessie Warne of Los Angeles, a witness for the defense in the trial of Gowling, who is charged with violation of the Mann Act.

Miss Warne, who said she had been employed as housekeeper by Mrs. Northcutt, denied on cross-examination that she had said to anyone that she had been compelled to leave the Northcutt home in Riverside during visits of Gowling there, because of actions of the defendant and Mrs. Northcutt. The witness said when Gowling visited in Riverside he slept with a 4-year-old daughter of Mrs. Northcutt and that the bedroom "was next to the one occupied by Mrs. Northcutt."

Miss Warne testified she accompanied Gowling and Mrs. Northcutt on a visit to Reno, Nev., and that they occupied separate rooms there and that the porch was screened.

Herbert Clark, a detective, testified for the prosecution, that he went on the porch, looked through a window and saw Gowling and Mrs. Noricutt in the same room.

LIBERTY BONDS TO FREE THREE I.W.W.'S.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, April 28.—Ten thousand dollar's worth of Liberty Bonds were placed before Federal Judge Landis today as part bail for three members of the I.W.W. convicted here last fall of violating the Espionage Act. The Liberty Bonds were furnished by Olga Laukki of Minneapolis, as bail for Leo Laukki. Bond of $10,000 also was furnished for John Panoner and $1000 for Petro Nigro. The three men are in the Leavenworth (Kan.) penitentiary and an order for their release was sent there today.

WILL MUSTER OUT MANY MEN TODAY.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA SOLDIERS AT KEARNY SOON WILL BE ON WAY HOME.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

CAMP KEARNY, April 27.—The Second Battalion of the Three Hundred and Sixty-fourth Infantry arrived here early this morning, and the day was quietly spent, as it is expected will be the remaining two days while the men who went from Southern California and fought in the Argonne are here. The members of the battalion are due to be mustered out Tuesday and will immediately return to their homes.

The battalion is under the command of Maj. H. H. Rasch. The Three Hundred and Sixty-fourth Regiment saw service in the St. Mihiel, Lys-Scheldt and Argonne campaigns and lost many men.

From the time the demobilization center was organized at this camp on December 19, last, to this morning, 300 officers and 11,000 enlisted men had been sent from various camps to be discharged from the service. On the average, camp officers say, they have been started from Camp Kearny to their homes within forty-eight hours of their arrival. Officers in charge of the work believe that this record is better than that of any other demobilization camp in the country. The task has been accomplished only by hard work, in which Sunday and other liberty periods and some sleep have been sacrificed.

Authority has been received from the War Department to employ civilian help and this is expected to lighten the labors of the demobilization officers who say their aim has been to gratify the known desires of the men to get home at the earliest possible moment.

The demobilization center is commanded by Maj. William Kelly, whose adjutant is Lieut. B. A. Seymour. The personnel adjutant of the center is Capt. W. M. Galvin, with Lieut. G. C. Shepperd as assistant.

SAYS INDIANA WANTS HAYS FOR GOVERNOR.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Senator New of Indiana, on his return here today from the Middle West, said that Republicans of Indiana were talking of Chairman Hays of the Republican National committee as a candidate for governor.

"If Mr. Hays will take the nomination it will not be difficult for him to get it," said Mr. New. "He could still remain at the head of the National committee. The Republicans of Indiana would lend him to the committee and he would be elected Governor without even making a campaign. He is highly regarded in Indiana, and would make an acceptable Governor."

If Mr. Hays becomes the candidate for Governor of the Hoosier state it is expected Governor Goodrich will either aim for the senatorship from that state or start a boom for the nomination for the presidency. The Indiana Governor has been spoken of as a candidate for the vice-presidency, but his supporters insist that he will not take second place on the ticket.

I.W.W. ARE PLANNING FOR ONE GREAT UNION.

DECLARE BOLSHEVIKI MOVEMENT MERELY AN EXPERIMENT ON SMALL SCALE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, April 28.—After two years devoted almost entirely to the defense of their members who have been haled before the Federal courts, the I.W.W. are about to inaugurate a plan of unionism at their convention to be held in Chicago May 5 in their hall at 119 South Throop street—unless the police interfere.

Officials of the I.W.W. were reticent this morning in talking of the proposed meeting, and denied that any convention had been planned. In fact, one man went so far as to say the convention had already been held, and that it was odd no one knew what had occurred. It was learned today, however, that the little meetings held in the fifteen I.W.W. gathering places throughout the city saw the building of a platform upon which they hope to make the ideas of the I.W.W. stand. They have carefully guarded the fact that the convention will be held next week. But a mysterious phone call was made last week by one of the women members of the organization, who told the agent for the hall that she would finance the meetings. When asked to make a deposit on the rent she is reported to have replied:

"What's the use? The police and Federal operatives will probably stop the convention, so why waste money?"

In the little meetings throughout the city the big topic of discussion is the "one big union plan," by which the I.W.W. propose to make a closed corporation or trust of all unions and all workmen to fight capitalism. In one of their publications the One Big Union monthly, declaring their "satisfaction that the revolutionary wave is encircling the globe," they announced a warning to capitalism in the following statement:

"It has dawned upon the parasite class that the end of their existence is near. The working class of the world is shaking itself so vigorously that the parasite feels his grip loosening. He thinks he has found the cause in the Bolshevik movement and the I.W.W. The attempts of the Russian Bolsheviki to crack the solid wall of private ownership are so far to be considered merely as experiments on a small scale. The great world revolution remains to be done."

Among the immediate demands that are to be included in the programme of the I.W.W. are freedom of all "political and industrial" prisoners, removal of postal restrictions that bar syndicalist literature from the mails; shortening of working hours to five, six or seven hours a day; raising all wages, lowering prices, and "immediate cessation of all persecution against workers who are not in agreement with the policies of the present rulers."

They emphatically assert that unless all of these demands are complied with "there will be no peace in this country," with the warning, "the result must of necessity be suffering, with accompanying disorder and bloodshed and general national collapse."

DISPOSE OF TREATY, AFTERWARDS MEXICO.

ASSOCIATED GOVERNMENTS TO ACT IN MATTER OF GERMANY'S FINANCES.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Refusal by Mexico to recognize the financial clause of the armistice terms by which Germany pledged herself to the Allies not to dispose of any of her stocks in specie or any of her foreign title deeds or bonds abroad, whether in the possession of the government, banks, individuals or companies is a subject of discussion in Paris, it was learned today at the State Department. Any action taken in the matter will be for the present directed by the representatives of the associated governments and not by the United States on its own initiative. Action of some kind, however, is looked for as soon as the peace treaty is out of the way.

Mexico made known her attitude in a reply to M. F. de Jean, French Charge d'Affaires, who, in the name of the French government, warned the Mexican government of the determination of the Allies not to permit Germany to profit in any way by the sale of securities and thus cheat the Allies of part of the damage indemnification that was to be demanded of Germany. This was agreed to by Germany in signing the armistice terms, but the Carranza government replied that action on the part of Mexico in preventing any such sales would violate the terms of a treaty between Mexico and Germany and that the Mexican government would not accede to the request of the Allies.

GOVERNMENT TO LET GO CABLES.

Burleson Recommends Release by May Tenth.

Also Urges Return of Wire Lines to Owners.

Says Congress Must Act to Restore Land Service.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The government is proposing to relinquish control next month of American cable lines and to restore the telegraph and telephone systems to private ownership immediately after enactment by Congress of laws necessary to safeguard the properties.

Postmaster-General Burleson, as directing head of the wire communication service, announced today he had recommended to President Wilson that the cables be turned back forthwith, probably not later than May 10. Later he issued a statement saying he would recommend that the telegraph and telephone service be returned to private owners, contingent upon financial protection to be obtained from Congress.

It was explained by Mr. Burleson that no legislation was necessary in the case of the cable company properties.

The announcement follows:

"The Postmaster-General has recommended to the President that the government return the cable lines to their respective owners. This action is made possible by the fact that the congestion resulting from war conditions has largely passed. The enemy commercial blacklist has been abolished and the tremendous volumne of government cable messages from and to the War Trade Board have ceased. The bar to commercial code messages has been removed, thus materially lessening the cable loads. The use of the cables in connection with the Peace Conference has been greatly diminished.

"The Postmaster-General hopes that the return of the cables may be effective not later than May 10."

In the matter of land service, however, the solution of the problem will be put squarely up to Congress. Coming so soon after the recommendation in his annual report that his telephone and telegraph lines become government owned at the conclusion of peace, the Postmaster-General's statement created unusual interest.

The statement follows:

LAND LINES PLANS.

"The Postmaster-General will recommend that the telegraph and telephone lines be restored to their respective owners as soon as legislation can be secured from Congress safeguarding the interests of the owners in every way that it is possible to safeguard them.

"The information of the Postmaster-General as to the condition of the wire companies convinces him that it is imperative that such legislative action must be had before the various telephone and telegraph lines are returned.

"This is not true as to the cable lines which are in condition to be returned at once."

Postoffice Department officials expressed the belief that few of the companies could weather the financial storm if the properties were turned back without remedial legislation. Some officials said that while the properties must be returned in the same physical condition in which they were taken over, to do this now, without added revenue to meet wage demands and increased cost of operation, would wreck the industry.

Officials responsible for management of the properties under government control declined to suggest exactly what sort of legislation would be necessary. Republicans in Congress have made no secret of their intention at the forthcoming extra session to press for immediate return of the service to private management.

BY PRESIDENT'S ACT.

By Presidential proclamation the wire service, with the exception of cable lines, was taken over by the government on July 31 and placed under the direction of the Postoffice Department. The proclamation as to cable control was signed by the President November 2, but no announcement was made until after the signing of the armistice November 11.

Taking over the cable system was followed by a controversy between the Postmaster-General and Clarence H. Mackay, president of the Commercial Cable Company, which resulted in the dismissal of Mr. Mackay by Mr. Burleson.

Further controversy involved the Postal Telegraph Company, when officials of that company objected to the Postmaster-General's plan to amalgamate the Postal Company with the Western Union. As a result Mr. Burleson dismissed from government service Edward Reynolds, vice-president and general manager of the Postal Company, and A. B. Richards, general superintendent of the Postal Company's Pacific Coast division.

Orders issued by the Postmaster-General providing for a nation-wide increase in telephone and telegraph rates resulted in additional controversies and legal action in a number of States, from some of which suits have been appealed to the United States Supreme Court.

STRIKE TROUBLES.

The Postoffice Department recently was called upon to settle a strike of telephone operators in New England and members of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America yesterday completed the canvass of a strike vote.

The land wire systems under government control were under direction of the wire control board with First Assistant Postmaster-General Koons in charge. The cable lines have been under the direct control of Newcomb Carlton, president of the Western Union Company.

Proceedings involving the right of the Postmaster-General to take over control of both the cable and land line systems are pending in the Supreme Court. It is believed the proposed prompt return of the cable systems will render a decision by the court unnecessary.

Arguments in cases arising from the Postmaster-General's order increasing rates are to be heard by the court next Monday. The cases resulted in appeals from South Dakota and Massachusetts court decrees, although similar actions have been brought in about twenty-one States.

MACKAY MANTS ACTION.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, April 28.—Clarence H. Mackay, president of the Commercial Cable-Postal Telegraph system, made the following comment tonight on Mr. Burleson's recommendation to the President that the cable lines be returned to their owners:

"The Supreme Court of the United States has not decided the appeal taken by the Commercial Cable Company against Postmaster-General Burleson, in which that company questioned the legality of taking over these cables five days after the armistice was signed. As a matter of fact, Mr. Burleson cannot turn anything back in the way of cables. He has never really had possession of the cables and has not operated them nor even controlled them. The British government forbade his controlling them so far as the British ends were concerned and that meant about four-fifth of the distance covered by the cables.

"Why doesn't Mr. Burleson turn back the Postal telegraph lines? That is what the public wants, and there is no earthly reason why he should hold on to these lines. He needs no additional legislation as far as we are concerned. We are willing to take what our lines earned during the period of the government control. If he wants to hold onto the Western Union lines and the telephone lines until he secures legislation to help them out let him do so, but that is no reason why he should hold on to our lines.

"We want our lines back to give good service to the public and preserve our organization and do a few other interesting things. Such a fiasco as has ruled from Mr. Burleson's control of the cables, telegraph and telephones is without parallel in the history of this country.

STRIKE VOTE PROTESTED.

CHICAGO, April 28.—E. F. Wach, deputy vice-president of the Association of Western Union Telegraph Company Employees, today, issued a statement protesting claims of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union that the voting was 20 to 1 in favor of a strike by telegraphers.

"The Commercial Telegraphers' Union consists mainly of broker operators, private and leased wire men and Postal Telegraph Company men," said Mr. Wach's statement. "The Association of Western Union Employees is an independent organization composed entirely of Western Union men. It stands for arbitration in all disputes. It objects to outside workers and the Commercial Telegraphers' Union using its members as a catspaw in an issue in which they are not concerned. The Western Union workers are solid to a man and say they will oppose the so-called strike of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union."

GOVERNOR OF FEDERAL RESERVE BANK DEAD.

FAILURE OF SON KILLED AT ARGONNE TO RETURN HASTENS LYNCH'S END.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 28.—James Kennedy Lynch, governor of the United States Twelfth Federal Reserve Bank in this city, died early today at his home in Alameda, near here, from an attack of heart disease. Selection of a new governor for the Federal reserve bank here will be made by the board of directors, according to William A. Day, assistant deputy governor. The next meeting of the board is scheduled for May 6.

The death in action in the Argonne battle of his son, Lieut. Lawrence S. Lynch, was a shock that sapped the vitality of the banker, and the emotions aroused by the home-coming of the troops of the Ninety-first Division, of which the son had been a member, and with whom he would have returned, was believed contributory to the death.

Son of James Lynch, California pioneer of 1846, Mr. Lynch started his banking career with the First National Bank here in 1877 as a teller. He advanced to the position of vice-president of the institution and later became director of the Twelfth Federal Reserve Bank, representing the bankers of this district.

In August, 1917, Mr. Lynch became governor of the Federal reserve bank and the success in reaching quotas in the fourth Liberty Bond campaigns in the western district was due largely to his energy and activity.

He was former president of the California Bankers' Association and of the American Bankers' Association, and well known in club circles.

Mr. Lynch was 68 years old, and is survived by Mrs. Gertrude Soule Lynch and their son and daughter.

In speaking of the death of James K. Lynch, governor of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District, G. A. Davidson, State director for California (south,) War Savings Organization, said yesterday: "The War Savings Organization, in the death of its Pacific Coast chief, has suffered an inestimable loss, which cannot be summed up in mere words. Gov. Lynch was not only a patriotic and public-spirited citizen, but his heart and soul were in his work, and no sacrifice was too great for him to offer. Personally, the message of his death has come as a severe shock."

GOLD CASKET HOLDS WILSON CERTIFICATE.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, April 21.—A beautiful gold casket, which is to contain the certificate of the freedom of the city of London, to be presented to President Wilson, is now in view at the Guild Hall. It is of eighteen-carat gold throughout, and bears the portraits of King George and Mr. Wilson, and figures representing Britannia and liberty. The arms of the Allied countries and of the city of London appear in enamel below the portraits.

The casket stands on a water gilt plinth, which is supported by feet, fashioned according to the arms of the city.

LODGE SEES AN EXTRA SESSION BEFORE JULY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 28.—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, who passed through here today on his way to Washington, said he was convinced President Wilson would be compelled to call an extra session of Congress before July, due to the failure of Congress to pass necessary financial bills at its last session.

Senator Lodge refused to comment on the revised text of the League of Nations covenant until he had time to study it in detail.

...ting enough for the coming oc-casion, the hearings of the commission are being held in the King's robing-room of the House of Lords, which King George placed at the disposal of the commission when it was created, by an act of Parliament, some weeks ago. This is the second series of meetings of the commission, which was formed as a result of the miners' threat to call a nation-wide strike unless their demands for shorter hours, better pay and housing conditions, and nationalization of the mines were granted.

The first and preliminary report of the commission granted practically the full demands except the nationalization, which question was postponed for a decision after the hearing, to begin when the Easter holidays were over. The first two days of the commission's hearing last week were devoted to the testimony of experts for both sides on abstract principles of the nationalization.

JUDGE SAYS CHALONER IS COMPETENT TO SUE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 28.—John Armstrong Chaloner, of Merrie Mills, Va., is competent to sue in the Federal courts of New York, under a ruling made by Federal Judge Dietrich today, although an insanity judgment returned against him twenty-two years ago still is of record in New York.

The decision resulted from a plea entered by a New York newspaper in an effort to prevent the Virginia millionaire from prosecuting a suit for $100,000 for alleged libel.

G.O.P. CONFERS ON LEAGUE PLAN

who have arrived or will be here within the next day or two are Lodge of Massachusetts, Knox of Pennsylvania, Borah of Idaho, Johnson of California, Penrose of Pennsylvania, Sherman and McCormick of Illinois, Curtis of Kansas, Wadsworth of New York, Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, Moses of New Hampshire, New of Indiana, Hale of Maine, Norris of Nebraska, Jones of Washington, Brandegee of Connecticut and McNary of Oregon.

"Round robin" signers who have arrived expressed themselves pleased with the reception they had been given by their constituents, and almost without exception they regarded the amendments written into the league covenant as wholly inadequate.

Senator Borah of Idaho voiced dissatisfaction with the Monroe Doctrine reservation. He insisted that it was vague and of doubtful meaning. The Senate, he declared, would undoubtedly amend the amendment.

"Its meaning must be clear and unmistakable, so that in the future there may be no quibbling over interpretation," said the Idaho Senator. Mr. Borah will issue a statement within a few days, explaining how the Monroe Doctrine reservation would be set aside in certain instances by the blanket jurisdiction given to the league over all "threats of war."

COAST MEN DISPLEASED.

West Coast Senators, where the Japanese immigration question is a vital issue, were strongly displeased with the failure of the revised covenant to specifically reserve the sovereignty of the United States over immigration. They had been led to believe there had been such a specific reservation made. As they interpreted the amended league, the power to decide whether an issue was of a domestic nature was taken away from nations and placed in the hands of the league council.

"I have wanted to vote for the league," said Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, "I believe three of the four fundamental objections I raised against it have been met. But I am not sure as to immigration; there must be no uncertainty about the latter."

Senator Sherman gave as his chief reason for continuing to oppose the league, the fact that like the original draft, the revised covenant "established a superstate to which it is proposed to make the United States a subject nation."

"I want a specific declaration that the nations which enter this league shall be free and independent and that none of them surrenders its sovereignty in the slightest degree," said Sherman. "I want a League of Nations but I do not want it so badly as to be willing to destroy my own government."

"Article X," Senator Sherman continued, "is virtually the same in the new as in the old constitution. It would preserve the nations of the world in a permanent mould and pledge the United States to fight against any effort to change this mould. As it stands now, it commits us to perpetual war."

Senator Sherman added that he was convinced the majority of the people of Illinois supported his contention.

GLAD HE SIGNED.

Senator Moses of New Hampshire has just returned from an extended speaking tour throughout New England. "I am proud and glad to have been one of the signers of the round robin," he said. "I am absolutely confident that my position meets with the approval of the people in the States I have toured. There is no weakening among the signers of the round robin so far as I am able to discover. The revised covenant is a very slight improvement over the old one. The United States is still committed to engage in the next war no matter how remote its causes may be to the interests of America." The covenant will not be ratified by the Senate without substantial amendment."

Senator Johnson of California said:

"I am studying the League of Nations as an American—a selfish provincial, little American, if you please, but with my whole thought for my own country. I am only an American for America first."

"The revised document seems as involved as the original," said Senator Frelinghuysen of New Jersey. "I am not ready yet to express my opinion in detail."

"I have not yet had time to study it carefully," said Senator New of Indiana," but unless it meets the objections I have raised, I certainly will not vote for it."

Senator Walsh of Montana, a supporter of the league, thought it would be indorsed by the United States, but regretted the insertion of the withdrawal clause, which he said "weakened the covenant." Senator Pittman of Nevada declared amendments met every conceivable objection of "sincere objectors."

TO ARRAIGN BANKERS.

Alleged Wreckers at Santa Rosa Charged With Embezzlement.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, April 28.—Fernando Somoza, son-in-law of the late former President Sierra of Honduras; Frank A. Brush, cashier of the Santa Rosa National Bank; William C. Grant and Harold E. Loughery, assistant cashiers, will be arraigned tomorrow in the United States District Court, here, on charges of embezzling sums aggregating $728,208 from the Santa Rosa National Bank. The institution was placed in charge of a national bank examiner September 30, last, and since then went into the hands of a receiver.

The indictments against the four men were returned April 22, by the United States grand jury here. The indictment against Brush contained thirty counts, while thirty-five counts were set forth in that against Grant and twenty-one in the indictment against Loughery. The fourth indictment in which Somoza and Grant were named contained thirty-seven counts, one of which charged the misappropriation of $33,787.61. Several counts in this indictment charged that funds of the bank had been improperly converted to the use of Somoza and Grant and to a co-partnership, known as the America Products Company, in which they were alleged to be interested jointly.

Grant also was charged with misapplying funds of the bank by paying checks drawn by Somoza, when the latter had "no credit" at the bank. It also was alleged Grant caused an entry to be made in the general ledger showing the bank's liability on deposits June 17, 1918, to be $207,594.25, when they were $473,925.74, according to the indictment.

MAYOR HANSON GETS BOMB THROUGH MAIL.

BREAKS IN TRANSIT AND ACID IS SPILLED HARMLESSLY ON TO TABLE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SEATTLE, April 28.—Police headquarters announced that the office of Mayor Hanson in the Seattle city-county building today received a broken bomb in the mail. Mayor Hanson is at present in Colorado on a Victory Loan speaking tour.

Acid from the broken bomb spilled on to the table where it was found in the mail today.

Mayor Hanson has recently delivered a number of addresses denouncing Bolshevism. He gained nation-wide fame when he attacked radical labor leaders and branded Seattle's recent general strike as a revolution.

The bomb, police said, was postmarked New York and was marked "Novelty." A return address given on the package was "Novelty Department Gimbal Bros., New York City."

Police said the bomb was a cylindrical bottle-like arrangement, aimed to explode when the bottle cap was unscrewed. Unscrewing of the cap, it was said, would cause sulphuric acid, which was in the top of the bottle, to drop on to and explode a substance which police said was dynamite in the bottom.

When a bomb arrived at the Mayor's office a clerk noticed the break and held it up side down while he unscrewed the cap, thus allowing the acid to spill on the floor instead of on to the dynamite. Had he held the bottle right end up, police said, it probably would have exploded.

Albert Johnson, a chemist in the city health department, said the action of the liquid that spilled from the cylinder was that of sulphuric acid. Police held that the substance at the bottom was dynamite.

Some officials of the city-county building stated they thought the bomb might be a hoax. Police, however, held to the claim that it was intended to explode when opened. The bomb was turned over to the police authorities.

"It is an infernal machine as sure as any that ever was fashioned," C. M. Perkins, Seattle postal superintendent of mails, said today after examining the bomb. "The person who made it miscalculated somewhere, that's all."

Postal Inspector J. S. Swenson also said he believed the bomb was not a hoax.

PUEBLO (Colo.) April 28.—When shown the Associated Press report of a bomb received at his office, Mayor Hanson of Seattle said: "If they have the courage why don't they attack me like men instead of playing the part of cowardly assassins? One thing I am sure of and that is that labor throughout this land of ours has no connection with this attempted outrage."

GET $5000 BOOTY AT CARRILLO HOME

West Adams Street Burglars Steal Silver, Liberty Bonds and Money

That the burglars were skilled in their work was manifested by the fact, the police say, that they apparently spent more than an hour in the elaborately appointed house, delving into remote corners.

DOUBT CONFESSION TO OAKLAND CRIME.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 28.—Federal authorities have assumed charge of the case of a man giving the name of Charles L. Stefan, who, according to the police, made an incoherent confession of the murder by a bomb of Mrs. George D. Greenwood, Oakland society matron, following his arrest yesterday at Dublin, near here. The Federal interest concerns a threatening letter sent Mrs. Greenwood's husband before her death.

While placing little credence in the confession, Captain of Detectives Matheson said he would send an officer to Daly city today to investigate, and that the Oakland police would investigate fully.

MEN ON RHINE WISH FOR HOME

Weekly Paper, Edited by Privates, Tells Reasons.

Conditions in Billets Superior to the Field.

Thousands, However, Would Re-enlist for Year.

BY PARKE BROWN.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

COBLENZ, April 28.—An accurate analysis of the attitude of the enlisted men of the Army of Occupation toward continued service on the Rhine is provided today in a special article in the Watch on the Rhine, the weekly paper of the Third Army.

The editorial staff of this publication consists of one sergeant, one corporal and seven privates. The paper is written, edited and printed by the men in the ranks. Therefore it is considered a true reflection of their views and not those of their officers on the question of going home.

These men say that while thousands would re-enlist for another year in Germany, the answers of nine men out of every ten men asked if they wanted to go home is affirmative, emphatically. There is an analysis of the situation as follows:

LIFE IN THE FIELD.

"The living conditions now are far superior to what they were in the field and on the long hikes. They are so superior that there is no room for comparison. The hardships, misery and perils endured by the Americans in the field were without parallel in the history of the American Expeditionary Forces. The American troops advanced so rapidly that it was impossible for any supplies except ammunition to keep up. This is generally understood.

"In the rest camps of France and on the hikes it was more like the life the Americans now are living. On the long hike the doughboy who got more than two meals a day was the exception. Many a day they went from early breakfast until long after sunset on three or four hardtack, two or three bits of bacon and half a cup of coffee. The coffee at times was so diluted that the men refused it. Some days they got a small ration of bread with beans, corn or salmon. Fresh beef was a rarity and second servings infrequent.

LIFE ALONG THE RHINE.

"Compare that with the rations now served in the Rhine country. Three full meals. Fresh beef plentiful. Salmon, which the average soldier loathes, almost unknown. Corn willy makes its appearance about once a week. Fresh bread is plentiful. Rice—the men are offered more than they care for. Bread pudding with raisins, stewed prunes and peaches and stewed figs and dates are served as desserts.

"The usual breakfast is bacon and mush or flapjacks, with molasses or butter. Coffee is plentiful, but milk and sugar are not. Canned soups are served on occasion. Sweet cake chocolate is issued about every eight days. Cigarettes, tobacco, matches and hand soap are also plentiful. And it must in all candor be said that at rare intervals the men enjoy real doughnuts and jam.

"As to the bills—in the rest camps the best the men had as a rule were cowsheds and barn lofts.

Straw was usually a luxury. At present the Rhine boys are comfortably, if not agreeably, billeted in private homes. There is some overcrowding, but in most cases the men sleep singly in snug rooms.

WORK WAS HARD.

"Now for work, which to soldiers means drills, with occasional fatigue duty. Immediately after the Americans came off a long hike they were given a schedule which made the old times back in the States like a dream. Between four and five hours of gruelling drill in the morning is followed by an hour and a half rest at noon and two hours of drill in the afternoon.

"The drill included maneuvers which were as hard for the soldiers as an actual campaign, but minus the dangers.

"It was midwinter; it was cold, often too cold, in the billets, and the drill fields were in quagmires. Then men had to dig target ranges—difficult work in cold weather—and shoot on them.

"By March 1 the drill hours had been reduced. In the afternoon the men had an hour of athletics instead of military exercises. But the inspections were strict.

MANY AMUSEMENTS NOW.

"Now the drill hours have been further reduced. This is appreciated by the men. But the large guards are kept in German towns, and this means that guard duty comes around oftener.

"The men billeted in the larger towns have many opportunities for amusements. The welfare associations have provided many shows and boxing and wrestling matches. There are orchestra concerts. Excursions on the Rhine and Moselle are given. To the men billeted in the small towns all of these amusements are not available. They have movies once or twice a week, and occasionally boxing or wrestling. Now that the season is more open baseball claims much of the men's spare time.

"But one-day passes are given to the men in the small towns on which they may visit the leave areas and large towns. You may get two such daylight passes a month.

WHY THEY WANT HOME.

"Coming back to the question, which is that the majority of the men serving wish to go home, the reasons are:

"Homesickness.

"Letters from the home folks telling of sickness and distress.

"The monotony of army life in peace times.

"The conviction that, having fought the war to a finish, they are entitled to return home, being replaced by men who either were in France and never saw the front, or never reached France at all."

FOREIGN OFFICE OF MEXICO QUESTIONED.

TRUTH OF RECENT ANNOUNCEMENT ON MONROE DOCTRINE SERIOUSLY DOUBTED.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The Mexican government, diplomats here today declared, faces the necessity of establishing the good faith and honesty of its foreign office in its anti-Monroe Doctrine pronunciamento or stand convicted of uttering a deliberate and malicious falsehood, it was learned in a high diplomatic quarter today.

On April 22 the Mexican foreign office issued a statement saying: "At the conference now sitting at Paris the recognition of the Monroe Doctrine was considered. Governments friendly to Mexico requested its opinion on the subject and our department of foreign affairs has replied that the Mexican government has not recognized, nor will it recognize the Monroe Doctrine nor any other which may attack the sovereignty and independence of Mexico."

The declaration that "governments friendly to Mexico requested its opinion on the subject" is questioned. The attempt has been made by the Mexican government, it was said, to create the impression that other Latin-American governments contemplated taking action similar to Mexico's. To discover which possibly might be those nations, a process of elimination has been resorted to.

In the first instance it could not, it was said, have been those which will be original members of the League of Nations, named in such league covenant, there being nine Latin-American countries as follows: Solvia, Brazil, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Nicaragua, Panama, Peru and Paraguay.

In the next category are the Latin-American countries invited to become members of the league. They are Argentina, Chile, Colombia, Paraguay, Salvador and Venezuela.

A third category, comprising the Latin-American countries excluded from the league, embraces Mexico, Costa Rica and Santo Domingo.

The process of elimination has narrowed down the possibilities, in the opinion of inquiring diplomats, to the two nations of Argentina and Chile. It is thought possible but improbable, that the Argentine and Chilean governments may have undertaken to erect obstacles in the way of the United States in the negotiations at Paris, but it is considered most unlikely that they took any measure whatever in the direction indicated by the Mexican government. It is thought that the latter, in an effort to "save its face," owing to the necessity of recalling the unrecognized Mexican diplomatic representative in Paris, invented the declaration that its opinion regarding the Monre Doctrine had been asked.

HILL SAYS LEAGUE IS WORK OF POLITICIANS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The constitution of the League of Nations is the work of politicians, not jurists, and it creates an organ of power instead of an institution of justice, Dr. David Jayne Hill, former Ambassador to Germany, declared here today.

Dr. Hill asserted the league covenant created either a super-government with imperial power or a mischief-making advisory body with no real means to enforce its decree.

Senator Sherman declared that the league covenant as revised retains the right of the league's supersovereignty over member nations. Article fifteen and some related articles, he said, remove from Congress the power to control the finances and domestic affairs of the United States. The league, he added, cannot amend the United States Constitution in any respect.

FRENCH VILLAGES TO GET DRINKING WATER.

MORE THAN 400 WELLS, RENDERED UNUSABLE, HAVE BEEN RESTORED.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, April 27.—(French Wireless Service.) Restoration work in Northern France has included so far the cleaning out of more than 400 wells which had been rendered unusable, it was announced by M. Lebrun, Minister of the liberated regions, in an address delivered at the inter-Allied social hygiene congress yesterday.

"We hope before summer is over all the liberated villages of France will be provided with drinking water," the Minister said. "The municipalities of a great many towns and boroughs are engaged in reconstruction work, adhering strictly to the rules of hygiene. We are trying to contract for public buildings, such as schools and markets, in conformity with regional types of construction, while we are placing at the inhabitants' disposition the plans of model houses which may prove useful in reconstruction of their ruined homes. Distribution of 10,000 of these plans has been begun."

M. Lebrun said every effort was being made to give the population of the devastated regions all they required in the way of help. With private assistance, canteens have been organized to feed the needy, and centers created for the assistance of the sick.

The Paris fair, which German long-range guns and air raids made impossible last year, was opened formally yesterday by President Poincare.

TO RETAIN THIRTEEN OF ORDNANCE PLANTS.

COUNTRY NOT TO BE WITHOUT ARTILLERY AND MUNITIONS IN THE FUTURE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Plans of the War Department to prevent the country again being found lacking in facilities for the manufacture of artillery and munitions were made public today with the announcement that it is proposed to retain thirteen, and possibly fifteen, of the forty-six ordnance-manufacturing plants created or enlarged during the war.

The plants which the department definitely has decided upon for permanent maintenance after the chief of ordance made a special study of the probable requirements of the country in an emergency include those at Springfield, Mass.; Edgewood, Md.; Rock Island, Ill.; Watervliet, N. Y.; Watertown, Mass.; Old Hickory, Tenn.; Amatol, N. J.; Tullytown, N. J.; Frankford, Pa.; Rochester, N. Y.; Erie, Pa., Chicago (shell machine plant,) and Madison, Wis.

Approval by Congress of plans for maintenance of plants at East Springfield, Mass., and Detroit will be sought.

"It is not expected," acting Secretary Crowell said, "to operate production plans, but merely to hold them as "stand-by" plants. To meet the needs of peace-time manufacture and to manufacture new types of artillery material, the arsenals will be equipped for production of all types and calibers of material.

"To obviate the delay of getting into production and to provide skilled workmen to be transferred in case of necessity to other plants, there will be built up at the arsenals small production units for each type and caliber of material. These units will include the least number of all types of machines which it is practicable to install, and will be used from time to time for manufacture of small quantities of artillery material."

Await Instructions.

Definite instructions are still awaited by the army recruiting station, San Fernando Building, Fourth and Main streets, regarding the distribution to service men of the so-called Victory buttons. It is presumed that the system of distribution will be similar to that outlined for the securing of bonus money by fighters. None of the buttons have yet been received here.

CHAUFFEURS' AGE RAISED.

Hereafter persons applying for permits to drive or operate any vehicle for hire must be at least 21 years old. The City Council yesterday adopted the ordinance raising the age limit from 18 to 21 years. This was recommended by the Police Commission, after investigation, and is recommended as a factor in safeguarding public welfare.

French Exhibit Art in Bavaria.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Sunday, April 27.—(French Wireless Service.) An exhibition of French art works of various sections was opened at Zweibrucken, in the Bavarian palatinate, yesterday. Gen. Gerard, in command of the French Eighth Army, which is occupying the Palatinate, opened the exhibition.

Finnish Publishers on Trial.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Or.) April 28.—A. J. Partan, manager; W. N. Aeivo, editor, and Jacob Kuivver, and Franz Neimei of the staff of Toveri, a Finnish newspaper published at Astoria, Or., were placed on trial today in the Federal Court here charged with violation of the Espionage Act by publications calculated to hamper the government in its war programme.

GOMPERS RESTING WELL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 28.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, injured yesterday when a street car collided with a taxicab in which he was riding, was resting well tonight, according to a bulletin issued by his physicians, and his condition was said to be "favorable." The physicians added that because of his advanced years his injuries "may prove serious."

DANIELS NOW IN SCOTLAND.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

ROSYTH (Scotland) April 28.—Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy, and Mrs. Daniels, arrived here today. They were met by the commander in chief of the naval station and had luncheon with him in the Admiralty house. Owing to the stormy weather, a programme which had been arranged was curtailed considerably, and a proposed inspection of dockyards and reserve ships was abandoned.

ST. MIHIEL HERO IS DIVORCE DEFENDANT.

One of the heroes of St. Mihiel, Edward R. Borton, the step-son of Dr. J. W. Trueworthy, made his appearance in Judge Taft's court yesterday in the preliminary step of the divorce suit of Mrs. Verbena Borton. He was gassed and wounded at the battle of St. Mihiel, and is still suffering from the effects of the gass. For that reason he is unable to work.

Mrs. Borton contended that her husband has an income of $6,000 a year from an Eastern estate. Judge Taft granted an order restraining the defendant from disposing of any of his property pending the termination of the divorce action.

The complaint of Mrs. Borton charges her husband with cruelty and intemperance. The cruelty charge covered alleged incidents occurring after the soldier's return from France.

The Bortons were married in 1912. They separated on April 8 last. Mrs. Borton says her husband is too fond of drink. He pointed out that an army life is not conducive to boozing.

The court ordered Mr. Borton to make one payment of $75 for his wife's support, setting the case for trial on May 28.

But By Taking Tanlac Gains 18 Pounds.

Mrs. Hart Now Weighs 108 Pounds.

Says Troubles Have Been Overcome.

"I wasn't looking so much for gain in weight as I was for relief from my suffering," said Mrs. J. B. Hart of 706 Aileen street, Oakland, "but I have gotten both and, of course, there's nothing too good for me to say for Tanlac.

"My improvement," she continued, "wasn't very rapid until I had taken two bottles of Tanlac, but since that time the way I have picked up is nothing less than wonderful. I have always weighed from ninety to ninety-five pounds—never over that before. When I began taking Tanlac I only weighed ninety pounds, but while down town for my nineth bottle yesterday, I got on the scales and was astonished to find I had gone up to one hundred and eight pounds, making an actual gain of eighteen pounds, and thirteen pounds more than I ever weighed before in my life. Now, I think that is certainly remarkable for one of my age as I am now sixty-five.

"Well, I can understand this increase in weight only in this way: Tanlac has relieved me of the troubles that have stood in my way and has put me in shape so I could build up. Before I took it I was suffering from the effects of nervous prostration, brought on by worry, anxiety and overwork during the serious illness of two of my grand children. I was confined to my bed for some time and when I did get up it was all I could do to get around, much less do my housework. I had no appetite and would have such awful nervous headaches that I could hardly see, and would just roll and toss all night long. An old asthmatic cough I had had for years seemed to get worse and worried me both night and day, so I could get very little rest at any time. In fact, I just felt weak, tired and nervous all the time and nothing did me any good.

"My husband decided, from seeing Tanlac so highly recommended that it was just about what I needed and it certainly was. It gave me a fine appetite, I was soon eating big, hearty meals and enjoying them and it wasn't long until my nerves got in shape so I could sleep good every night. I have been built up and strengthened so that I can get up every morning at five o'clock, get my husband's breakfast, do all my house cleaning, cook all our meals and I can't say at that that I really get tired. I never think of going to bed before nine or ten o'clock at night, but when I do retire, I never wake up once during the night. It has been years since I was as free from asthma as I am now. I seldom cough at all, and this is one benefit I have gotten from Tanlac that I didn't expect. Several of my friends are now taking Tanlac on account of what it has done for me and they're all getting splendid results from it. I have taken a good many different kinds of medicines in my life, especially during the past few years, trying to keep off the infirmities that usually come along with old age, but I have never found anything that approaches Tanlac when it comes to getting results and that is why I like to tell others about it."

Tanlac is sold in Los Angeles, Pasadena and San Diego by the Owl Drug Co.

HOW TO JUDGE A WOMAN BY HER HAIR.

There is real common sense in just noticing whether the hair is well kept to judge of a woman's neatness, of good taste. If you are one of the few who try to make the most of your hair, remember that it is not advisable to wash the hair with any cleanser made for all purposes, but always use some good shampoo. You can enjoy the very best by getting some canthrox from your druggist, dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. Dandruff, excess oil, and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.

ASK UNION SCALE FOR COUNTY WORKERS.

LABOR LEADERS BEFORE SUPERVISORS, WHO GRANT CONFERENCE.

Union-labor leaders before the Board of Supervisors yesterday argued for the union scale of wages for employees in the mechanical, road and flood control departments to be provided for in the salary budget. The employees are well organized, the leaders claimed, and should receive the same wage scale that is paid union-labor men hired by Los Angeles contractors.

The Supervisors agreed to furnish a copy of the budget, covering the wage scale to the leaders, using it as a basis for a conference, requested by the leaders.

O. A. Wright, secretary of the Building Trades Council, was spokesman for the delegation. Other trades represented were: Painters, carpenters, ironworkers, sheet metal workers and plumbers' unions, and the Metal Trades Council.

A committee representing 1000 emergency men and women employed by the county asked the Supervisors for increases in salaries. The committee was headed by George Pratt. The salaries range from $3.50 to $4 a day, and the employees ask for a flat rate of $4 for the first year and $5 a day thereafter. A hearing will be held at noon tomorrow on the question.

BADLY WOUNDED, BUT TO STAY WITH ARMY.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

CAMP KEARNY, April 27.—The convalescent center here has two patients, who, although they were badly wounded in France, have not had enough of army life and expect to continue in the regular service. One of the men is Sergt. G. Van Osten of San Francisco, who was in the Sixteenth Infantry of the First Division. He stopped a machine-gun bullet with his leg and was wounded in the neck with shrapnel at Soissons. He is making a good recovery under the combination of recreation and light duty at the convalescent center, and has his eyes turned towards duty in China.

The other soldier is Private C. W. Burns of Monterey, who was in the Twenty-third Infantry of the Second Division. He got two machine-gun bullets in the right leg and one in the left at Chateau Thierry.

In the case of Sergt. Van Osten, it has been unofficially reported in the camp that he would receive the Distinguished Service Cross for his bravery at Soissons, where he took command of his company after all its officers had been killed or wounded.

WANTS SEWER SYSTEM.

Phillips Way District Petitions Council; Others Ask Favors.

The Pyramid Investment Company and others have petitioned the City Council to start proceedings for the construction of a sewer system in the Phillips way district, and asked that salt-glazed vitrified clay pipe be used. The petition was referred by the Council yesterday to the City Engineer for report as to frontage represented on the petition.

Property owners in the Virgil-avenue sewer district petitioned for the immediate construction of that system, which has been delayed for many months, and this was referred to the City Engineer.

The City Attorney was instructed to prepare an ordinance of intention to vacate an alley between Tenth and Eleventh streets in the vicinity of Santa Fe avenue. An ordinance vacating a portion of Wilson street was adopted.

Funds were appropriated and the City Attorney was instructed to obtain easements for sewer rights of way in connection with the east side boulevard sewer district.

Ordinances were adopted establishing the grade on various streets in the Wilmington district and for the condemnation of certain lands required for public use in improvement district No. 6, in the harbor district.

IT'S FISHING SEASON.

Maybe That Is Why Wife Seized Fishing Pole.

What did Mrs. Bertha Lucinda Jordan want with the fishing pole of her husband, Walter Thomas Jordan? This was one of the conundrums presented to Judge Trift yesterday, when the Jordans were in his court.

"She's got my fishing pole out there," exclaimed Mr. Jordan. "When I went to get it, she threatened to shoot me," and as an afterthought Mr. Jordan said: "She is liable to do it."

Mr. Jordan was entitled to his personal property under an order of the court. Mrs. Jordan was restrained from molesting him. The fishing pole might be classed as personal property, hence the court told Mr. Jordan to go get his fishing pole, and added:

"She won't shoot you."

The couple have been married twenty-seven years.

CITY BUILDING LAWS MAY BE ALTERED.

The Public Safety Committee of the City Council, of which Councilman Olsen is chairman, met yesterday afternoon to consider a revision of the city's building laws in order to bring them into conformity with the State laws. Several prominent contracting firms were represented in the conference, and they urged that the revision will be a decided help towards a revival of the general building industry.

The committee discussed various changes proposed which would be more liberal in the requirements from the builders. It was decided to ask for special reports from the building superintendent and City Engineer, bearing on the subject. This is to be followed by a public hearing before the Public Safety Committee.

Officer to go to Denver for Man Held as Artesia Looter.

Lewis B. Harris, under arrest in Denver, was indicted yesterday by the county grand jury in connection with the looting of the First National Bank of Artesia on March 29. More than $20,000, mostly in Liberty Bonds and jewelry, was obtained by three bandits it was reported at the time of the affair. Harris, who has aliases of L. Davis and Benjamin Salkin, was indicted on two counts, burglary and grand larceny. More than $10,000 in Liberty Bonds is said to have been found on him or to have been exchanged by him in San Francisco for diamonds.

The indictment was returned before Judge Craig and bail was fixed at $5000. A bench warrant was issued and Deputy Sheriff W. J. Anderson will leave tomorrow for Denver with an extradition requisition to bring Harris here for trial.

ROB CHINESE PEDDLER.

Fake Detective Game is Played with Fair Success.

An old game with a new wrinkle was played last night to the discomfort and personal loss of June Jing, a Chinese peddler, of 457 Turner street. The innovation in the old "fake detective" method of robbery consisted in the fact that after the victim was robbed by one man, another man robbed the robber, and the two disappeared.

Jing was walking East on First street when near Central avenue he was stopped by a man who said he was a detective and wanted to search Jing for lottery tickets. He proceeded to go through the Chinaman's pockets, and extracted from them a watch, $15 in cash, a $50 Liberty Bond, two Chinese bonds and a number of other valuables, when the "forward pass" was staged.

While the fake detective was standing with the valuables in his hands, a man darted out from back of a fence on the spur track right of way near Second street and Central avenue, and running by the bogus officer, gathered up all the valuables and kept on running.

The "officer" gave chase, and both men disappeared in the darkness. Jing waited a while and then called for Detectives Herman, Cline and Bowe, to whom he told his story.

ALVANDROS FREED ON EXTORTION CHARGE.

The charge of extortion, for which Carlos de Alvandros, the "talcum powder" medium, was indicted, was dismissed yesterday in Judge Craig's court, on motion of Deputy District Attorney Fricke. Lack of evidence was given as the reason. Alvandros, however, has already been convicted of larceny by trick and device from John Schroeder.

An appeal, filed by his attorneys against the latter conviction, was dismissed yesterday, and Alvandros asked for probation, hearing on which was set for May 12. Another similar charge still is to be heard against Alvandros. The trial for this was set for May 12.

Yes; S. S. S. Is Purely Vegetable Nature's Safe Blood Treatment

Known for 50 Years as the Best Remedy for Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Skin Diseases.

Scientists have discovered that the forest and the field, are abundantly supplied with vegetation of various kinds, that furnish the ingredients for making a remedy, for practically every ill and ailment of mankind. Medicines made from roots, herbs, and barks which Nature has placed at the disposal of man, are better than strong mineral mixtures and concoctions. Mineral medicines work dangerously on the delicate parts of the system, especially the stomach and bowels, by eating out the lining membrane, producing chronic dyspepsia and often entirely ruining the health.

S. S. S. is made entirely of gentle-acting, healing, purifying roots herbs and barks, possessing properties that build up all parts of the system, in addition to removing all impurities and poisons from the blood. S. S. S. is a safe treatment for Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Blood Poison, and all disorders of the blood. It cleanses the entire system and it's permanent. Get S. S. S. at any drug store to-day. It is a standard remedy recognized everywhere as the greatest blood antidote ever discovered. TARDY JUROR HALTS YOUNG MURDER TRIAL.

"SOMETHING UNEXPECTED" IS EXCUSE BUT COURT IMPOSES FINE.

E. Conterno, a grocer of Ocean Park and a juror in the murder trial of M. W. Young, sent word yesterday to Judge McCormick that something unexpected had happened and he would not be able to attend court. Astonished, the court waited for an hour and then adjourned until 2 o'clock, meantime sending word to the tardy juror that he had better hustle along to court. Conterno was there for the afternoon session and told the court he had been taken sick. He was lectured and fined five days pay and mileage as a juror, amounting to $13.55.

According to the court clerk, his failure to appear cost the county about $150, kept thirty-five witnesses, jurors, attorneys and the court waiting. Conterno was told by the court that instead of finishing the case in three days, as expected, it will now take at least four days.

Testimony in the Young case was taken during the afternoon and the prosecution, represented by Deputy District Attorney Keyes, will continue today. Paul Schenck represents Young.

BOY NOW IN SCHOOL.

Suit to Compel Authorities to Admit Him is Dismissed.

A stipulation to dismiss the suit of Clara Hawes against the city authorities, the action being a petition for a writ of mandate compelling the school authorities to admit her son, Howard Hawes, as a pupil of the Fifty-second street school, was filed in Judge Shenk's court yesterday. The boy, it seems, has been admitted to the school, after having been sent home for failure to be vaccinated within seven years.

It is claimed that no occasion now exists for enforcing the vaccination test, as all danger of smallpox, the basis of the school authorities' action, has passed.

LOST LOVE'S SEQUEL.

Woman With Alleged Hypnotic Eye Files Suit.

As an aftermath of the lost love suit of Mrs. Rhoda M. Taber against Mrs. Genie Blackman Lyman, the woman with the alleged hypnotic eye, Mrs. Taber yesterday filed suit for separate maintenance against her husband, Wendell E. Taber, former Pasadena druggist. In the lost love suit Mrs. Taber was awarded $25,000 damages by a jury in Judge Houser's court last week.

She alleges that her husband deserted her in September 1917, and that he has lived at the El Serrano home of Mrs. Lyman ever since. Incidents brought out at the trial are set up in the complaint. One mentioned is that Mr. Taber told her that Mrs. Lyman was his affinity and could make him happy.

FORMER COLLECTOR CONVICTED OF FRAUD.

ATTORNEYS ASK NEW TRIAL AS DATE FOR SENTENCE IS SET BY COURT.

Accused of having defrauded numerous clients out of sums aggregating thousands of dollars, C. L. Schroeder, formerly head of a local collection agency, was convicted yesterday by a jury in Judge Craig's court of embezzlement.

The specific charge was that he had defrauded the Ward Iron Works out of $922.50, which was collected and was alleged not to have been accounted for.

Heatherly and Hails, the defendant's attorney, filed notice of a motion for a new trial. Date for sentence was set for May 1 and Schroeder was committed to the County Jail.

In completing testimony yesterday Deputy District Attorney McCarthy questioned Milton Carlson, a handwriting expert, who said that Schroeder's handwriting was the same as that on a bank deposit slip, showing that the money passed through his hands.

A similar charge against Schroeder is pending in the Justice Court.

Harper & Reynolds Business Goes Into New Hands.

Fifty-Year-Old Institution is Made Corporation.

Younger Men Buy Famous Local Hardware Firm.

More than $500,000 changed hands yesterday when the firm of Harper & Reynolds, hardware dealers, was bought by several of the younger men who have been identified with it as employees. They have incorporated a company to be known as the Harper & Reynolds Corporation, and will continue to conduct affairs in the same manner which in the past has won for the house a high standing among local tradesmen.

Fifty years ago Charles F. Harper had a tinshop with not more than $1000 invested. He took in C. C. Reynolds as a partner and hardware was included in their line. Several years later I. B. Newton became a member of the firm.

R. L. Leonard, who has been with the firm for ten years, will be president of the new company; W. B. Joyce, Jr., vice-president; Charles J. Negus, secretary, and Sidney T. Exley, treasurer. These men, with Harold S. Chamberlain, constitute the present firm. Mr. Negus represented the firm in New York for fifteen years before coming to Los Angeles, where he has been employed since 1909.

The older members of the company who have stepped aside to make way for their younger employees will retire entirely from active business.

ASK NEW HIGH SCHOOL.

Two Thousand Boyle Heights Residents Petition for It.

A petition bearing the signatures of 2100 qualified voters of the city, asking that a high school be built in the Boyle Heights district, was presented to the Board of Education last night by Roger S. Payne.

Supt. Shiels said he favors building a high school in the district, and believes the school is needed badly. He said a bond issue would have to be voted before the funds would be available.

Upon recommendation of the superintendent, Miss Nora Sterry, principal of the Macy-street school, was granted leave of absence for one year to take effect May 15. Miss Sterry is to enter rehabilitation war service for the Federal government. James Weinstein was appointed temporary principal to act until the end of the year.

HANGS SELF WITH BED-CLOTHES ROPE.

Arrested for embezzlement on Sunday night, M. Miranda was locked in a cell in the Sawtelle jail, but his body was found hanging from the top of the ceiling yesterday morning, according to information given the Sheriff's office by Constable Bond.

The man had fashioned a rope out of his bedclothes.

DAMAGES FOR WIFE'S DEATH

A jury in Judge Hewitt's court yesterday awarded Lee K. Curtright $1500 damages for the death of his wife, Jennie Curtright, who was fatally injured by being struck by the automobile driven by Mrs. Pearl Hibbard Walton. County Thinks Civic Center Should Adjoin Its Buildings.

The proposed establishment of a civic center for public buildings came before the Supervisors for consideration yesterday, and it was declared to be the judgment of the board that the public buildings of the city of Los Angeles and the county of Los Angeles should be located at or adjoining the site now occupied by the county buildings, "thus giving to the city and county a real civic center, which would be supported and maintained by the city and county."

GATEWAY CITY DOING THINGS.

Niland's Growth Reflects Imperial Prosperity.

Crops will be 100 Per Cent. Greater this Year.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

NILAND, (Cal.) April 27.—The gateway and beginning of Imperial Valley is taking on a sprightly air, doing things and, while it is not a boom nor even an incipent splash it has all the ear marks of the budding of steady growth and prosperity. The ranchers are using 100 per cent. more water for irrigation this spring than they used last, meaning that the crops should be just 100 per cent. greater. The town itself is having a thorough cleaning by the representatives of the larger property owners and abetted by the single lot residents who are patriotic to the core. Vacant buildings are rapidly disappearing and life is taking place of empty air in good business lines.

Niland is laid out in a way that makes for triangles. They are used as public places and were filled last week with debris. The accumulation of several years had found a place on them. There were old junk piles and broken down wagons and carriages of primeval ages. Today the place looks as clean as the pin block Los Angeles department stores. Only the clear white sandy soil is visible except that here and there a grass has been planted and in a few days new grass has been placed on the sod and is being watered daily. This has taken the place of the useless sloppy idea, but it isn't the only idea that goods before the fall."—is preceding a rise at Niland.

Travelers between trains are becoming interested and new people are making their homes through the country that gives such a magnificent future promise. All of the available homesteads in ten miles of Niland have been taken up and every night the "shackelow" lights sparkle as twilight gives way to darkness.

BLAZE UNKNOWN TRAIL.

During the past week twenty sturdy Nilanders took their cars and made a trip to Mecca, blazing a trail in unknown sands for a highway that is sure to come and one that is as surely needed right now. They followed a general line on the south side of the Southern Pacific railway and at times were within a stone's throw of the famous Salton Sea, also called Imperial Lake. The road had never been travelled before. It was practically as the crow flies except the dodging of the Salton bluff and sand hill. Four cars were used and it was necessary for the occupants to give each other frequent aid. They travelled through a country that is soon to be dotted with farms from irrigation waters from the "All American Canal from the Colorado river. True there was many sand in spots but the entire fifty miles was fairly good or could be made good with little expenditure. The Salton sea was heavy but that was due to the entire lack of travel. These courageous Nilanders and all the perseverance and energy of their forbears of "Forty Nine," who traveled the same road to get to the golden State's wonderful wealth, climate and soil.

The party left Niland at 9.30 Tuesday morning. The road to Wister, nine miles distant was in perfect condition and the first lap of the journey was made in about thirty minutes. Then came a fairly good stretch except that wasnes prevented much speed. It was necessary to slow down with each wash and they came every hundred yards. This was the character of road to Pope and on almost to Bertram. Passing Bertram the sand became heavy and it required three hours to make eight miles. Salton was reached and the road was not so bad. Here the cars ran as nearly along the sea-shore as possible and except for soft spots there was no delay.

The party reached Mecca at about six in the evening, tired, dusty, a little warm but in high spirits and with a huge appetite. None of the cars had any trouble. They were well supplied with oil, gas and water and didn't send out any S. O. S. calls on the way.

GUEST OF STEVEN.

At Mecca the party dined as the guests of O. A. Steven, local manager of the Imperial Valley Farm Land Association and Niland Townsite Co. at Niland. The trip was his idea originally and he capped it off with a good dinner. Running water was also in demand and its purity was never more noticable than after the day's hard ride.

The party returned that evening to Niland by the regular roundabout road via Brawley and comparison was afforded in this to show how practical, feasible and necessary is the highway the pioneers of this section of the State are seeking. The proposed line, or the one that the Niland citizens desire, will join the Blythe-Mecca highway twelve miles out of Mecca, leaving a gap of almost thirty miles to be provided for to reach Niland. The people of Mecca and Blythe are anxious for the road also. It will give the extreme northeastern Imperial county people a chance to get to their county seat without a three-day trip.

The party making this great trip consisted of O. A. Steven, G. E. Miller, S. D. Underwood, Andy Pruitt, Frank Porter, James Sharp, E. H. Church, E. R. Van Horn, E. Welch, F. T. Greer and wife, J. P. Nelson, M. C. Harris, J. Yount and V. D. Tolmann, representatize of the Southern California Automobile Club.

LICK THE UMPIRE? NO! THE CROWD.

Critics of Jap Referee at Wrestling Match Receive Rough Treatment.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, April 28.—Unlike the Americans who reserve the right to lick the umpire if they don't like his decisions, the Japanese umpire reserves the right to lick the crowd if they don't like his umpiring.

This was demonstrated at a Japanese picnic at Orange County Park. J. Toyoda, Japanese strong man, wrestler, and rough in his methods, was referee at a wrestling bout at the picnic. Various Japs didn't like his decisions and made disrespectful remarks about Toyoda.

Toyoda then turned in and licked the whole bunch, knocking down ten of the spectators, including one woman, according to the story told by the aggrieved Japs to the District Attorney. A complaint was issued charging Toyoda with battery.

GIRL LONE MOTORIST.

Miss Lottie Isabel of Kansas City, Mo., has just arrived in Pasadena in her little auto, making the entire journey alone and without any assistance along the way from mere man. At least she was alone except for her Airedale dog and her rifle. Once, in a desert town, a rough-looking man approached her car, apparently in a roughly flirtatious mood. Miss Isabel began cleaning a rifle, a bit ostentatiously. The rough-looking stranger passed right by without stopping. On the way out Miss Isabel encountered plenty of men having trouble with their cars, but nothing more serious than two tire blowouts delayed her all the way. She is visiting her friend, Miss Jean Williamson, 1063 East Orange Grove avenue, here.

SKIPPER BUYS BONDS.

Capt. Frank B. Zaddart Largest Individual Investor at Harbor.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, April 28.—The largest individual purchaser of Victory Bonds in the harbor district is Capt. Frank B. Zaddart, master of the steamer Santa Barbara which arrived here today from Portland. He has just purchased $20,000 worth of bonds.

Capt. Zaddart is one of the oldest and best known steam schooner skippers on the coast. He is also rated as the wealthiest skipper still in active service. Years ago while in command he began to invest his savings in stock in the lumber vessels owned by his employers, J. R. Hanify & Company. His investments proved very profitable and he continued to invest his profits which during the war activity and increased demand for tonnage were great.

Taking care of other people's suit cases is his business, but he is having trouble taking care of his own. Today he reported to the police that he has lost his suit case and has not been able to find it. Yesterday he stepped off a steamer and handed it to a man on the dock and told him to take care of it. That is the last he saw of it. It contained among other things a silk necktie that cost $7.50, five other ties worth $3.50 each, four silk shirts and a pair of pajamas.

FIRST LONG BEACH CHILD COMES BACK.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, April 28.—Mrs. Maud Miller, the first child born in Long Beach, has returned to this city to make her home, following a residence of several years in Detroit, Mich.

Mrs. Miller, formerly Miss Maud Fetterman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Her father conducted the only hotel in the town at that time.

A few cottages and tents grouped together near the ocean constituted thirty-five years ago what is now Long Beach, the fastest growing city in the United States, according to the last Federal census, and now a municipality of metropolitan proportions boasting a population of 60,000 permanent residents and still growing at a phenomenal rate.

UNEMPLOYED ARMY IS PROBLEM OF BRITAIN.

MORE THAN MILLION MEN AND WOMEN ARE JOBLESS AND NUMBER GROWS.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, April 28.—Authorities of the British Isles are facing the problem of how to demobilize the new army within their shores, an army of over 1,000,000—an army of unemployed. According to official figures of those being paid "out of work" donations there are exactly 1,077,687 men and women today who are jobless. And the total number of unemployed is somewhat greater than this, as there are some who under the law are not entitled to that pay but for this class there is no official estimate. In London and the southeastern districts alone there are 240,015 persons receiving the unemployment benefit.

It has been repeatedly alleged that the payment of the money has materially increased the amount of unemployment and that many persons are refusing jobs as long as they are able to collect their weekly pay for idleness. Undoubtedly there are many such cases, but in the main the chief causes of this large amount of unemployment are, first because British industry has not yet completed its turnover from a war to peace footing, and second the continuation of interruption to international trade due to blockade and import and export restrictions.

The latest graphic manifestation of the seriousness of the problem occurred at Liverpool yesterday afternoon when 5000 demobilized and discharged soldiers and sailors held a demonstration parade.

They first held a meeting in the city square and passed a resolution demanding the right to work and called on the civic authorities and private employers to provide them with employment. Then they paraded to the town hall where they sent a deputation in to see the Lord Mayor. The latter being absent they were received by his deputy to whom they explained that although many of them were receiving out of work donations they preferred jobs.

They also complained that women other than war widows were being retained by employers in positions which had been promised to men when they returned. The deputation asked that the Lord Mayor call a special meeting of employers, trade union officials and representatives of the discharged and demobilized soldiers' and sailors' federation to find work for men and also that the city begin at once various kinds of public work which is needed to provide employment. The men are to receive the Lord Mayor's answer Monday.

During the conference the men outside paraded six deep through the principal streets of the city, headed by a busy brass band. Among the banners carried were some inscribed "We want work, no charity," "We were fit to fight, so make it fit for us to live," "Employers, have you forgotten?" Remember your pledges in 1914."

Upon receiving the assurance that the Lord Mayor would consider their complaints and suggestions, the men dispersed.

GRAFT TRIAL IS NEARLY FINISHED.

State to Rest by Noon Today; Defense to Present Its Side in One Day and Argument will Follow; Case May Go to the Jury for Its Verdict on Friday.

Upsetting all the "dope" in the graft trial of Mayor Woodman, the State yesterday asked for recess at 4 o'clock in the afternoon until 10 o'clock this morning, promising to complete its case by noon today. The defense counsel stated that they will require about one full court day to present their side. Arguments and the instruction to the jury will follow a possible brief rebuttal on the State's part and the case may reach the jury as early as Friday of this week.

case seriously damaged by adverse rulings of the court, the prosecution ran out of ammunition early yesterday afternoon, and at 4 o'clock Deputy District Attorney Doran asked the court to take an adjournment until this morning.

"If Your Honor will grant this request the State will try to rest its case by noon," said Mr. Doran in advance. "We only ask an early adjournment because your ruling early in the day deprived us of many witnesses that we had intended to examine. We only have two or three more bits of testimony to introduce, and the witnesses are not present."

Mr. Fredericks protested against the adjournment at such an early hour in the day, declaring that to do so would waste valuable time for the jurors. He jokingly suggested that the prosecution might call Tom Finn, who was sitting in the audience. The suggestion was not acted upon, and court was adjourned.

DAY OF DISASTER.

It was a day of disaster for the prosecution. Never, since the opening of the case a week ago, had it suffered so many setbacks of a vital character. During the afternoon literally as they were sworn, and a witnesses were excused almost as a portion of each man's testimony was ordered stricken out by the court.

The hardest blow fell when, after "Diddle" Frank had willingly told how he had been employed by Mayor Woodman to investigate Dan Green and Hiram Wambold, the court ordered all of his testimony stricken out and instructed the jury to disregard it.

COURT'S RULING.

Yesterday forenoon at 9 o'clock the attorneys appeared before Judge Craig and discussed prospects. The court told Dist.-Atty. Woolwine that he did not have to show his hand or reveal his evidence, but that he would have to confine his activities to connecting the Mayor with the proposed slush fund, if possible, and that it should be accomplished with the utmost dispatch.

The particular question is that involving that Mayor Woodman is connected with the collection of the campaign fund referred to by Mr. Karr," said the court, "and we are only taking up valuable time trying to prove other matters. When we get back to the point there is the same proposition—was there a corrupt agreement between the Mayor and the co-conspirators? My intention is to have the District Attorney proceed with what real evidence he may have at this time, without necessarily disclosing the nature of it here and now."

This ruling was made after the defense had strongly objected to the introduction of irrelevant testimony. "We would like to have such a ruling," explained Attorney Byron C. Hanna, "before the District Attorney is allowed to erect his gigantic superstructure upon the broken reed—the testimony of accomplices."

THE WITNESSES.

Police Captain William Murray, upon direct examination, stated that Hackett didn't want the Metropolitan Squad job back in January, and that he (Murray) recommended that Chief Butler place Hackett back on the job because he (Murray) regarded Hackett as the best man on the force for that particular job.

Hugh Macbeth, a negro lawyer, was regarded by many as a witness for the State, but his testimony—at least a good share of it—appeared strongly favorable to the defense—so much so, in fact, that a great deal of cross-examination material which had been built up by the defense was never introduced. Mr. Macbeth stated that he told Mayor Woodman he knew Hackett was a cracking good officer, and only questioned his honesty. His statement to the Mayor, he said, was that he'd be satisfied if Hackett would "get" Brown within thirty days. The District Attorney wanted to introduce as an exhibit a letter Macbeth had written the Mayor relative to Hackett, but the court ruled it out.

An amusing note was struck when Dist.-Atty. Woolwine asked George Brown a question while Capt. Fredericks was cross-examining him. Brown apparently did not understand the question, because he turned to the District Attorney and said: "What's that, captain?"

"Don't call me captain!" snorted Woolwine. "I'm just an ordinary private!"

Another ripple went around when Capt. Fredericks, after reciting how Brown's place had been raided sixteen times and how hundreds of arrests had been made in those raids last year, asked Brown if those were not some of his troubles.

"Naw," groaned Brown, rolling his eyes, sleepily, "that warn't no trouble."

BROWN'S TESTIMONY.

The direct examination of George Brown by Dist.-Atty. Woolwine follows:

Q.: Did you talk with George Henderson relative to paying money to Horace Karr?

A.: Yes, one night, five or six days after we dropped the first $250 in Karr's auto. Henderson came to me and said he had paid Karr the other $250; that now he is satisfied he will go ahead and put this deal over strong. We next talked after Hackett went on the metropolitan squad. This was in January. Henderson said Karr had completed his job and wanted his money. He said he had paid Karr.

CROSS-EXAMINATION.

The cross-examination of Brown was conducted by Capt. Fredericks, who cited the fact that while Sergt. Hackett ran the squad in 1917 his (Brown's) place was raided at least sixteen times, and about 300 arrests were made.

Q.: This was some of your trouble, wasn't it, Mr. Brown?

A.: That wasn't much trouble.

Q.: When were you arrested last?

A.: I never was arrested but once.

Q.: Didn't you do a County Jail sentence?

A.: Yes.

Q.: Weren't you arrested again for violation of the liquor ordinance?

A.: That was a frame-up.

Q.: You are now out on bail from a perjury charge which Woolwine holds.

A.: Yes.

Q.: Did the District Attorney's office say anything to you about the perjury charge?

A.: No. It don't am ant to anything. Three justices passed the buck on it, and I was never made to give bail.

Q.: What is your present occupation?

A.: Feeding hogs.

Q.: What was your occupation in 1916?

A.: I was superintendent for the Prosperity League which supported Woolwine.

Q.: Have you received any money from the District Attorney's office?

A.: Not for myself. I took some to a witness who was sick. I didn't spill these beans. I put my proposition up to Karr and got results. I can only judge the transaction from that.

Q.: On January 15, when Hackett took the squad, you got what you paid Karr for, didn't you?

A.: Yes, sir.

Q.: Two days later you were arrested by Hackett's squad for gambling and sentenced to serve six months?

A.: Yes, but not by Hackett.

Q.: Yes, but by his squad?

A.: Yes.

Capt. A. W. Murray of Central Police Station was called by the prosecution, and interrogated by Deputy District-Attorney Doran. Capt. Murray verified certain dates which have to do with those upon which Hackett and Jarvis went on and off the Chinatown and metropolitan squads. He said he suggested to Chief Butler that Sergt. Hackett was the best man for the place and should be redetailed to the metropolitan squad. "He was the best man we ever had on that detail," he said.

Asked on redirect examination by Mr. Doran if Sergt. Hackett protested against being redetailed to the squad, Capt. Murray said: "He wasn't very keen for it. He said he had been on it a long while and wanted to be through with it."

SAW MAYOR, HE SAYS.

Hugh E. Macbeth, a negro attorney, was interrogated, on direct examination, by Dist.-Atty. Woolwine.

Macbeth said he went to Mayor Woodman's office before Sergt. Hackett went off the squad and told him that a man named Murray had been offered $3000 by a stranger to tell what he knew about Hackett's activities among the negroes in the Central-avenue district. Macbeth said Murray told him he had been taking Henderson to Hackett's house in a car every Monday with a small package. Macbeth said Mayor Woodman told him to watch Sergt. Hackett and get "the goods" on him, if possible; that he would be furnished expense money to conduct his investigation, if necessary.

The examination by the District Attorney follows:

Q.: What did the Mayor say after you made a report to him?

A.: He said the conditions were damnable, if true. He said Chief Butler was after Brown. I told Woodman the dirty negroes were turning things upside down to get rid of Detective Sergeant Glenn and keep Hackett on the job. I told Woodman Glenn had the lid on tight, but that the dirty negroes were squirming to beat the band, and he said it did not make a bit of difference; that Glenn was going to stick.

Q.: When was your next conversation with the Mayor?

A.: Just before Hackett went back on the squad. Chief Butler was there.

Q.: State the conversation.

A.: The Mayor said Butler was anxious to put Hackett back on the squad; that Hackett claimed he had been given a raw deal. The Mayor said he understood Jarvis was not equal to the occasion. He asked me what I thought about it. I said, I didn't care who had the squad, just so things were cleaned up. I said "Hackett can get anybody in a police way; it is merely a question of honesty. The test would be to see if he would put Henderson in jail within thirty days." The Mayor said: "Well, Chief, suppose we put him back and let Macbeth watch him." Chief Butler said: "You know Mayor, Henderson stands well with the judges and he has a lot of money. If we get a case against such a man, they take him before

INDICT HACKETT; CHARGE BRIBERY

Grand Jury Formally Accuses Sergeant of Police.

Says He was to Collect the "Mayor's Slush Fund."

Bond Given; Sharp Statement Issued by Attorney.

Police Sergeant William Hackett one of the best known officers on the department, and mentioned in the testimony in the trial of Mayor Woodman as a vital link in the chain of alleged police protection to the underworld, was indicted yesterday by the grand jury on a charge of bribery in connection with the case.

Neither Chief Butler nor Mayor Woodman indicated last night what action, if any, will be taken towards suspension of the officer pending his trial.

It is alleged in the indictment that Sergt. Hackett asked, received, and agreed to receive a bribe from George S. Brown and George Henderson, negro politicians, both under indictment, in the sum of $2500 a month, beginning with January, 1919, and continuing up to the time of the next municipal election in Los Angeles. This money, says the indictment, was to be used as a campaign fund for the re-election of Mayor Woodman.

The bribe was asked for and received, according to the indictment, in consideration that Sergt. Hackett as head of the Metropolitan and Chinatown squads, would refrain from arresting Brown or Henderson, or such persons as they might designate, for violations of the gambling laws and ordinances against prostitution and the sale of liquor, especially in Chinatown and the Central-avenue district. It is alleged that the money was to be paid to Hackett or such person as he might designate. The indictment is said to have been drawn and ready since last Thursday.

GIVES BOND.

Though the warrant for his arrest was not served upon him or his attorney, and before the District Attorney's office could get in touch with him, Hackett, accompanied by his attorneys, appeared before Judge Jackson and gave a $10,000 bond for appearance in court.

"We haven't seen the copy of the indictment, and know little of what it contains, but we are anxious to assist the District Attorney in this matter, and took the matter up ourselves," Attorney W. J. Ford said while on the way to Judge Jackson's club. After getting in communication with the Sheriff's office, and receiving the statement that that office would accept a bond, the papers were signed by the judge and Hackett released from self-imposed custody.

FORD'S STATEMENT.

Following the completion of the formalities, Mr. Ford issued the following statement:

"Before Mr. Karr took the stand for the District Attorney to expose his own infirmities, I stated that he had up to that time committed no crime. In Sergt. Hackett's case I can add that not only has Hackett committed no crime, but further that he has always conducted himself as an honest, upright, God-fearing, honorable citizen and officer.

"Brown admitted or pretended to admit felonies to avoid a jail sentence for a misdemeanor. Karr has made a vain attempt to corroborate Brown. But there is no one to corraborate Brown and connect the Mayor with 'Pahrdner' Brown and Karr, and no indictment of Hackett will cause him to confess acts that were never committed by him. He values his standing in the community gained by fourteen years of service as a conscientious police officer who has never once been on the carpet during that time. Woolwine himself, during the grand jury session which resulted in the indictment of the Mayor admitted in the presence of the jurors that he always had confidence in Hackett and has nothing to change that conviction now except the word of those whose enmity Hackett has gained in enforcing the law, such as Brown who has repeatedly tried to use his

LOVER'S VICTIM WRONG WOMAN.

Bullet-Riddled House Bares Ramsay Tragedy Tale.

Mistook the Housekeeper for Rich Santa Monican?

Letter Located; Said to Have Fled His Attentions.

Theresa Hoover, housekeeper for Mrs. Marie Briggs Cole, a wealthy resident of Ocean Park Heights, who was shot late last Thursday night by Lewis Penoyer Ramsay, reputed wealthy Louisiana lumberman, may die as the result of a mistake. Ramsay later killed himself.

It is believed that Ramsay, who entered the Cole home about midnight last Thursday, mistook the housekeeper for Mrs. Cole, with whom he was in love, and shot her. After staying in the house with the dying woman until Sunday afternoon, he despaired of seeing Mrs. Cole and shot and killed himself.

MRS. COLE LOCATED.

Mrs. Cole has been at Arrowhead Hot Springs since last Thursday and is expected to arrive in Los Angeles today, it was stated at the Sheriff's office last night. According to a statement made by the housekeeper yesterday at Loamshire Sanatorium, Mrs. Cole left her home Thursday, probably fearing to meet Ramsay, whose proposal of marriage she is said to have rejected.

The officers say that Mrs. Cole's attorney telephoned the Sheriff's office last night and said that Mrs. Cole had read of the mystery and that she was returning at once. To Deputy Sheriffs Fox and Nolan, Mrs. Hoover, now said to be in a dying condition, said that Mrs. Cole left the house on Thursday evening. Previous to that she had received numerous letters from Cole, urging her to see him or permit him to call upon her.

OPENS FIRE AT DOOR.

Shortly before midnight, said the housekeeper, who was barely able to talk, Ramsay came to the door. She responded to the bell and he opened fire with a revolver. The room was half lighted, and it is believed that Ramsay thought the housekeeper to be Mrs. Cole. Bric-a-brac, furniture and other articles were broken from about twenty bullets fired by Ramsay, and one bullet went through the bathroom door.

The housekeeper stated yesterday that Ramsay made her lie beside him on a bed, where his body was afterwards found, and even refused to give her water or dress her wounds. She said that on Sunday she heard the telephone and that Ramsay answered it and on receiving a message, turned and shot himself. This, the officers say, would not have been possible, as the telephone wires had all been cut.

The housekeeper said that she waited for an hour and then crawled from the bedroom to the front door.

QUIET ROMANCE DEATH-BLIGHTED

John Llewellyn's Fiancee is Prostrated by Grief.

Engagement Unannounced; Known to but Few.

Funeral of Well-Loved Man to be Held Today.

Today, the day that is to see the burial services for John Llewellyn, prominent and well-loved Los Angeles citizen, brings the greatest sorrow of which a woman's heart is capable, to Miss Betty Bequette, of 1743 Garfield Place, Hollywood.

The sudden death of Mr. Llewellyn in New York city, ended a romance between Miss Bequette and Mr. Llewellyn which had its inception some three years ago. Although no formal announcement of the engagement had been made, Miss Bequette reluctantly admitted the fact yesterday that it had existed for some months. It was known only to intimates.

Miss Bequette was informed of her fiance's death by Atty. John Wilson, a lawyer connected with the Llewellyn corporation. An unusually touching incident with regard to Miss Bequette's first news of the death was that the telegram, brought by the attorney, came to her on the afternoon of her birthday. Miss Bequette has since been prostrated with grief and under a doctor's care. She will not be able to attend the funeral this morning.

The body of Mr. Llewellyn arrived last night, escorted by Waller Taylor, an official of the company. The funeral service will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the First Congregational church, Ninth and Hope streets. Dr. Carl S. Patton will officiate and the eulogy will be delivered by Oscar A. Mueller.

The Llewellyn Iron Works will be closed all day today, and all employes will have the day and night off, on full pay.

The shop employees of the iron works yesterday sent to Reese Llewellyn, president of the company, a letter of sympathy and a tribute to the late vice-president. It reads as follows:

"Your shop employees desire to express to you and to your family the deep sense of loss which they feel in the death of Mr. John Llewellyn, and beg to share with you the sorrow which all feel who enjoyed the privilege of associating with him in life.

"In life, and through every trial, and in the years of our association, he was to us a man and a companion; one of us and part of us, and in his death we feel the loss of a true friend; and his passing is to each of us a personal loss which cannot be compensated and will not be forgotten."

OIL MAN'S COMING.

S. M. Brewster, former Attorney-General of Kansas, who is extensively interested in oil lands, left Wichita, yesterday, for Los Angeles, according to word received last night by his representative here, F. Van Deusen of the Chamber of Commerce Building.

GIVEN DAMAGES FOR FALSE IMPRISONMENT.

VENICE EX-CHIEF OF POLICE ORDERED TO PAY THREE HUNDRED DOLLARS.

For the detention of Orville P. Coen and his young wife, Violet Coen, in the Venice jail without authority, Judge Wood yesterday awarded the Coens $300 each as damages in their $30,000 action against Harry J. Raymond, former Chief of Police of Venice, and his bondsmen the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland.

The holding of the Coens as witnesses grew out of the arrest of a man named Morgan, charged by Mrs. Coen with having attacked her in Santa Monica Canyon. Mr. Raymond declared in court that he believed the Coens were attempting to blackmail Mr. Morgan, an orange grower.

Judge Wood held that there was no legal authority for the detention of the Coens prior to August 31. The Coens were taken out of bed early on the morning of August 29, brought to the office of the Chief of Police and after examination, they were put in jail.

"It is a plain case of false imprisonment," the court stated.

BOYS BADLY HURT.

Autos Crash Head On and Youthful Occupants Are Thrown Out.

Thrown from the rear seat of their father's automobile when it collided with another machine at Sunset boulevard and Echo Park avenue, late yesterday afternoon, Joaquin Miller, 5 years old, and his brother Wendell, 3, were painfully injured and both automobiles were wrecked.

According to V. E. Miller, of 6807 De Longpre avenue, father of the injured boys, his car crashed head on into a second automobile, owned and driven by Rev. James L. O'Neill, of 827 East Moneta avenue, Glendale. The two automobiles, according to the police who investigated the accident, were caught in a jam of traffic and the accident took place when the drivers became confused.

At the Receiving Hospital, where the injured boys were taken, they were treated for deep lacerations of the head and face. Both will recover.

FIRST OF JAPANESE BIRTH CASES IS SET.

COURT PROCEEDS WITH MUCH CARE; NAMES LAWYERS TO INVESTIGATE.

The first of the petitions to establish the birth here of a child of Japanese parents came into Judge Jackson's court yesterday, and because of probable international complications, the court is proceeding with extreme care.

Judge Jackson appointed Attorneys H. E. Carter and J. M. Wright as friends of the court, to make an investigation of the facts relating to the alleged birth in California of Torasaku Muyasuki, the daughter of Japanese parents. The girl is 12 years old, and she petitioned the court to establish the date of her birth.

She claims that her parents, through ignorance of the law, failed to have her birth registered. This petition, it is understood, will be followed by others.

Attorneys Carter and Wright will investigate fully as to the facts and report to the court May 8, for which date the hearing of the petition was set.

MRS. BILICKE FIGHTS.

Battles in Court Over Autoist's Attempt to Get Damages.

Mrs. Gladys Bilicke, whose husband, A. C. Bilicke, owner of the Alexandria Hotel, lost his life when the Lusitania was torpedoed, was a defendant in Judge Monroe's court yesterday in the suit of H. M. Sheehan, a real estate broker, to recover $11,080 for injuries received when the Bilicke machine and Sheehan's automobile collided near the Conejo ranch, December 20, 1917.

Mr. Sheehan says that he attempted to pull ahead of another car, saw the Bilicke automobile coming and dodged back. The Bilicke car skidded when the brakes were applied, and crashed into his car.

Mrs. Bilicke claims that her chauffeur was compelled to apply the brakes when he saw the Sheehan car taking the middle of the road, and that Mr. Sheehan was negligent in attempting to pass another car on a curve in sight of an approaching machine.

THE ECLIPSE Gas Range

The Range With the Ventilated Oven

Economy With the Gas Oven

The prudent manager understands that oven economy means making that heat cook several dishes at once, when the oven is needed at all. It is not wisdom to invest in a range with a small oven for there is practically no difference in gas consumption, and the users are too restricted in the lesser space. The Cabinet Range with an eighteen-inch oven answers every requirement, is moderate in price and true economy in the end.

The secret of this saving in fuel is management, but unfortunately most meals are not planned at all, they just happen. It would be well for each housewife to make a list of articles requiring the same degree of heat and combine from this in the arrangement of oven dinners. With a few shallow enameled pans and a baking dish of heavy ware, there is scarcely a limit to the variety of combinations in oven cooking.

The People and Their Troubles

DOROTHY DIX TALKS

BY DOROTHY DIX.

The story of Martha and Mary in the Bible is eternally symbolic of the life of the average woman. Martha must keep the home fires burning in every household. She must see that the floor is swept, the dinner cooked, the children's clothes clean and whole.

And Mary must keep alight the lamp on the altar of the soul of the household. She must concern herself with the finer things of life. She must read and think and cherish ideals of the beautiful. She must fit herself to be companion to husband and children.

To run a properly conducted household on schedule lines requires the services of both Martha and Mary. Monogamy, however, restricts a man to one wife. He does not have domestic Martha in the kitchen and esthetic Mary in the parlor, but one poor wife who attempts to unite all the various different feminine virtues in her one small person.

And it is when a woman tries the Women who bring nervous prostration on themselves working for their families always account it unto themselves for righteousness. They display their doctor's bills as if they were citations for deeds of heroism, and they feel that their husbands and children can never be sufficiently grateful to them for all they have done for them.

Martha-Mary stunt that she commits suicide and lands in an early grave, or she becomes a nervous wreck and makes life hideous for herself and her family by her peevishness, her nagging and her whines and complaints.

Perhaps there is, here and there, a woman of exceptionally robust physique and supernatural executive ability who can capably fill the dual role of Martha and Mary, who can cook and sew and scrub and wash with one hand and vamp their husbands and chum with their children with the other, so to speak, but these female prodigies are as rare as hen's teeth.

The ordinary woman can make an excellent domestic servant, or she can make a satisfactory parlor entertainer, but when it comes to being both, at the same time, she bungles each job. Therefore it is up to her to decide which part she will understudy—that of Martha or Mary.

Curiously enough, most women decide in favor of Martha. Perhaps this is because the traditional way to hold a husband is to feed the brute. Perhaps the material being more obvious than the spiritual, seems of more importance in our eyes.

Therefore, you will see a woman make a burnt offering of herself over the kitchen stove cooking elaborate meals, although she knows by doing so she will reduce herself to a nervous wreck that is unfit for any human consumption.

Or she will sweep, scrub, and dust and polish to make her house immaculate although the inevitable result is to bring on a "spell" that sends her to her couch to spend the evening moaning over her poor back.

Or she will sew, in order that Mamie may have more ruffles on her frock than any other little girl in her set, until she grows so nervous that she snaps Mamie's head off every time Mamie speaks to her.

But if the husband and children were allowed to express themselves on the subject they would say that their bodily comfort had been bought at too great a price, and that they would rather have plainer food and clothes and a house less spick and span and a wife and mother who wasn't too tired and worn out and cross to enjoy things with them.

For if you will notice, you will observe that it is always Mary who is adored by her family, while Martha's family appreciates her good points but finds her trying to live with.

A woman who is not very robust does well to take accurate measure of her strength and to give only such a part of it to her domestic affairs as she can give without making herself nervous and irritable and sick. Let her save the biggest part of her energy to devote to the higher things, to keeping herself cheerful and even tempered and chummy with her husband and children.

This may cause her to neglect her housekeeping a bit. There may be occasionally dust on the parlor mantel, and simple food on the table, and the children's clothes may not have as much handwork on them as Martha's children's have, but if it enables her to be jolly and pally instead of being querulous and fault finding, nobody is going to care.

Therefore poor, tired, overworked Martha-Mary give up trying to be both Martha and Mary. Be one or the other and remember that Mary chose "the better part."

The Cockroach As An Issue.

PASADENA, April 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In their ambitious programmes some of our California reformers seem to have missed a few things. For instance we read that a legislator in Illinois has declared himself in favor of paying a bounty on cockroaches. Cockroaches are undesirable neighbors; they have practically no friends, and no political influence; so why not jump upon them and denounce their nefarious practices to the world?

The Illinois statesman proposes a law providing for the payment of a bounty of 1 cent each for all cockroaches caught running at large. This will make a little business for his constituency, and encourage home industry. Any housewife or schoolboy can start a cockroach ranch and raise them for the bounty at a liberal margin of profit.

The country is running out of things to view with alarm, and the cockroach furnishes the view. There might well be a cockroach department of State government, with a cockroach commissioner in charge. Much could be done with the cockroach issue in the hands of an enterprising reform statesman.

LOS ANGELES, April 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Dorothy Dix's example "Time the Adjuster," was wonderful in its outcome. Would that more persons had the same beautiful sunset. Many good women are using the same patient forbearance, sending out soulful longing for evidences that may ultimately bring victory, but, instead, the years of long suffering waiting and yielding, are duly fostering in the man greater domination, and unlimited selfishness.

Shakespeare says "To thine own self be true," etc. This, applied by every individual, in all relations in life, with the golden rule thoroughly absorbed would so revolutionize the world, that the millenium would be in our midst at once.

LOS ANGELES, April 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have noticed many advertisements of the Victory Loan. Many are good, but none expresses one idea that may be used to advantage.

It is this, that the people should be awakened to the fact that they ought to put their money into Uncle Sam's Bank for safekeeping, for investment and for patriotic means—all in one. The way to put money into Uncle Sam's Bank is to get some Victory Bonds.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Q.: Will the government loan money to individuals wishing to build homes? I. S.

A.: The Labor Department plans to ask the next Congress to establish a system of home loan banks to loan money for building homes, just as the farm loan banks now loan money on farms. If such a bill is put through the working plan will probably be very similar to that of the farm loan system. There are no government loans for homes at present.

Q.: What will participation in the Peace Conference cost the United States government? Out of what appropriation will it be paid? N. S.

A.: The Ways and Means Committee informs us that Congress, early in the war, appropriated $100,000,000 for the President to use as he saw fit. The expenses of the conference are being paid out of this fund. There are no figures yet available on the cost of the conference.

Q.: Why are London policemen called "Bobbies?" E. M. P.

A.: The policemen of England and of London particularly have been nicknamed "Bobbies" after a certain Sir Robert Peel, who was instrumental in having a regular police force established to take the place of the old constabulary. They are also called "Peelers," from the surname "Peel," but "Bobbies" is the more common and generally-used nickname.

Q.: Has the Camouflage Corps any special shoulder insignia, like those of the various divisions of the American Expeditionary Forces? F. H. J.

A.: The Camouflage Corps has a shoulder insignia, a triangular piece of black felt, with a long point turned downward on the sleeve, and a yellow chameleon sprawling over it. This is a most appropriate symbol for the Camouflage Corps, as the chameleon is a type of lizard that possesses that peculiar property of turning the color of objects upon which it rests, and thus becoming practically invisible at a distance.

WHAT THE SOLDIERS WANT

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 23.—A national organization of soldiers, sailors and marines, which has for its announced purpose to make Congress provide the returned fighting man with a job, may be a factor of considerable importance in the next national election.

About 4,000,000 men are eligible for membership in this association, which calls itself the Legion, and in one month it has made itself widely known and established branches in all parts of the country. It is probably worth while to inquire, therefore, what the fighting man, as represented by this organization, thinks he ought to have.

The organizers of the Legion specifically state that they are opposed to Bolshevism. They do not wish their organization confused with European workmen's and soldiers' councils, despite superficial similarities of organization. The soldiers and sailors intend to uphold American tradition. They also intend to assert their rights.

The chief of these, according to Marvin G. Sperry, national chairman of the organization and a former private in the famous Twelfth Regiment Railway Engineers, is the right to work. The soldier who went to war lost his job. The least the government can do is to provide him with the same one or a new one when he comes back.

Furthermore, during the war there was much talk and much writing in the newspapers about how soldiers would be provided with jobs and farms when they got home. The administration was reported as perfecting a plan by which great areas of arid, swamp and cut-over land would be reclaimed and made into equipped farms. The task of reclamation would provide work for thousands, and then the soldiers would be given a chance to buy the farms on long-time credit from the government.

Nothing has come of this plan, or of any of the other plans which were widely advertised, for providing the soldier with work and a home. Instead, many thousands of soldiers who want to work are looking in vain for the chance. This is plain injustice in the view of the soldier, sailor or marine, who has not yet found his place in civilian life. Congress, in his view, has laid down on the job, and he is organizing for the express purpose of getting a new Congress.

This is the gist of the Legion's platform:

The natural resources of the United States, and especially its untilled agricultural lands, should be made available for the use of returned soldiers and sailors.

Employment should be provided for every returned fighting man who is not already provided for.

The Legion further maintains that Congress should pay every returned fighting man a lump sum of $500. This, according to Sperry, will cost the country only about $2,000,000,000, which is only a small fraction of the $25,000,000,000 that the war has cost.

TO USE AIRMEN TO SPOT FIRES.

Army Schools to Co-operate with Forest Service.

Arcadia Balloon and March Field Chiefs Interested.

Preliminary steps for the use of Arcadia Balloon School and March Field airmen in "spotting" fires in the Southland forest reserves were taken yesterday at an all-day conference in the office of Supervisor Charlton of the Angeles National Forest. Those attending the conference were Col. Coert DuBois, district forester, of San Francisco; Maj. R. S. Bamberger, in command of the Army Balloon School at Arcadia, and Maj. J. C. Bartholf, who is in charge of March Field, at Riverside.

The plans, as tentatively arranged, to employ the balloons at Arcadia in the discovery of fires in the national reserve, are in the hands of Col. DuBois and Maj. Bamberger. Those relating to the protection of the Cleveland National Reserve are to be handled by Col. DuBois and Maj. Bartholf.

Today Col. DuBois will visit both Arcadia and March Field, with a view to securing first-hand information in regard to the handling of the balloons, and as to whether or not they can be economically and advantageously used for the purposes proposed by the government. If the innovation proves a success in the Southland, it is expected that it will be tried elsewhere.

While the detailed plans will not be ironed out before the latter part of the week, it is known in a general way that the balloons are to be used as observation points from which may be discovered incipient fires that might endanger the timber in the national reserves, and the destruction of the fire-breaks employed to break the force and limit the area of forest fires.

It is expected that the balloons will rise to the height of about 3500 or 4000 feet in the air, and be a valuable contribution to the gathering of quick information in regard to the location of fires, which are left, in most cases, by careless campers. The highest fire station in the Angeles National Reserve is that on Mt. Baldy, which has an elevation of about 7000 feet.

LOSES DAMAGE SUIT.

W. T. Elwin, defending the $15,000 damage suit of Joseph C. Rousseve, who was struck while riding a motorcycle, was awarded the judgment by Judge Wood yesterday. Mr. Elwin was driving an automobile, and contended that Mr. Rousseve was speeding at the time of the accident.

PUT JAZZ INTO MAIL HANDLING

Government to Revolutionize Los Angeles System.

Will Have its Own Autos to Collect and Deliver.

Calls for Bids for Lease of Fireproof Garage.

The close of the war and the action of the government in ordering the military establishment to turn over to the postoffices throughout the country all auto trucks and equipment no longer needed by the army, will work a revolution in the delivery of mail in Los Angeles.

The assistant superintendent of the Postoffice Department and Postoffice Inspector Clark E. Webster have worked out a new method of transporting mails in the city, and the plan will be put into operation soon.

Heretofore the use of automobiles in collecting and delivering mail has been limited to contracts with private parties, who furnished the driver and were responsible for his acts. Hereafter the Postoffice Department will carry its own mails to and from the depots, the substations and branch offices. It will also employ its own chauffeurs and mechanics.

On account of the change in the method of handling the mails, Uncle Sam needs a garage and bids are requested to be submitted by 3 p.m., on Monday, May 12, for renting to the government a garage of not less than 15,000 square feet of floor space. The lease will date from September 1, and will be for a period of five and ten years. The building must be fire-proof and partitioned off for the following purposes:

Office, 25x15 feet; machine and carpenter shop, 25x65 feet; paint shop, 25x25 feet; stockroom, 25x25 feet; swingroom, 12x15 feet; the balance of the floor space for the use of storing cars.

The successful bidder must keep the building, equipment, fixtures and apparatus in repair to the satisfaction of the Postoffice Department.

Specifications may be secured at room 319 Federal Building. The government has inaugurated its own system of handling the mails in twenty-one other cities of the United States.

MAKES THREE CITIZENS.

A belated class of applicants for naturalization was disposed of by Judge Oscar Trippet yesterday, and three were admitted to citizenship, as follows: Rev. Father Daniel O'Connell, Irish; Max Hartman, Croatian, and Miss Ethyl A. Lawrence, British. Three applicants failed to pass the required examination, and were sent back for further study of the American government and Constitution.

Wixson of 260 St. Andrews place. The ceremony will take place in the Wilshire Presbyterian Church and will be a military service. Miss Wixson's twin sister, Miss Marie Wixson, is to be maid of honor, and Miss Olive Moore of Long Beach will be one of the bridesmaids.

Lieut. Leonard Comegys is to be best man, and Sergt. Francis MacGinnis is to be an usher. It was he who saved Lieut. Fitts's life by carrying him off the battlefield through a barrage when his kneecap was shot off at midnight, September 30 last, by a high explosive shell. Before he went to war Lieut. Fitts was a member of the firm of Dominguez, Dehm & Fitts. At the time he was wounded he was the only officer in the liaison company, with which he fought, who was not killed, and was one of eighteen out of 240 who escaped death. He was in a hospital seven months, and will return to the Letterman Hospital after his marriage, and after he is through speaking for the Victory Loan. Besides being wounded he was badly gassed. Miss Wixson is prominent in local society and musical circles, and is superintendent of the Wilshire Presbyterian Sunday-school. During the war she was active in Red Cross work. Lieut. Announcement of the engagement of Miss Geraldine Clark of Los Angeles and Wilfred Teal of Torrance was made at a tea of unique appointments at which her sister, Mrs. Harry S. Larkin, of 5326 Carlton way assembled thirty-two guests on Saturday afternoon. The table was handsomely decorated, a cluster of large Paul Neyron roses forming a center for great bunches of Cecile Brunner roses. At each place a basket filled with baby roses contained a nut to be cracked, a golden candy heart and a waxen cupid. In the nut was the secret. In Miss Clark's nut, however, was a diamond and platinum engagement ring. She is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Clark.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

Ebell Club.

The Ebell Club started its campaign for the Victory Loan, yesterday by presenting John B. Coulston of Pasadena, who spoke on his work in France, with the Red Cross, and of the need for funds. The Ebell Club has a fine record in Red Cross and loan drives, being directly responsible for one-tenth of the entire Red Cross membership of this city, and having subscribed more than any club in the State to the last Liberty Loan.

The afternoon speaker was Dr. James Blaisdell, president of Pomona College, who spoke on "Backgrounds of Modern Japan." Dr. Blaisdell went far back into Japanese history, even into the theory of a divine descent of the Mikados. He stated, however, that the Japanese have a leaning toward democracy.

Dr. Blaisdell read the charter vow taken by the Mikado, and the five articles sound like they might have been written by President Wilson in the year 1919.

Next Thursday the school science session will be held, after which luncheon will be served to the club's guests. The speakers for the occasion are to be Mrs. Josiah Evans Cowles, Mrs. Birney Donnell, and Mrs. A. S. Lobingier.

Women's City Club.

Candidates for Mayor, City Attorney and for the Board of Education appeared and made a few remarks in which they presented their respective claims, at the Women's City Club's meeting yesterday afternoon in the Hamburger Auditorium. The candidates for Mayor, who made addresses were M. P. Snyder, S. L. Weaver and Irene Smith; for City Attorney, Henry N. James, John Metcalf and Charles Burnell, and for the Board of Education, Bessie Stoddard, D. K. Edwards, Grace N. Ashley, N. C. Edwards, Willis B. Collins, Melville Dozier, and Hester Griffith.

Wa-Wan Club.

Dominant Club.

The next meeting of the Dominant Club will be held at the Bryson apartments, Saturday, at 3 p.m. The programme will be provided by Minnie Hance Jackins, contralto; Gertrude Cohen, pianist, and Melba French-Barr, soprano, of Chicago.

CITY SELLS BONDS FOR BROADWAY WORK.

OVER SIX HUNDRED DOLLARS' WORTH OF SECURITIES TAKEN BY BANK.

City Treasurer Powell yesterday sold to the Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank bonds for the opening of Broadway from Tenth to Pico street to the amount of $644,515.46. This procedure opens the way for the long-desired public improvement.

The transaction is regarded by well-informed persons in such matters as a convincing sign of success for other large public improvements. The transaction was unique in the annals of the City Hall, both by reason of the total amount of the issue and the size of the individual bonds. Previous large bond issues, such as those for the Arroyo de la Brea sewer district, the Madison-Virgil district, etc., have been sold to outside interests, and it is considered a particularly gratifying fact that the large Broadway bond issue has been handled locally.

It is believed that this will give general impetus to various public improvement projects that have been held in abeyance for many months by reason of war conditions.

Livingston Family Splits; Alienation Suit is Filed Here.

In New Troubles of Livingston Family.

Declaring that his mother-in-law, Mrs. Matilda Livingston, mother of the notorious Livingston slacker brothers, and sisters-in-law, Elsie and Clara Livingston, are planning to join his brother-in-law, George Livingston, in San Salvador, and that they have tried to persuade his wife, Frances Livingston Schultz, to go with them, an alienation of affection suit was filed yesterday by J. W. Schultz, against the three first named.

The wealthy Livingston family acquired notoriety during the war, because of the attempt of Robert and Ben Livingston, sons of Mrs. Livingston, to evade the draft. Livingston was convicted by court-martial and is serving a ten years' sentence at Alcatraz, and Ben Livingston is under a five months' sentence for being absent without leave from the army.

Mr. Schultz, who asks $25,000 damages in his suit, states that the family disputes became so heated that he left the home of his mother-in-law, last Friday, and after providing a home for his wife, sought to have her join him, but that she refused to do so.

The Livingstons have been residing in Pasadena since the mother and sisters were brought back from Venzuela. The suit was filed through Attorney Howard F. Shepherd.

GREET ENGINEER HEROES.

Bridge Builders Who Turned Fighters Stop Over Here One Hour.

About 700 more California soldiers from overseas reached Los Angeles last night en route to San Francisco for demobilization. One special train brought the Three Hundred and Sixteenth Engineers and it was soon afterward followed by a special having aboard the One Hundred and Fifteenth Sanitary Train. Another train is due early this morning with the remainder of the Three Hundred and Sixteenth Engineers and the headquarters company of the Ninety-first Division.

The shouts and cheers of a thousand relatives and friends echoed the welcome of Southern California to the 316th Engineers as a train of nine coaches carrying the first division of their regiment steamed into the Southern Pacific station at 6:15 last night. The welcome given was justly earned by California's fighting engineers who, just before peace came, were transformed from a regiment of bridge builders and trench diggers into a regiment of infantry. For two days in the Argonne forest they held the front lines and helped beat the foe in one of the important battles of the war.

On the train bearing the first division were 320 men and ten officers, all showing the marks of service, but all in the best of spirits and glad to be back to their old home State. The train was under the command of Maj. Herman S. Bonte, who has been in command of the regiment since they sailed from France. Col. George Goethals, son of Maj.-Gen. Goethals, was a former commanding officer and was left behind to help in the reconstruction work in France.

Fully one-third of the men on the train were residents of Southern California, many of them coming from the Imperial Valley. They received their training at Camp Lewis, and sailed from New York July 6.

IN MANY BATTLES.

They went to France by the way of England, arriving at a French training sector on July 18. They were sent into the battle of St. Mihiel, September 11 to 13, then to the Meuse-Argonne fight which lasted from September 26 to October 4. From there they were transferred to Belgium, where they took part in the Epyres-Lys campaign and were on the battle front, 300 meters from the German trenches, when the armistice was signed.

The regiment suffered 258 casualties. Thirty-one of the men were decorated for bravery and special mention of their efficient work was made a part of the report of six commanding generals.

The section reaching here last night carried companies E and F, the headquarters company and the regimental band. Capt. J. N. Gladding of El Paso, Tex., and Capt. Ross Mahan, of Berkeley, were the company commanders. Maj. R. E. Baker, chief medical officer of the command, whose home is in Oakland, was with the first division.

NO TIME FOR BATHS.

It had been arranged to give the men a public reception here and to allow them the privilege of several of the large bath houses, but the time of their stop was too limited for a big demonstration. During the time the train waited here for ice and coal the station gates were thrown open and many relatives and friends gathered around the heroes as they stepped off the train.

The first man to reach the station platform was Corp. Chance B. Bassett, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bassett, 1134 East Twenty-fourth street, who jumped from the train before it stopped and ran headlong into his mother's arms. "My boy, my boy," she said, "thank God you're back again."

Members of the local canteen service of the Red Cross served coffee, sandwiches and cigarettes and helped entertain the men during their short stop. The train left for San Francisco at 7 o'clock, where the soldiers will be taken to the Presidio to be mustered out.

MORE HERE TODAY.

Mayor Woodman yesterday received a message from Tucson, Ariz., from the troop train bearing service men to Los Angeles, to the effect that 415 men and twelve officers of the same regiment, in command of Capt. Franklin W. Bush, Jr., of Napa, will arrive at the Southern Pacific station this morning about 8 o'clock.

It is planned that these men shall parade over the usual route at 10 o'clock this forenoon, and citizens are requested to bring flowers to shower upon them as they pass along the streets.

They will be in Los Angeles about six hours, when they will continue their journey to the Presidio at San Francisco for demobilization.

The battalion made its reputation when called upon in the Meuse-Argonne drive to break a gap between the Thirty-fifth and Ninety-first Divisions. They successfully beat off a desperate counter-attack and advanced their line, receiving high praise by the Allied commands. Nowhere in the war history have engineers been called upon for harder service.

ENGINEERS LAND.

Telegram Received by Mother of Soldier in Co. F.

Mrs. L. C. Longcroft of 207 West Twenty-fifth street has just received a telegram from her son, Austin E. Longcroft, who has been in France with Co. F of the One Hundred and Seventeenth Engineers, announcing that he has arrived safely at Camp Merritt, N. J. This is believed to be one of the first telegrams received in this city from this regiment since it left France. The young man is a Los Angeles youth and before joining the army was employed by The Times.

The One Hundred and Seventeenth Engineers were attached to the Rainbow Division and were engaged in practically every engagement in which the American troops fought. They were in the front line trenches 119 days, and this regiment was one of the first to arrive on German soil. Practically every man of Co. F is a resident of this city.

"RAINBOW" SOLDIERS TO AID LOAN DRIVE.

LOS ANGELES MEN OF FAMOUS DIVISION ORDERED TO COME HERE.

Recently returned from the war in Europe, where they held the distinction of having seen more continuous service under fire than any other California unit, the One Hundred and Seventeenth Engineers, two companies of which are Los Angeles men, will be used in connection with the Liberty Loan campaign now on. Word to this effect was received yesterday at the loan campaign headquarters here. This unit of engineers, known as the engineering mainstay of the Rainbow Division, is now at Camp Mills, L. I.

The Los Angeles members of the One Hundred and Seventeenth Engineers, Cos. E and F, have been directed by the War Department to come to this city, where preparations are under way to entertain them. Together with Co. F of San Francisco, the Los Angeles men will be California's representatives in the review of the Rainbow Division at Washington. It is therefore not expected that they will reach this city for ten days or more.

This regiment of engineers won an enviable record during the war. They entered the service early in the war, and for more than eighteen months worked and fought without relief, participating in much of the heaviest fighting in which the Rainbow Division engaged. They were close on the heels of the retreating Germany army before the armistice ended hostilities and were among the first American troops to cross the Rhine. The unit sailed from France for America on April 17.

The local entertainment of Cos. E and F will be in the hands of a committee of Los Angeles mothers organized as the Ladies' Auxiliary of Co. E. The Entertainment Committee includes Mrs. Francis Gee, called by her friends the "champion letter writer of the war" because of the great number of letters penned by her to American soldiers in France, and whose son, Elmer M. Gee, 17 years old, is a member of Co. E; Mrs. G. McPherson, Mrs. D. Stilwell, president of the auxiliary, and R. Leib.

STRICKEN PASSENGER AGENT IMPROVING.

Marius de Brabant, assistant general passenger agent of the Salt Lake and prominently identified with the Los Angeles Pacific Navigation Company, which is about to ship the first trans-Pacific cargo from Los Angeles, was stricken with appendicitis soon after attending the Chamber of Commerce meeting last Friday. He was operated upon Saturday at the Good Samaritan Hospital and yesterday was reported to be doing well.

FREE STORAGE LENGTHENED.

Approval was given by the City Council yesterday to the order of the Harbor Commission providing for thirty days' free storage time for outbound foreign cargoes and ten days' free storage for cargoes for outbound coastwise steamers. The Council also granted permits to the Union Oil Company and the General Pipe Line Company to maintain and operate oil-filling stations on Pier A, in the Harbor District.

HOOT, MON!

Let's give a couple of kahoots for the folks who named the big Pacific freighter the Cajoot.

THE BARRAGE.

The mother of the future is getting ready to be properly shocked when her offspring comes home smelling of peppermint drops.

THE ONE THING.

The awesome fact that stands forth from the great trial is that some dusky sports were restless about trusting reporters with money.

THE WRONG PEW.

Congressman Aswell intimates that at the next assemblage of Congress he will apologize for offering the bill which placed all wires in the wartime keeping of the Postmaster-General. Although the Congressman is a Democrat he is satisfied that the results easily warrant an apology. Even if the wires had been given over to the Department of Agriculture the public would have been better served and the plants better cared for. Secretary Houston knows all about developing currents.

A GRAVE QUESTION.

Will somebody call the attention of the Peace Conference to the fact that the striking gravediggers in San Francisco had a battle with a group of amateur moundbuilders who had been brought in to take their places. As the situation lies it is hard for a stranger in the Bay City to have himself properly buried. The regular sextons will not do the job, nor will they permit strikebreakers to come upon the scene. In the event of long-drawn hostilities, what will they do with their mortality list? How can a striking gravedigger consent to an armistice for the burying of the dead? Can the covenant be stretched to fit this case?

ANOTHER SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA INSTITUTION.

Southern California is famed for many distinctive institutions which make it a part of the world by itself. One of these is the Taubman Bible class at Long Beach, now the second largest Bible class in the United States and soon to be the largest. Between four and five hundred business men of Long Beach gather in a theater every Sunday morning and hold a wonderful community service with no twang nor religiosity in it, but lots of tang and religion. The proceedings open with an educational film show. There follows a half-hour or less of spirited singing of stirring songs, chorus, quartette and solo, with cornet and piano accompaniment. Some layman usually makes a short talk from a business man's viewpoint—even inveterate sinners are permitted to speak—and Rev. Mr. Taubman gives a half-hour, or shorter, Bible lesson. There are short-sentence prayers and pungent remarks. Mr. Taubman is a very much modified Billy Sunday in his manner, but first of all Himself—full of manly feeling and punching expression and Bible appreciation—and he "gets them." Men who would not attend a regular Sunday-school enjoy these rallies, and the general effect cannot fail to be uplifting. Long Beach is certainly one of the livest of truly-alive cities.

IMPORTANT BUSINESS QUESTIONS.

The annual meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce, which opens in St. Louis today, will probably be the most important in the history of the organization. Several thousand delegates, representing virtually every line of business in every part of the country, will be present and a number of big postwar business problems will be discussed.

The proposition to build a system of national roads, with the construction of at lease one transcontinental highway, is one of the important matters that will be presented by delegates from Los Angeles and other large cities. This project and the control and conservation of the waters of the Colorado River and other reclamation plans of merit are strongly urged at this time because they provide a way whereby the government can utilize a vast amount of equipment and material left on its hands at the close of the war, and labor made available by demobilization to develop some of the country's big resources and create wealth and earning power.

Arguments in favor of the early construction of a national boulevard to California are weighty and convincing. As a business investment, strictly, it would be immensely profitable, for it would induce the development of large areas of land west of the Mississippi River, would stimulate real estate activity all along the route and especially in California, to which would come by automobile a large number of visitors and homeseekers. As a convenience to motorists it would greatly enhance the comfort and pleasure of automobile excursionists. It would also enable people to become better acquainted with their country. Thousands of interesting things can be seen on a leisurely automobile ride across the country.

CRITICISMS OF THE PRESIDENT.

To look for unity of opinion among men of independent thought and action is to seek the unattainable. Sincerity of purpose adds to the confusion. During the days of waiting since the signing of the armistice The Times has received occasional communications from friends for whose opinions it holds a high regard, protesting against what they term the inactivities of the Peace Conference and the undemocratic part which President Wilson has played in its deliberations. One of the most loyal and highly-esteemed friends of The Times writes us:

"In my judgment, if a calamity ever fell upon a poor nation it came to our country in the person of Woodrow Wilson. . . . . He is a Socialist pure and simple and he is working to turn this government over to socialism. He has delayed beyond all reason the negotiations over the terms of peace, which should have been given to Germany months ago; and because of this delay, not only the German people, but the people throughout Austria and Russia, have been given time to discuss and make themselves believe that they are yet in the saddle. Everything is chaotic, a condition that might have been averted by giving attention to work so essential to be done. . . . Look at the wreck that has been created in this country; the railroads, the telegraph, the cable lines and the express. Look at organized labor, which he has pampered and patted on the back until the labor organizations believe that they are now in control of all public utilities, etc."

To this honored correspondent, as to a score of others, The Times can only reply that it is no self-appointed apologist for President Wilson or his Cabinet. We have as little sympathy with the domestic policies of the Democratic administration as the correspondents themselves. Its blunders at home are alike evident and inexcusable. We are reserving the full measure of our opinion in regard to its unparalleled extravagances and boodling until an audit of the books shall be made by the new Congress, a majority of whose members are Republicans.

But while The Times will always oppose President Wilson's political moves and socialistic economics, so hurtful to industry and progress, it is not unmindful that he is now engaged in the most Herculean task ever attempted by an American President, that of bringing to the world an enduring peace and establishing an era in which the right of self-determination shall be guaranteed to every people—in short, an era of justice, an era of the Golden Rule.

The Times has held for many years that an enduring peace can be established only when the great free nations of the world unite in a league which will enable them to throw their combined weight into the scale whenever justice is attacked by might. Gen. Otis was the originator of the League of Nations idea, as it is now taking shape and life, and worked for ten years developing it. When President Wilson and Lloyd George declared their adherence to this policy The Times was overjoyed. We of The Times have had no fears of entangling alliances, providing they unite all the free peoples of the world; and we have always held that the independence of each people need not be sacrificed in order to form a league to ensure peace. It is as natural and as necessary for nations to unite as for individuals to organize for mutual protection and advancement. When wholly isolated, nations, like individuals, tend to savagery.

In his adoption of the Otis plan for a League of Nations President Wilson has evidenced a breadth of vision and a grasp of world affairs which marks him as the foremost world statesman. His utterances awakened an echo in the hearts of all peoples that could be silenced neither by sophistry nor violence. His appeal for equal justice for all nationalities was as welcome in the enemy countries as in those of our allies. No other figure in all history has won the confidence of so many peoples during his lifetime.

In his diplomatic relations with other governments President Wilson has shown himself to be the leader of the American people. The Republicanism of The Times has been tested in too many grueling contests to necessitate further affirmation here. But The Times is first of all American; and should the interests of country and party clash The Times would know its country only.

The Times must say right here that the work of the Peace Conference has not been unduly delayed, but has been conducted with more expedition, vigor and promptitude than has any similar negotiation in all diplomatic annals. And its League of Nations covenant will be the greatest bequest of the century to the ages.

With the domestic blunders of the Democratic administration we shall not concern ourselves very much until the greater question of a permanent peace guaranteed by a League of Nations has been settled. The railroads are in a very bad way, and the industry of the country has been crippled through maladministration of these great transportation systems. Union-laborism has been pampered unduly, to a point that a premium is occasionally placed upon idleness. Waste of public money through the creation of useless sinecures has tended to a relaxation of the habits of thrift and economy upon which the welfare of the American people is founded. Too many socialistic ideas have been embraced under the guise of democracy. But for all these sins the Democratic party will be called to account before the bar of public opinion. The great object at present is to conclude peace, guarantee it with a League of Nations powerful enough to enforce its edicts and to establish an era of righteous industrialism under which the ravages of war may be repaired and the world be made safe for woman and children.

Friends of Gov. Goodrich of Indiana are grooming him for the Republican Vice-Presidential nomination. Indiana has always come to the front with this sort of timber. Beginning with Colfax in 1868 the list includes Hendricks, English, Kern and Marshall on the Democratic side and Fairbanks in 1904 and 1916 on the Republican. New York had Wheeler in 1876, Arthur in 1880, Morton in 1888, Reid in 1892, Roosevelt in 1896 and Sherman in 1908 and 1912.

Why don't the labor unions, who seem to have the power to increase their wages, get busy and cut down the high cost of living? Is it possible there is something that a labor union cannot do?

Guess Who'll Win.

ANALYZING THE COVENANT.

Many abstractions of the original constitution for the League of Nations have been reduced to concrete form in the "Covenant" of the league, the text of which appeared in full in The Times Monday morning. A comparison of the two documents reveals that the covenant is in more workable form than was the tentative constitution, and that the interests of the United States are more specifically safeguarded.

Those who feared that the league would occasion an abrogation of the Monroe Doctrine have no further cause for complaint. A new article has been inserted which provides specifically that "Nothing in this covenant shall be deemed to affect the validity of international engagements such as treaties of arbitration or regional understandings, like the Monroe Doctrine, for securing the maintenance of peace." This article was inserted at the insistence of the United States, despite a protest on the part of Japan.

Specific exemptions from league jurisdiction have been made of domestic questions. Under these exemptions the regulation of immigration and tariffs will not come within the province of the league. These exemptions were demanded by the American delegates. They form a guaranty that the league cannot interfere with American industry and labor.

A qualifying clause—"and who are willing to accept it"—has been placed in the article conferring mandatory powers on signatories of the league. This amendment removes the objection raised by certain Senators that the United States could be compelled to assume mandatory direction of European or Asiatic peoples.

Perhaps the most important of all the amendments, as far as our own country is concerned, is a provision that the decisions of the supreme council shall be unanimous. Under this clause the United States cannot be forced into any entangling alliances that it seeks to avoid.

New restrictions have been made concerning armament. But these are not mandatory; they are more in the nature of recommendations. There is a provision that any country which agrees voluntarily to the reduction of armament recommended by the supreme council cannot increase it in the future without the consent of the council. The reason for this proviso is apparent; it prevents double-dealing on the part of a government that would induce by example its neighbors to disarm and then embark suddenly on a policy of superarmament.

These amendments were all made on motion of the United States delegates. They mark a succession of victories for the American policy. No other country obtained so much, and no other country surrendered so little.

Whether the covenant will be accepted by the United States Senate must remain for the moment a moot question. Article X, regarded by many of the critics of the league, including Senator Root and Mr. Hughes, as the most objectionable of the twenty-six articles, remains unamended. This article provides that:

> The members of the league undertake to respect and preserve as against external aggression the territorial integrity and existing political independence of all members of the league. In case of any such aggression, or in case of any threat or danger of such aggression, the council shall advise upon the means by which this obligation shall be fulfilled.

Mr. Hughes pronounced this article a "trouble-breeder, not a peacemaker." Paris dispatches report that it was objectionable to the American delegates because it seeks to have the present generation fix territorial boundaries of nations for future generations. But the insistence of the Americans did not lead them to vote against the covenant. It represents a concession in the interests of general harmony. The Irish radicals are already condemning it, for the reason that it would be a barrier to securing armed assistance from this country in case of an Irish rebellion. But it is possible that the objections are more imaginative than real. A similar restriction in the constitution of our own country has proved no barrier to national development.

There is more apparent than real significance in changing the name from "constitution" to "covenant." The term constitution takes a shade of meaning in certain European languages that does not exist in our tongue; and the word covenant is more easily understood when translated in other tongues. The fact remains, however, that it is a covenant and not a constitution that was adopted yesterday by the plenary conference in Paris.

Japan is not satisfied that her citizens are not guaranteed racial equality. But the adoption of the covenant by the plenary conference is evidence that this objection did not cause the Japanese delegation to vote against it; for all the decisions of the plenary conference must be unanimous.

The Times indorsed the general plan of the constitution of the League of Nations, but suggested that certain amendments were desirable. The covenant does not go so far as The Times would have desired, for it fails to constitute a league with as powerful a set of molars as The Times would recommend. But it is a great stride forward and upward. It provides a barrier against the spread of Bolshevism and the tyranny of armed and organized banditry. The covenant is not static. Provision is made for amendment. New questions will arise with new generations, and a method is provided for their solution. While others may condemn the American delegation for not securing more, The Times feels constrained to commend President Wilson and his associates for having accomplished so much. When one stops to consider that all decisions of the Peace Conference must be unanimous, the difficulties under which our delegation labored become obvious.

Judging from the cabled comments, Great Britain, France and the United States are in perfect accord on the covenant. That the statesmen of these great free peoples have been able to reach a common agreement is in itself a guarantee that the League of Nations will guarantee the peace of the world, at least for the next generation. With the covenant of the league adopted by the plenary conference the way is now cleared for formulating and presenting to the Central Powers the terms under which the Allies are willing to grant them peace. While there is not yet perfect accord on the part of the Allies, The Times believes that the conference will be able to arrive at a satisfactory conclusion.

The spirit of the world is for peace and amity, and The Times trusts that there will be no further diplomatic delays by governments seeking to have won national and selfish advantage out of the terrible struggle through which the peoples of the world have just passed. Greed has had its day, gentlemen!

As far as the United States Senate is concerned, public opinion will be so nearly unanimous in favor of the peace covenant and the League of Nations that the recalcitrant Senators will not be likely to continue their opposition much further.

CALIFORNIA IRREDENTA.

"If California advanced her full historic claim to the frontier of 1847, we should demand Nevada, parts of Utah, New Mexico, Arizona and much of the American part of Texas. However, we wish to respect so far as possible the principle of self-determination, and, with two or three exceptions, we intend to follow climatic lines and confirm the bounding of 1919 to the Sierra Nevada Mountains. That great exception is Nevada. The original settlers of Nevada started for California and never arrived. We intend now to bring California to them. Second, we advance the economic claim. For years California has done more than her part in sustaining the best-known industry at Reno; further, we regard the Owens Valley Basin as necessary to our economic life. Third, and most important, is the meteorological claim. The clime of Nevada owes its salubriousness to the Californian influence. We might, on the same grounds, claim a part of Utah; but religious consideration causes us to draw the new line at the Utah frontier. We will be firm on the Nevada question. It is our California Irredenta."—[New Republic.

BOND OR FREE?

BY DORA OLIPHANT COE.

Are we, all of us, brothers (or sisters) to the three blind men who were taken on a sight-seeing tour of a zoo and afterwards were asked to describe an elephant? You remember that the one who touched the side of the pachyderm said, "An elephant is like a wall;" the one who felt of the animal's tail said "like a snake," and I have forgotten about the third description, but the point is that each one touched one feature and then felt that he was competent to judge the whole.

I heard one of our most prominent clubwomen say, in addressing an Ebell Club, "Law is bondage."

Eh?

And what about the howl over not interfering with a man's personal rights in connection with the prohibition amendment?

Just what do we mean by "bondage" and what do we mean by "personal rights"?

It certainly is my right to think, do, comport myself exactly as my taste, inclination and own sweet will incline me—until I begin to interfere with the taste, inclination or comfort of someone else.

And there is where law, which is simply the concrete expression of a determination on the part of humankind that I shall not interfere with the rights of my fellows, right there is where law becomes the grandest freedom.

Listen!

It is not my personal right, nor anyone's else personal right, to turn into poison the food of little children or of a half-starved world.

It is not my personal right to permit my weaker brother to stultify the God-given intellect which is needed in the scheme of the world's reconstruction.

Neither is it his personal right to make a beast of himself or to befoul the air which I must breathe or to neglect to provide for those for whom he is responsible.

There are a thousand ways in which the man who drinks interferes with the peace, happiness, comfort and beauty of a world which cannot easily spare any part of its blessings.

If it narrows itself to the question of personal rights, then whose rights are the most worthy of consideration—if any conflict—the one who is gratifying a selfish thirst of his own or those who have to live or associate with him or who even have to ride on the car with him or to pass him on the street?

I don't know who John C. Benton is. The name may be a camouflage, but whoever wrote the letter to The Times and signed the above name has aroused every drop of hot blood in my being. "Eternal principles of right and justice," he says.

Forsooth and then some!

"Red-blooded men in military service." Yes, but what right has J. C. B. to claim that the 4,000,000 are opposed to prohibition? Look at those of them who used to be lolling, slavering victims of the demon drink! See how straight they stand! See how clear-eyed they are! See how firm and free are their movements, how sure their steps!

If J. C. B. will go with me to see "The Girl Who Stayed at Home," now being shown at Grauman's (another one of Griffith's superplays) I will furnish the ticket, but I may not be willing to sit beside him. I sat by a man of corresponding opinions—for a few minutes—on a car one evening recently and the beast was so offensive with the result of the exercise of his "personal rights" that my suit had to go to the cleaner the next day. But I wish J. C. B. and all of his ilk could see that play; could see the younger Grey boy become a man in Uncle Sam's service; could hear the thunder of applause with which the house greets him when he puts aside the proffered glass and says that he has learned better, that he is going to live a different life now. It isn't just a play. It's a cross-section of thousands of lives.

It is time that opposers of prohibition stop their statements that the boys over there are coming back to be slaves. I resent their words. I wish I could tell them, face to face, that they lie when they say it.

It is true that some of those boys have been brought up to believe that they cannot become "red-blooded men" unless they have a vice or two. What a bungler they must have considered God! Here's hoping that the clearer vision of those months when death seemed just around the corner may have made them see the falsity of that idea.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

SONG OF PRAISE.

Oh, the day is bright and sunny,
And the wintertime is gone, and I'm chipper as a bunny that is playing on the lawn; all my cares and woes are banished and I'm standing on my head, for the wintertime has vanished and it didn't leave me dead.
Many things there were to fret me when the winter days were here; punk diseases tried to get me and to lay me on my bier; I had jaundice and rheumatics till I almost gave up hope, and the doctors combed their attics raking up all sorts of dope. I had itch and bilious fever and a lot of other ills, and the druggist, like a beaver, worked, compounding noxious pills. Every hour
I sought the basement there to feed the furnace coal, which was shoveled through the casement by a man who got my roll. And my uncle saw me daily, soaking pictures from my wall, which I'd purchased blithely, gayly, in the summer and the fall.
Oh, for winter there's no pardon, and I'm glad the blamed thing's gone, as I whoop around my garden, turning handsprings on the lawn. When this ding-donged pome is written I shall bust a lot of chairs, for I'm happy as a kitten and I have no woes and cares. WALT MASON.

Low transcontinental rates for the summer to benefit the hundreds of thousands of eastern tourists desiring to visit Southern California are announced. That should make it unanimous.

BURLESON'S HOT WATER.

A Washington dispatch to the New York World says that Representative James B. Aswell of Louisiana intends to apologize to the House for suggesting that the telegraph and cable services be taken over by the government. Mr. Aswell wishes it to be understood that he acted in good faith. He believed that rates would be generally reduced and that the people would benefit. Mr. Aswell must have been strangely credulous even for a Democrat, but his penitence, although tardy, seems to be sincere. It was evoked by the fact that the rates have not been reduced, but that they have been raised 20 per cent. That means that $16,000,000 have been taken from the pockets of the people, who may now reflect on this additional proof of the advantages of public ownership.

Mr. Burleson is certainly finding himself in hot water. He seems to have no friends. As a war measure he had a legal right to seize the cables, but it was not a straightforward war measure, seeing that the war was over. Moreover, he seized the Pacific as well as the Atlantic cables. He saw the chance for a bit of sharp practice in favor of public ownership and he seized it.

The most damaging blow yet directed against him comes from the hands of Mr. Mackay of the Postal Company. Mr. Mackay says that the increase of rates was for the purpose of enabling Mr. Burleson to pay the Western Union Company the compensation he had agreed upon. Moreover, Mr. Mackay says that he is prepared to resume control of the Postal Company at the old rates and to make a good profit. If Mr. Mackay can earn a profit at the old rates why must we pay an increase of 20 per cent. to Mr. Burleson?

Even Senator Hitchcock denounces the Postmaster-General in no measured terms, and it need not be said that Mr. Hitchcock is a sort of thick-and-thin supporter of the administration.—[The Argonaut.

It looks as if Albert Sidney Burleson would have to go. But President Wilson has a great way of sticking by his friends under fire. In that regard he resembles President Grant.

The skating-rink craze is upon us here, in spite of the fact that it is very provocative of back-sliding.

Cook's tourist guide advises Americans not to visit Europe during the present year. The time can be profitably spent giving the United States the once over.

By the proposed tunnel under the English Channel the time between France and England will be reduced to forty-five minutes. If one is in a hurry he might go by airplane.

Almost time to take a "hike" now on the Mayoralty candidates. Of course it would mean nothing, but there is a lot of satisfaction in quitting a number of things that never get anywhere.

This is the time of year when pedestrians appear in Los Angeles claiming to have walked across the continent and bearing letters from the Mayors of the towns through which they have passed.

A New Jersey professor will make a close investigation of the oyster for the purpose of determining what he eats. We have tasted some that were so thin it did not seem possible that they ate anything.

Atty.-Gen. A. Mitchell Palmer says he is willing to attempt the enforcement of the war-time prohibition act in this declaration it must be the Palmer's Quaker blood speaking and not his Democratic association.

Another good thing about this California climate ought to be appreciated by sportsmen and that is that it is possible to dig bait any day in the year. We refer to what is found on the hook and not to be found in a decanter.

The seventeen-year locusts are due this year, but to a nation that has handled the I.W.W. menace the information does not seem to be symptoms of a scare. Buzzing cicadas are good for poetry, but are very good for crops.

The superdreadnaught Idaho is about ready for sea. It is the most powerful warship afloat. It is said there will be done with the fighting machines when the nations disarm. A prize for the solution of this question.

The favorite bit of conundrum about this time previous to the meeting of the national conventions of the two parties is to announce that in the opinion of somebody, some named city has a good chance to have the honor of entertaining the delegates. It is a bit of nonsense and costs nothing, but there has never been a national convention held west of Kansas City.

United States Commissioner Matthews announced that Leonard, Ritchie and Promoter Dave Mackey each had contributed $1000 to the Victory Loan. Commissioner John S. Smith was presented with a watch later. Tex Rickard purchased $10,000 worth of notes.

and forced the champion backward around the ring, Leonard had the best of the bout all the way.

Ritchie's gameness was the only thing which kept him battling. With remarkable courage, the former champion took all the punishment which Leonard gave him, and without flinching took rights and lefts to the jaw which would have battered down any boxer who stood before the furious attack.

Leonard's bitter punches began to weary Ritchie in the second round, and wicked rights and lefts to the jaw sent him down for the count of nine. He got up and staggered his way through this session gamely. His revival in the third round was a big surprise, and he tore into Leonard with such fury that the champion kept backing away. This round was the only one in which Ritchie had any advantage. After Leonard had battered his opponent with a shower of blows in the seventh, Ritchie came up at the bell for the eighth round, a weary boxer.

Leonard went at him coolly and began to tantalize him with stiff jabs to the face. Ritchie used all the defensive tricks he knew to stop the smashes which were coming at him. Leonard speeded up his punches, and the former champion imagined that two or three boxers were directing blows at his head. A stiff jolt sent Ritchie's head back, and when Leonard followed up this blow with a terrific right smash to the jaw Ritchie's knees sagged and he went to the floor. As Brennan tolled the nine seconds above him there was a forlorn look of helplessness on Ritchie's face. He staggered to his feet and Leonard again tore in with rights and lefts.

Ritchie tried in vain to block the onslaught of blows, but once again Leonard's driving attack broke down his guard and again the rights and lefts bounded off Ritchie's battered jaw.

Another terrific right sent Ritchie back against the ropes, his arms fell to his sides and he sank toward the floor. There was a glassy look in his half-closed eyes, and the referee pulled Leonard away, and Ritchie had completed the tough journey to pugilistic oblivion.

Leonard weighed 137 pounds, and Ritchie tipped the scales at 133½.

It was the biggest crowd that ever witnessed a fight in New Jersey, and every bit of room in the spacious armory was taken up by the enthusiastic spectators. When the two boxers came together in the ring more than 11,000 spectators were crowded into the arena.

Leonard was in fine shape, and from the start it could easily be seen that he was bent on redeeming himself for the four-round decision which Ritchie gained in their recent bout on the Coast.

Leonard had his man measured from the start. He went at his work craftily and cautiously, and started to smash hard from the start.

GOTCH PROVES AN EASY VICTOR.

HAS NO TROUBLE DEFEATING HANS CHRISTENSEN IN WRESTLING BOUT.

Young Gotch was an easy victor over Hans Christensen in their wrestling bout at the T.M.A. Hall last night, taking the victory in straight falls. It required 8 minutes, 54 seconds for the first fall; the second came 7 minutes, 19 seconds later.

The Greek was the aggressor throughout the brief contest. He brought his opponent to the mat in the opening minute and the result was a forgone conclusion from that point on. He used a combination of arm lock and body hold to achieve the first fall. A savage toe hold secured as the referee ordered the contestants to the middle of the ring put Christensen out of the running and ended the match.

Joe Terry won a referee's decision from Fred Halbouer of the Naval Training Station at San Pedro in first preliminary. The boys wrestled the full twenty minutes and Retzer proclaimed Terry the winner as a reward for his aggression.

Jack Short and Tony Miller staged the other preliminary bout, Short winning in straight falls. The first required slightly over six minutes. The second fall went to Short on a double wrist lock. Time, 3 minutes, 18 seconds.

Partisans of Young Gotch staged a stormy rally in favor of their protege following the match, demanding a match with Champion Walter Miller. Gotch showed flashes of class against his opponent and may be able to convince the promoters of his merits as a championship contender.

LAKE FISHING LOOKS PROMISING.

ANGLERS OVERHAULING EQUIPMENT IN ANTICIPATION OF TROUT SEASON.

Anglers are overhauling their equipment in anticipation of the local trout season which opens Thursday morning. Experts have been over the ground within the last week and the fishermen will be guided very largely by these reports.

The reports boiled down, amount to this: The lake fishing promises to be the best in the year; the stream fishing will be about normal or slightly below that mark. Early season limits are promised on both streams and lakes, but some of the streams are understocked and will hardly furnish the same number of fish later in the year.

Bear Valley is as usual the center of interest for the majority of the fishermen and reports agree that the fish are both large and abundant. So plentiful have the trout been during the recent spawning season that it has required the services of several deputy game wardens to keep the fish from forcing each other out of the water over the spawning beds.

Cuyamaca Lake, near San Diego, is among the fishing spots given the O.K. by the investigators, at least for the opening month of the season. Moreno Dam, in the same region, is yielding big bass catches and some of the fishermen will combine trout and bass angling in week-end camping trips to the south.

The San Gabriel River, favored by many of the anglers because of its accessibility, is reported rather low, but the water is clear and the stream may yield limits for the opening.

San Antonio Creek, below Mt. Baldy, is one of the streams which suffered by understocking this season and will not attract many of the veterans.

CUP OFFERED FOR HANDBALL.

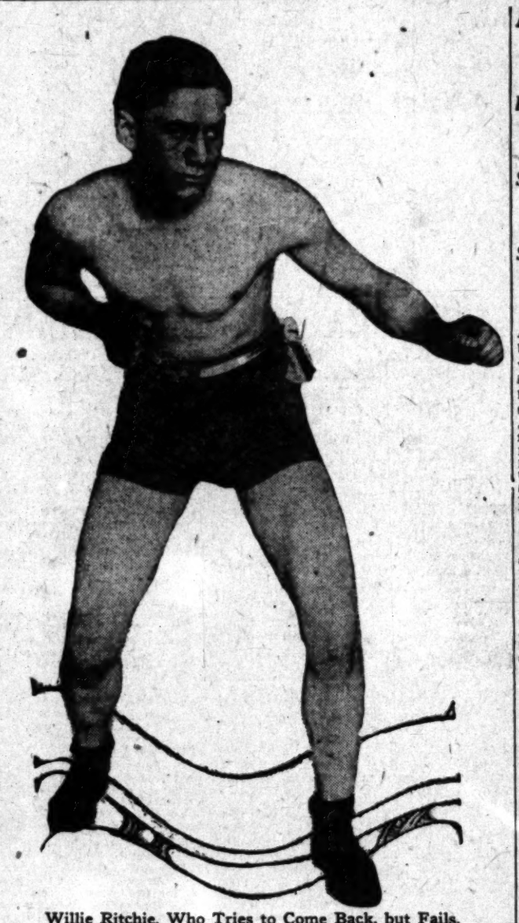
Bob Feinstein of Cline-Cline's has offered a man-sized silver loving cup to any high school student of Southern California who will defeat Art Stearn at handball on the Y.M.C.A. courts.

Entries may be made to Feinstein and the play will continue until Stearn is eliminated or the winner of the cup refuses to accept further challenges. The promoter of the series expects about fifty contestants to take part in the play.

GOLF TOURNEY AT SAN GABRIEL.

The San Gabriel Country Club will open its invitation golf tourney tomorrow with the qualifying round billed for the entire day instead of the afternoon, as scheduled in the club announcement.

Match play will occupy the succeeding three days. Most of the players whose names have appeared in recent tournament play are expected to take part in the tourney.



Willie Ritchie, Who Tries to Come Back, but Fails.

Game San Francisco fighter was saved from knockout at hands of Benny Leonard by referee last night. It will be remembered that Willie first gained a national reputation in this city nearly a dozen years ago, when he was substituted for Ad Wolgast, who was scheduled to fight Freddie Welsh, the Michigan boy having become suddenly ill with appendicitis. Ritchie proved last night that he is as game as ever, but Leonard is his master in the ring.

LOCALS' BATTING AVERAGES

The Angels are still lamming away at the pill and are making life miserable for visiting slabsters. Messrs. Crawford, Fournier, Lapan, Killefer and Schick are whaling away at over a .300 clip since the season started. Sam Crawford, the mighty swatter, carried off the honors in the games with the Mormons, but was close pressed by that batting, blue devil, Jacques Fournier. Only a difference of one hit separated the two sluggers at the end of the seventh game. Crawford's long swipe at Vernon last Sunday morning, when the apple sailed far over the score board to fields unknown, was undoubtedly the longest ever seen at Maier Park and a number of fans present declared it the farthest hit ball ever seen around Los Angeles.

Little Pete Lapan is still wielding a wicked club and is also developing into somewhat of a pinch hitter. Reliable Red Killefer is still pasting the horsehide and is frequently invading that first sack. Morris Schick fell away in his sticking last week but is still above the magic .300. Paddy Driscoll is holding his own and is also beginning to show that he is there at times with a clean-up slash. Bill Kenworthy has not yet struck his gait, but when he does he will soon be up among the Angelic topnotchers. The way the Angels have been poling them out in the first three week's play would lead one to believe that if they can continue at that clip for a few more weeks they will be so far out in front that nothing will be able to stop them.

Vernon has not improved much at the bat and boasts only two regulars that are clouting above .300 viz:—Borton and Meusel. Bobby is surely there with the bludgeon and has added a tower of strength to the Tiger's batting ability. Borton is maintaining a .300 clip or better and promises to have a good season. Beck has not yet discovered his hitting eye but when he does he is almost sure to climb fast. Hosp has been consistently hitting around .250 and seldom misses a day without a bingle or two. Mitchell is hitting to his ability, but Eddington thus far has been somewhat of a disappointment. He has always hit over .300 in the minor leagues and as Bill Essick has great faith in the clouting ability of his left fielder, it is more than likely that Eddington will show his real stick worth ere long. The averages to date follow:

WRESTLING CHAMPIONSHIPS.

With the purpose of interesting the younger element in wrestling, all arrangements are now being completed by Charley Keppen, manager of athletics at the Los Angeles Athletic Club for the staging of the Southern California amateur wrestling championship on May 22nd.

Entry blanks were mailed out yesterday and judging from the interest that has been taken of late in the mat sport, it is expected that one of the largest entry lists in the history of the annual event will be on hand.

Plans are being made by Keppen and his assistants for pulling off the tournament in two days, providing the number of entries are received that are now anticipated. An especially larger number of out-of-town boys are expected to be on hand for the tournament, while local athletic organizations will be strongly represented.

The wrestling game has been booming to the skies during the past few months, and before many more moons the favorite mat sport should have regained all the prestige that it once held in the sport firmament.

High schools and colleges, both in Southern California and in the north, have adopted the sport, because physical culture authorities acknowledged it as one of the best physique builders and developers for the young body known. Wrestling tournaments were recently held at Poly High, Throop and Pomona colleges, which all goes to show that the grappling sport is beginning to be recognized and patronized as of old.

The wrestling championships that are scheduled to take place at the club the latter part of next month are open to any grapplers of amateur standing who desire to enter. The men in charge of the tournament are especially desirous of procuring young wrestlers to enter despite their lack of experience. The "go in and try" spirit is what the club officials want to inject into the youthful mat men, and which in the end is the only real way to be tested out.

Especial interest by club members is being manifested in Wallace Duguid, a protege of Walter Miller's, but who is in the heavyweight

Sixth Round Only Time the Visitors Threatened.

In dulcet strains let it be intoned, Angels, 3; Salt Lake, 0. Nothing but a seismic visitation or a tidal wave, that would have put Washington Park out of business, could have saved the Mormons from a trimming yesterday. The loss of Monday's game put the visitors in the fifty-two hole, or, to be more explicit, they finished the series just played with five defeats and two victories, leaving them five and a half games behind the Seraphs, who appear to be fast winging their way to pennantville. It was hardly in the planets for Eddie Herr and his hustling Bees to prevail yesterday. Many reasons could be advanced to substantiate this fatality, but the principal one, and the one we will dwell upon, is a twirler named Paul Fittery.

According to the opinion of a bug wag, who yesterday basked in Paul's cleverness, the portsider really didn't know what he had. At times his balls seemed to dazzle the visiting sluggers with their speed. His fadeaway was a gem to look upon. It was early evident that his offerings would soon put the air in a state combustible, and smoke the Bees into disposition. And then, his rifle shots to first, which on a number of occasions caught Mormons flat-footed off the bag. In the fourth inning Paul almost paralleled a world's record when he nabbed Mulligan and Mulvey in succession off the initial sack. Rumler spoiled the whole shooting match by rounding an easy one to Killefer, and dying at the feet of Jacques Fournier.

Willett tried to stem the waning fortunes of the Bees by taking a big league prestige with him into the pitcher's box, but it availed him nothing. The third inning spelled his undoing, for he not only ran into a welter of base hits, but also ran into a comedy of errors by his henchmen. It appeared as if Willett had a mint of curves in his noodle, but just couldn't deliver them.

The Angels began to clout the rubber in the very first inning. Willett tried to clip a button off Killefer's jacket, but Red bent inward and the ball spiraled up his left side. He was given a broad to first. Red signaled hit and run. As he did so, Mulligan must have sensed it for he waltzed toward second just as Shick bent on the pill and the pill hit exactly on the spot that the shortstop had vacated and then sought recreation in left center. The hit was one of the prettiest placed, ever witnessed at Washington Park.

Kenworthy tried to unseam the ball, but the pesky flirt carromed off his bat into a high foul to Master Sands. Killefer on third scooped a bunch of damp exertion off his brow and tilted his right arm toward the welkin. In the freemasonry of Cherub baseball this meant "Hit it over second, Jacques." Fournier tried it, but the ball went too low and soon nestled in Krug's mitts. Shick was forced at second on Krug's throw to Mulligan, but the latter was a little too slow to nab the Frog at first. During the play, Red tiptoed home, but Shick was out trying to steal second, Byler to Krug.

The Angels put the game away in lavender in the third inning by the following formula: Fittery shot one to Mulligan, who easily threw him out at first. Killefer hit a tantalising high one to left not far back of third base near the foul line. Mulligan and Mulvey both on the dead run got tangled up at cross purposes and the pill got an awful bump on Mother Earth. During the mixup Red toddled to second. Schick spun a fast one to Mulligan, who threw low to Sheely (the only way a ball can get past Earl) and the orb chattered to the Angel dugout. Killefer crossing the plate and Morrie going to second.

Kenworthy tormented the air three times in auction, but Jacques battered one over the second-base bag that almost knocked Maggert down. Schick hot-footed it home and if their is a man in the league that can do that some hot-footing that same man is Schick. Fournier, trying to emulate Ty Cobb in a big lead off first was almost nabbed a half-dozen times. Willet persisted, however, despite the railing of the fans to "play ball." All of a sudden the Frog broke the pitcher and had the mortification of feeling Shelly's gloved hand surrounding a ball shoved against his anatomy before he could get his right dog back to the bag.

The only possible chance the visitors had to score was in the sixth. Here it was that Fittery darted all his skill at Maggert and made the veteran whiff. Mulligan's grounder left a burned path behind it as it bolted toward Killefer, but Red was there blister or no blister and tossed him out to Fournier. Just as it looked as if Mulvey was to take the long walk back to the dugout, Paul lost control of the ball and it sought a haven of rest in the center of the left fielder's back.

Sheely, who is now leading the league with the willow, drew a pass but both were marooned by Rumler's little squib to Bill Kenworthy, who shot the ball to Fournier easily nailing the big right fielder.

Incidentally those rip-snorting Solons were present having arrived in the morning from San Francisco headed by the hustling Bill Rodgers. Jim Morely, fearful that the Coyotes

GOLF TITLE TO BE SETTLED.

The golf championship of the city will be settled during the month of May according to the committee in charge of golfing affairs at the municipal links. The date for the tournament will be announced in a few days.

Trophies will be awarded to the winner and runner-up of both championship and defeated sixteen of the title-flight and for the winner and runner-up of all other flights.

POLO MATCH AT MIDWICK CLUB.

WHITE WINGS SLATED TO MEET THE BLUE JAYS TOMORROW.

White Wings vs. Blue Jays is the programme lined up for tomorrow afternoon's polo slate at the Midwick Country Club. The teams will meet in the regular four-chukker match which has become popular with both players and spectators at the Pasadena turf.

Tommorrow's game will suffer by the absence of Jim Spalding, who has been one of the bright stars of the season to date. His departure yesterday for the East leaves a large hole in the Midwick line-up.

In the last meeting between the two quartettes, the White Wings carried off the honors by a margin of one goal. The rearrangement of the line up caused by Spalding's loss may result in some unusually fast polo and spell victory for the Blue Jays.

Among the players who are available for the two teams are Tod Ford, Dr. Malaby, Ruy Spalding, Dr. Boucher, J. B. Miller, Smith, Carwile and Teddy Miller. Andrews is expected to serve as referee.

HOLLYWOOD NOTES.

In the third round of the City League, Hollywood will play Pasadena at Pasadena on Friday, May 2.

Dick Hinckley, the star racket swinger of Hollywood, went into the finals of the Santa Barbara annual contest, but was defeated by Godshall of Harvard.

LIGHTWEIGHTS IN MAIN EVENT.

Will Feature Main Event at Vernon Tonight.

Kramer Meets Spencer in the Semi-Windup.

Phil Salvadore and Alec Trambitas, overgrown lightweights, will meet in the main event at the regular Tuesday night show at Vernon tonight. The easy way in which Trambitas beat Al McManus a week ago has caused him to be well backed to beat Salvadore, who is considered one of the classiest 135-pounders that has appeared at Vernon.

The semi-windup will be between Danny Kramer and Georgie Spencer. Both are northern boys, but as each has boxed several bouts in the local ring, they are well known here. Both boys were beaten by Sailor Kramer, but they are a classy pair of maulers, and should put up an interesting mill.

Young George is matched with George Moss. George has had but two bouts, winning both by knockouts. He stopped Paul Herman and Billy Wilson, but in Moss he is meeting an old-timer who is tougher than either of the boys he beat.

Muff Bronson and Willie Moodie, two lightweights who have been clamoring for a chance to mix, have been lined up for a special event. Bronson has a record that stamps him as one of the best lightweights on the coast, although he looked bad in a couple of starts here. Moodie is from the East and little is known about him, but he is said to have met some good boys and Bronson is expected to make him show his real class.

Gus Williams and Johnny Woodruff will hook up in what should be a slugging match. Neither is much as far as boxing is concerned, but both are good hitters and like to slug.

Young Papke and Jack Rewart will meet in the curtain raiser. Fred Winsor will referee.

TIGERS ROMP ON PORTLAND.

Fromme's Home Run is Real Feature of Game.

Red Oldham is Rapped Hard in Two Innings.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PORTLAND (Or.) April 28.—Three hits and a like number of errors gave Vernon five runs in the seventh inning of the day's baseball matinee, the Tigers winning 8 to 1, which gives them the series, four games to two.

Red Oldham opposed Arthur Fromme on the hillock. The former had two bad innings, in which he allowed half of the twelve base knocks registered against him. Fromme gave the Beavers only six hits, the bunching of two of them in the second canto permitting the lone McCredie registration.

Had not Essick-hired men broken up the game for Fromme in the seventh he would have been a hard guy to beat, anyway. Christy Mathewson's old pitching partner was as calm as a lily pond, and otherwise distinguished himself by tying the score in the third with a hard home run drive over the right center field fence. The ball was just commencing to rise when it cleared the barrier.

It was a pitchers' battle until the unlucky seventh. Portland drew first blood in the second, when Art Koehler gained life by forcing Del Baker at second, went to third on Frank Fuller's double, and scored on Oldham, with a single to center. Oldham allowed one Tiger to get on in each of the first six innings, and until he blew up it looked as if the battle was billed for extra innings. Capt. Paddy Siglin started things in the seventh by allowing Cook to reach first on his low throw. Fromme forced the southern catcher at second. Mitchell singled across second, Chet Chadbourne was hit by a pitched ball, filling the bases. Meusel lifted a long sacrifice fly to farmer, who dropped it. Fromme scoring, and when Oldham intercepted Farmer's throw to the plate, knocking the pellet out of Baker's reach, Mitchell tallied. Chadbourne went to third and Meusel to second.

Babe Borton singled to right, scoring Chad and Meusel. Glenn Beck followed with a single to center sending Borton to second and the bases were once more populated when Scotty Alcock drew free transportation. On top of all this Manager McCredie allowed Oldham to stay on the hill although he had pitcher Sam Lewis warming up. Lew Blue showed his inexperience by catching Franz Hosp's long foul fly, Borton scoring after the catch. The misery ended when Baker caught Alcock off first.

Vernon's other brace of runs came in the following inning after two were out, showing how dangerous these Bengals are at all stages. Singles by Mitchell, Chadbourne and Meusel and a stolen base for Chad was the cause.

A fast double play, Mitchell to Hosp to Borton, retired the Beavers in the sixth and the Essick men pulled another double play in the ninth, throwing Dick Cox up badly. The Pasadena chap doubled to start the inning and when Baker hit a semi-liner to Meusel he started to score from second. Of course, Dick did not stop to think the Ducks were only seven runs behind and that he had better be careful. Meusel made an easy catch and threw to Mitchell, retiring the young and inexperienced Mr. Cox.

Portland's lone run came in the second inning thusly, Baker walked, Bogart flied to Alcock and Koehler forced Baker at second, Beck to Hosp. Fuller doubled to left, Koehler taking third. Oldham singled to center, scoring Koehler, but Fuller was out at the plate, Chadbourne to Cook and one run, two hits, no errors were rung up.

Oakland opens tomorrow afternoon. Guy Cooper for Portland will probably start against Harry Krause.

Pitcher Roy Crumpler who looked good to Mac in Honolulu on the 1917 training trip reported today. He is a Southpaw weighing 180 pounds and has just been discharged from the army. He has been doing no pitching and after a ten-day workout may be started against Seattle next week.

might pilfer Angelic signs, was on the alert to locate the newcomers. For a long time they evaded his vigilance, but at last were discovered in a sunkist box near the third-base line, through a peculiar incident. This very box for a time appeared to be entirely covered with a small circus tent. Suddenly the tent lifted as if by magic and under it stood a wight named Panama Murphy. He was bold of panama all right, and timid of feature, with a frontispiece something like that of Bill Nye even to the goggles. Under this enormous spread of well-labored straw, the Sacramento team had cluttered like a bunch of chicks under a hen. Murphy is no other than the business manager of the Senators. As the Monday crowd was rather comparatively small, no kicks were registered about the young tent which bobbed around here and there in the grand stand eating up all the warmth that Old Sol reluctantly doled forth. However, Panama Murphy will be asked this afternoon to take his side show to the left field bleachers, or have it checked at Ascot Park before coming into Los Angeles proper. Bill Rodgers declares that the gigantic sky-piece is a Sacramento talisman and goes with the team at all times, despite the fact that the express charges are enormous, as it requires half a car space to take it from town to town. NEW YORK, April 28.—New York won its first game of the season here today, defeating Philadelphia in twelve innings, 3 to 2. It was the third straight extra inning game played in Philadelphia. The hitting of Vick, a New York youngster, turned the tide for New York. His triple in the eighth started a rally which enabled the New Yorkers to tie the score. He tripled again in the twelfth and scored the winning run when Peckinpaugh bunted safely. Score:

Those in charge said there had been a misunderstanding regarding other entrants.

MISSOULA MIKE MURMURS.

Veteran Marine Cheats Grave; Discusses Baseball, War and Peace.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

"Well, I'm glad to see that they got you out of Brussels before you tried to borrow money off the King."

I hadn't heard that voice since leaving Flanders, and if a German "mopper up" had stuck me in the back with a knife I couldn't have turned around with greater alacrity.

There was no mistaking that chatter.

It belonged to Missoula Mike, the Marine. I would have known it up around the North Pole and Mike all camouflaged up like an Eskimo. To me it was like a voice from the grave. I had heard before leaving France that Mike had passed out. Not killed by the next to the last shot fired in the war, as he had a hunch he would be, but that he had died down at Bordeaux after with "flu," following the aftereffects of gas.

"Some of the boys told me that you wrote my obituary, but that the censor killed it, not destrin' to see me buried prematurely," resumed Mike, igniting a fag and floodings the sporting department with the fumes of Bull Durham. "The censor figured that we might have further use for us fightin' gents, an' desired to preserve us until Marshal Foch has pointed out to the Huns the exact location of that dotted line."

"In whose airplane did you breeze across the big splash and volplane noiselessly into Los Angeles?" I asked.

"That's not my mode of travel," replied Mike. "No skylarkin' in mine. Us marines fight on land an' sea, and we figure that is covrin' enough territory."

"When did you land?"

"Hit Hoboken in the Leviathan almost a month ago, an' headed straight for Los Angeles. Had a cravin' to get here for the baseball open' an' have been hidin' out in the right-field bleachers since the first day. Landin' in New York I found you could get baseball out here a month sooner than any place else in the world, and I grabbed Mr. Pullman's first rattler out of Manhattan.

"Them Angels of Johnny Powerzes sure is travelin' like one of our own twelve-inch shells, and their brilliance is illuminatin' up the whole surroundin' country like a flock of star shells. Such radiance has even dimmed the luster of Wade Killefer's skypiece, which in the midst of it don't look much more luminous than a faded roan.

"Glad I was here when Sammy came marchin' home. I reckon the old town ain't seen more excitement since that double-barreled celebration when the armistice was signed as when the One Hundred and Sixtieth and Three Hundred and Sixty-fourth came swingin' down the street.

"Did you pipe them wound stripes and dented helmets what the Germans had been bouncin' chunks of shrapnel and high explosives off of, an' did you observe that 'different' look on the faces of them which had been through it. When a man goes through hell it leaves its mark on his face, an' sears a lot of the youth and buoyancy out of it.

"You see this expression on soldiers who has fought, on seafarin' men an' others which has long been at war with the elements an' with chance. Lead me to any crowd, even where the men ain't wearin' unies, and nine times out of ten I can pick out the man who has been under fire just by that indefinable something in his face. The war map is just naturally pictured on his phiz.

"Now, contrary to general belief there ain't no jealousy between us an' the doughboys, at least as far as us marines is concerned. We was lucky in gettin' the publicity when we jumped into the fight there at the Marne, as they wanted to keep it a secret that the Infantry was fightin' too. But that the doughboys was fightin' alongside of us wasn't no secret to the Germans. When anybody is ploughin' right through you with bayonets, knives and sawed-off shotguns you are bound to know he is present. That's why you couldn't possibly conceal the fact from the Germans that both the doughboys an' the marines was both present.

"Now us marines naturally ain't takin' off our iron hats to anybody double our weight in the world. We confess to bein' hard-boiled, an' when we go into battle we don't entertain any desire to live forever. We are sort of amphibious, or words to that effect, fightin' on sea an' on land on the slightest provocation, an' in general all-around work we may have something on other branches of the service.

"But the infantryman is a specialist. Did you ever stop to figure that the doughboy is the greatest land fighter that ever plunged into hell with three cheers. Go over there and count 'em, count the wooden crosses. Even Pershin' remarked after all was said an' done that the infantry was the backbone of the army, even with al, the new an' devilish inventions of modern warfare.

"I'm gettin' this off my chest to set myself right, an' square you newspaper guys who for a long time wasn't allowed to mention anybody except us marines.

"Tom Darmody sure has been playin' out of luck," resumed Mike, reaching for the makin's. "Now, I'm not a baseball expert. I leave that to the sportin' writers, highbrows and lecturers. But it's my opinion if the New York Americans had kicked through as they solemnly swore they would, the Tigers would be a lot higher than they are. I'd say that what Tom an' Bill Essick needs is one more infielder, another outfielder and two more dependable pitchers who can stand the gas. A man doesn't have to be a member of the Magi to see that. You can observe the weak spots through smoked glasses.

"The comin' of Tommy Long will settle the outfield tangle. I saw Tommy in a few games over in France. He is a grizzly bear at hittin' and a deer when it comes to runnin'. Him an' an infielder an' two pitchers will put the Tigers where you may have to play another post-season series to tell which is the best team, them or the Angels. Them Major League teams can emit more promises than a licked German can bleats."

Mike here dropped into a brief silence.

"I was just thinkin' of when we met for the first time," he resumed after a time. "Why back in July—it was July 4, when you found me perched on the pedestal of the Statue of Strassburg in the Place de la Concorde, watchin' that parade of the Allies. That was right after we had had our skirmish with the Germans near Chatty-Terry. Them was great days. Only wish the Allies were as close together as they was then—would hang together around the peace table like they did when it looked like the Huns would bust through.

"Seems a long time since that hot July day, an' since then I've had quite a few experiences. Not the least interestin' of which was acting as a sort of outer guard at the Peace Conference at the Quai d'Orsay. When I got over that attack of flu followin' the gas attack they wanted something soft for me, and landed me a job at the Quai. It was then that me an' Private Clyde Potter, of our town, got acquainted. Clyde was doin' guard duty over at the Hotel Crillon at the same time.

"Several months I was stationed at the door to the Quai d'Orsay. It was one of my duties to meet the limousines as they rolled up containin' kings, foreign ministers, presidents and plepitopotenaries, or whatever you call 'em, and open the doors of the cars. This got me within' speakin' distance of the great ones of the earth, but, of course, I didn't do much speakin'. That would have been contrary to my military trainin'.

"But I'll never forget the day that the conference opened, and the heavyweight thinkers gathered about the horseshoe table. Standin' on a stone shelf, there was a bunch of soldiers with their faces pressed against the iron, spear-headed fence that surrounds the Quai. Through this they was silently watchin' the great ones alight. In that row of soldiers was American doughboys, French Poilus, Highlanders, Scotchmen, Canadians, Italians, our own gobs, Japanese Jackies, Polish infantrymen, Serbian mountaineers and what not. They just looked on an' said nothin'. I'd given a month's salary to know what was goin' on in their heads.

"All of 'em was regular fightin' gents. You could see that they had been through it. Possibly they was wonderin' if these intellectual parties in tall hats and long coats, an' boiled shirts, would do as good a job at tyin' up the Germans as they did of lickin' 'em. It probably looked pretty soft to 'em, but I'll bet most of them peace delegates has suffered enough mentally to offset our physical sufferin'. You could just see 'em age from day to day.

"Honestly, though, even if this was the greatest gatherin' in the world's history, an' made that Vienna affair look like a precinct caucus, it seemed kind of drab after the big drammer on which we had been lookin'. The only flash of color was when Foch rolled up in his marshal's uniform. You could see something like an electric thrill run through that row of plain fightin' men standin' with their faces peerin' through the iron fence. Believe me, the soldiers is strong for this Foch person. Probably the champion general of all time, he's as kind an' gentle as a father with the men under him,

BELATED MEET AT ARCADIA.

Balloon School Holds Athletic Exhibition.

Includes Celebration of Tennis Court Opening.

Many Prominent Raquet Enthusiasts Present.

A belated track and field meet was held at the Arcadia Balloon School yesterday, having been postponed from Saturday because of the rain, and at the same time a celebration was held in honor of the opening of the nurse's tennis court, a number of prominent players taking part in exhibitions. The court was presented to the chief nurse, Miss Wrigley, by the Red Cross, largely due to the effort of Mrs. A. B. Cass of South Pasadena.

Among those present at the opening ceremonies at the tennis court were Col. and Mrs. L. J. Mygatt, Mrs. A. B. Cass, Capt. and Mrs. Decnatel of the Red Cross, Chief Nurse Wrigley, Roy Haslett, athletic director of the Western Division, U.S.A.; Mrs. W. M. Henry, R. E. Callahan, Frank Winne, Bob Allen and Tom Ferrandini. After refreshments were served in Miss Wrigley's bungalow some exhibition sets of tennis were played.

The Thirty-seventh Balloon Company came to the front with a decided rush at the end of the track meet, barely nosing out the Sixty-sixth Company by a margin of 1½ points. The Sixty-sixth grabbed a whole lot of honors in the track events, but the Thirty-seventh was strong in the heefy stuff and captured the honors for the meet by getting away with the final event of the day, the tug of war, after a very close match with the Sixty-sixth. The meet was in charge of Roy Haslett, athletic director of the Western Division, and Lieut. Whistler, athletic officer.

ZBYSZKO AGAIN DEFEATS LEWIS.

CHICAGO, April 28.—Wladek Zbyszko, the Pole, defeated Ed (Strangler) Lewis of Kentucky for the second time in two months in a finish wrestling match here tonight. Zbyszko pinned Lewis down after two hours, fourteen minutes and nine seconds, with a side roll and a body scissors.

THIRD ROUND OF CITY LEAGUE.

City Prep School Teams to Play Next Friday.

Interesting Diamond Battles are Promised.

Mechanics Loom as Championship Contenders.

The city prep school baseball teams will enter the third round of the City League on Friday. The Lincoln nine will meet a tarter on this day in clashing with Poly. Since their weak game with the Jefferson High squad, the Poly aggregation has been considerably strengthened and a great game is looked for when the two teams clash.

With a more formidable lineup to finish out the season with, the Mechanics now loom as championship contenders, while in all previous games the fast Railsplitters have given a very good account of themselves.

The Manual Arts team will try conclusions with the speedy Jefferson players on Friday, the fracas to take place on the latter's grounds. The Jefferson boys are conceded more than an even chance against the fighting Artisans because of playing the game on home grounds.

however the Loynd brothers are in excellent trim and the Purple and Gray nine may be counted on to offer plenty of fight to their opponents.

Hollywood High School's ball representatives will take a nice P. E. trip to Pasadena, where they will battle the Crown City players. This should prove a good tussle as the two teams are evenly matched and a large crowd of rooters from both institutions is expected to attend.

The Blue and White team, which has been in a slump during the past two games, is expected to take a brace Friday when they contest the Long Beach squad on the latter's diamond. It is expected that two of the regulars who have been missing from the Blue and White team during the past two games because of scholarship difficulties, will be able to don their uniforms against the beach town diamond artists.

In addition to the City League games, Compton and San Pedro High schools will lock horns on Friday on the latter's grounds. These schools are both entered in the Bay City League.

By their defeat of the Claremont High School nine, the fast Norwalk High School aggregation of ball tossers jumped into the lead of the Valley League, having won three straight games. Judging from the class of ball the Norwalk boys have been playing, they stand a good chance of entering the Southern California play-offs.

DOUGLAS GRANT TO DEFEND TITLE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

DEL MONTE (Cal.) April 28.—Douglas Grant, State and Southern California champion, has decided that he will not depart from his home in this section at Pacific Grove in May, as he had planned, but will stay until September, so as to be able to defend his title in the California State amateur championship, which will be staged over the Del Monte No. 1 course.

Grant is going to move to England to make his home. He is counting on participating in the link classics across the pond. The California champion is rated as one of the most finished and best golfers who ever swung a club on the Pacific Coast. Twice he has won the State title, besides a long list of other honors, which included the winning of the Southern California championship last month.

The crack player intends to keep busy until his departure. He will enter the Northern California tournament, and will keep in form by going in the week-end competitions, which are regular features at Del Monte.

Foursomes of the exhibition order are popular with the golfing fraternity at Del Monte. One day this week George Parsons paired up with George Turnbull, the professional, and beat Douglas Grant and Hubert Mee, 5 and 4.

Robert Cash, the crack Los Angeles player, did not show his best form in the foursome with George Turnbull, in which Grant and Harold Sampson, the pro, won out by 3 and 2. Cash figures on returning later to practice up, for he's a good driver and a very clever putter when right.

Jack Morrill of Chicago has been making the Del Monte golfers go at their best to beat him. He drives a low, true ball, that carries, and he averages between 78 and 82. His brother-in-law, George B. Carpenter of Medford, O., has also been showing to good advantage, with rounds between 80 and 85.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, April 28.—Lieut. Vincent Shutt, recently returned with the One Hundred Sixty-fourth Infantry, will take up his former duties next week as athletic coach of the Santa Monica High School after an absence of two years. Shutt's position has been filled at the school by Coach Voyle Brennen who is given great amount of credit for the four pennants the baseball and football teams have won in the Bay Cities League. Brennen will take the position of grammar school coach when school convenes after the spring vacation.

PARTY IS OFF AFTER TROUT.

Jack Doyle, the boxing impresario, accompanied by Dr. M. L. Moore, will leave today for Bishop where the two will spend a week angling for the big trout that are reported to abound in that region.

Anglers continue to bring in limits from the Ventura country, but most of the fish seem to be rather small. Doyle and Moore claim to have a line on a special strip of water up Bishop way and hope to bring back big fish and plenty of them.

CITY VIOLATES OWN LAW.

There will be no automatic sprinkling system for the basement of the City Hall until after next year's budget appropriations are made available, regardless of the fact that every day such a system is not installed the city itself is violating its own ordinance on this subject. The attention of the Council has been called to this condition by the building superintendent and the Fire Commission. Yesterday it referred the matter to the Budget Committee.

SCHEDULE FOR PRESENT WEEK.

At Washington Park this afternoon the Angels hook up with the Sacramentos in the first game of a series of seven. Play will start at 2:45 o'clock sharp. Ladies will be admitted free on all days except Saturday, Sunday and holidays. The following are the probable line-ups:

LOS ANGELES.	SACRAMENTO.

Crawford, rf	Grigsb, 1b
Ellis, lf	Orr, ss
Driscoll, ss	Rodgers, 2b
Lapan, c	Murray, c

Where they play this week:

The following is the result of last week's series:

Angels beat the Salt Lakes five out of seven.

Vernon trimmed Portland, four out of six.

Sacramento walloped San Francisco, four out of seven.

Seattle put it on Oakland, four out of six.

HELD FOR BURGLARY.

Man Who Banked Hundreds a Day Must Answer.

James Forney, who is said to have made a confession to deputy sheriffs that he banked from $200 to $400 a day while operating as a burglar, was held to answer yesterday by Justice Bowser of El Monte. His bail was fixed at $3000 and he was lodged in the County Jail.

Testimony introduced by Deputy District Attorney Richardson showed that Forney was chased after the burglary of the home of Toni Mori of El Monte; that he crawled under a house and buried stolen valuables while his pursuers closed in on him and later attempted to throw away two diamonds.

WILL ENLARGE PLAYGROUND.

The city is to become owner of all the property lying within the triangle between Piedmont avenue and Pasadena avenue at the location of the Arroyo Seco playgrounds and the Garvanza Public Library. The Council yesterday instructed the City Attorney to prepare the necessary papers for the purchase from Anna M. Spence of the one remaining privately-owned parcel of land in this triangle, for $1000. This will enlarge the playgrounds.

KAFITZ CASE OVER.

Because of another case on trial, the contest over the $75,000 estate of William Kafitz, set in Judge Myre's court for yesterday, was continued until this morning. The will is offered for probate by Willy Kafitz, a nephew, and Mrs. Lizzie Mageot, a niece, of the deceased.

FLASHES.

A BUNCH OF FOYS.

POPPER HAS RAISED 'EM ALL TO BE COMEDIANS.

By Grace Kingsley.

"If the war had lasted much longer, I should have had to do a single, or else I should have had to raise another family—and I'm too old to do a single ——."

Thus Eddie Foy, who has raised his own musical comedy troupe and who brings them to the Orpheum this week in the cleverest, snappiest, all-around entertaining show he has ever put on with the Foyiets, entitled "Slumwhere in New York." There was thrill, too, when onto the stage dashed the oldest Foy boy, who dressed in his naval uniform, and who has only just returned from the war, at once broke into a spirited jig, just as if he'd never been away. They've all grown a little, those Foyiets, since they were here last, and it won't be a great while till Popper Foy can start a musical comedy show of his own with 'em. The two girls are prettier and rosier than ever, the tiny Foy hasn't outgrown his baby cuteness, and Eddie Foy, Jr., is developing into a regular showman. There are solos and duets and all sorts of combinations of songs and dances; Madaline Foy does a Salvation Army lass and throws doughnuts to the audience, and tiny Irving imitates Charlie Chaplin in "Shoulder Arms," while Eddie, Jr., gives an imitation of Eddie, Sr., that is morelike the original than Eddie Foy is himself.

There are two capital nut comedians on the bill—one, Sam Adams, is a "hick" nut, and the other, George Wilson, describes himself as a "loose nut." Sam wears rube clothes, a red tie and a pained smile, and is uproariously funny; and Wilson isn't "loose" enough to get rattled, but cleans up on laughs with his monologue.

There's a handsome big brunette one in red, who sings contralto—that's Florence Hobson—and there's a pretty little blonde one in white and gold—that's Eileen Beatty. They sing delightfully, everything from grand opera to negro melodies, also they play duets on the piano. And to hear them "push the dominoes," you'd think it was the easiest thing in the world.

It's quite impossible the Six Kirksmith Girls, musicians, ever grew up in one family. Because they must all blow out about the same number of candles on their birthday cakes. In a cyclorama of blue, and clad all in white, these six pretty—or at least pretty pretty—girls sing and toot and play the piano in a manner to bring down the house.

If you know of any new ways of shooting off a rifle, the McIntyres would like to know about it, that's all. They don't believe there are, and we don't believe there are. The McIntyres are two, male and female, and they present their shooting act in neat and clever fashion, in a pleasing setting.

When they come airily on in evening clothes, the Le Varre Brothers, you don't know whether they're dancers, or tragedians or have trained pigeons, but you suspect from the careful manner in which the dinner table is set and the furniture arranged, that this is an acrobatic and juggling act. Ah, right again! And it'll be quite impossible for you to tear yourself away until the last dish has come safely down out of the air and the boys have executed their last attempt to break their necks in some new, weird way.

The only holdovers are the Russian dancers of Kosloff, and this act is well worth seeing twice.

Tally's Broadway.

A corking mystery story, rich in dramatic situation, skilfully built up, and with but one marring and incredible situation, is Alice Brady's vehicle, "In the Hollow of Her Hand," which is on view at Tally's Broadway this week.

The opening scene discloses a deeply veiled woman alighting from a train at a country station at night, who is met by a man who declares they don't know whether the dead man in the roadhouse is her husband or not, but they strongly suspect he is. He tells her, too, of a woman who has come out to the roadhouse with her husband, and who has run away. She looks at the dead man, identifies him, and says the woman probably had provocation, and that she won't offer any reward for her capture. As she goes home in the machine her husband came out in, she overtakes the other woman, takes her into the machine, and carries her home with her, where she makes her her companion, offers to help her elude the police, but refuses absolutely to hear the other woman's story. Later the other woman is beloved of the murdered man's brother, and also by an artist. And from thenceforth there is an absorbing series of complications.

The incredible part comes when the wife, in order to get revenge on her husband's family for having neglected her—though heaven knows they seem always to be paying attention enough to her—tries to make the girl marry her brother-in-law. This the girl doesn't want to do, naturally, feeling it wouldn't be pleasant to have a little skeleton in her home, and the wife, just as the telephone rings from the detective's office to say the murderer has been discovered, tells the girl her only escape is in promising to marry the brother-in-law. What makes her think the family would let the girl marry him after that? Also, the detective was certainly a bum one, who, after sleuth-footing on the case a whole year or so, finally hits on the wrong person!

The acting is especially convincing; but why isn't so excellent an artist as Miss Brady willing the cast should be named in her pictures?

Clune's Auditorium.

It has been said you can't burlesque comedy—but nobody has said anything about musical-comedying it. And so, over at Clune's Auditorium there's a brilliant melange of girl, lights and song, called "Look Out," which is wrapped, fluffy inches deep, around the chief situation of "What is Your Husband Doing?" Every bit of humor about the young wife who goes to a roadhouse to see what her husband is doing, tries to be devilish and passes out on a cocktail, is extracted by Will King and his players, while the house roars at the comical complications that follow.

Naturally every once in a while the plot breaks off to let the show travel into the pleasant byways of song-and-dance numbers, and to let the girls wander out on the runway. Big song hits are "Great Big, Blue-eyed Baby Doll," sung by Vera Ransdale and the chorus, an oriental number by Dorothy Caldwell and chorus; "Sweet Mammas May Come and Go," by Reece Gardner, and others.

The vaudeville bill is short and snappy and includes the Radium Models in Classic Poses, Gus Erdman, the singing nut, Babe Lee and Bob Homburg in "Just for Fun." Gibson and Betty in "Comedy on Broadway," Ebenezer, the ham-tree mule, and Mansfield and Riddle in songs, patter and dancing.

SPECIAL CARS TO THE MISSION PLAY.

Special cars to take care of the crowds availing themselves of what will probably be the last opportunity to see Frederick Warde starring in the Mission Play are being run by the Pacific Electric Railway this week from Los Angeles to San Gabriel. The attendance of both tourists and residents has been heavy for the entire season and the last few days are expected to tax the seating facilities of the Mission Playhouse to capacity. The season closes officially May 4. There will be a performance every afternoon beginning at 2:15, and on Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

UNION REVIVAL MEETING.

John Brown, evangelist, will preach tonight at the union revival meeting at Fifty-ninth and Figueroa streets. The music, including solos and quartettes is under the direction of D. Moore.

RESUMES PRACTICE.

Dr. W. M. Fearon, who has just returned from Mare Island where he served for seven months as a lieutenant in the Medical Corps, has resumed practice at 1503 West Vernon avenue.

For the Children.

Too much care cannot be exercised in selecting a cough medicine for children. It should be pleasant to take, contain no harmful drug and most effective in curing their coughs and colds. Long experience has shown that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy meets these conditions. It is a favorite with many mothers.—[Advertisement.

"THE BRAND."

THRILLING REX BEACH PHOTOPLAY AT CALIFORNIA.

By Antony Anderson.

Rex Beach, author of that big sensation, "The Spoilers," now comes forward at the California with another Alaskan thriller filmed in our own high Sierras, where the winds blow and the snows fall for the benefit of motion-picture producers.

"The Brand" bids fair to become as popular as its famous predecessor. It is, in truth, one of the most powerful photoplays that has come out of Goldwyn's, taking rank with the best produced anywhere. This in spite of the fact that the plot is highly melodramatic and that it offers us nothing new in the way of thrills—unless it be the hero's branding of the seducer of his wife, which is shudderingly and appallingly realistic.

The story of "The Brand" is told with a fine directness and simplicity, and its events move rapidly forward in the fateful manner of some Greek tragedy. Indeed, Dan McGill, who looks like Dante, is really a grand and solitary figure, heroic in his loneliness and sorrow. The characterization is a notable one from both Rex Beach, its author, and Russell Simpson, its interpreter.

Dan McGill, an incurable idealist, loves and hates with the singleness of purpose that is often to be found in men of his type. This intensity of temperament brings havoc to both himself and those around him. McGill drives his wife and her lover into a terrific Alaskan storm, and pursues them with his hatred for years, until, at last, he is conquered by a child—his child—and the love for Alice, his wife, that remains forever unconquerable. This is a gripping story and a compelling theme. The continuity and subtitles are handled with great dexterity, and the directing by Reginald Barker, is masterly.

Kay Laurell, as Alice Andrews, is very good in the more dramatic and emotional parts, though not strong in the lighter comedy situations. Robert McKim makes a devilishly picturesque Bob Barclay, and Robert Kunkel, a fine Hopper. All in all, "The Brand" is a production that will command your interest and respect.

"Alias Mike Moran."

You may make your hero a coward at the beginning of your story or photoplay if you keep in mind that you must turn his cowardice into courage before its conclusion. You may even make him a weak-kneed slacker if you allow him a complete change of heart later on.

Wallace Reid happens to be of a type that can carry off anything in motion pictures—even a slacker, as he does in "Alias Mike Moran"—because he looks so much like the real man he is that you feel sure he'll come out all right.

The young clerk in "Alias Mike Moran," given this week at Clune's Broadway, saw no good reason why he should go to war and perhaps get killed, and when the opportunity presents itself of bribing another man, Mike Moran, a jail bird, to take his place, he does it without a qualm. He did not foresee the complications that would arise, he quite forgot that thenceforth he himself must masquerade as Mike Moran.

"Alias Mike Moran" first appeared as a magazine story under the title of "Open Sesame"—which is assuredly not so good a title as that of the photoplay. The plot is entertaining, and the situations bring out Wallace Reid's delightful and natural talent for comedy. Reid never over-acts, and he has a personality that is clean-cut, pleasing and thoroughly American. There are subtleties of expression in the present characterization.

Ann Little is charming as the French girl, Elaine, and Johnston is forceful as Mike Moran.

GRAPE GROWERS TO FIGHT "DRY" LAWS.

CIRCULATING OF PETITIONS IS STARTED HERE; MANY SIGN, SECRETARY SAYS.

That the California Grape Protective Association is to make a bitter and determined fight against the recently-enacted Federal and State prohibition enactments became apparent yesterday when the circulating of petitions calling for a referendum vote on the Sheppard national prohibition amendment and the Harris State "enabling act," was started in all parts of the city. It is said that more than 5000 signatures have been secured and that fully double that number will be the ultimate total of protests secured in Los Angeles county.

H. F. Stoll of San Francisco, secretary of the Grape Growers' Protective Association, who is at the Van Nuys Hotel, is in charge of the work of circulating the petitions. Discussing the subject yesterday, Mr. Stoll said: "It is apparent that the grape growers of California have realized just what the new prohibition laws will mean to their industry, and one of the biggest interests in the State is not going to quit business without a struggle.

"It is certain that we have a perfect right to have a referendum vote on the Harris law, and enough signatures have now been secured to petitions to assure that the act will not become operative until after the 1920 election, when it will be submitted to the people. We contend that, inasmuch as the Legislature of the State was called upon to ratify the national law, we have a right to vote on that proposition, too, and if this is a fact that question will also be put on the ballots at the next general election.

"In many of the States," continued Mr. Stoll, "is this same effort being made, so we are confident that in enough of them we will win a majority vote, that the so-called national 'bone-dry' laws will never become operative."

TO GREET ENGINEERS.

A preliminary meeting to discuss plans for the entertainment of Co. F, One Hundred and Seventeenth Engineers, who arrived at Boston yesterday from France, was held in The Times Assembly Rooms last evening by the women's Rainbow auxiliary, of which Mrs. L. Cook is chairman. Further meetings will be held so soon as the probable date of the arrival of the men in this city is known.

Rupert Julian,
Who directed the production of "The Fire Flingers," now shown at the Superba, and who has the two leading roles in the photoplay.

CONTRALTO PREMIERE.

STUDENT SINGER ACHIEVES SUCCESS IN RECITAL.

By Jeanne Redman.

Margery Mackay, contralto pupil of Mme. Anna Sprotte, gave her premiere recital to a fairly large and extremely responsive audience last evening at the Ebell Club House. Miss Mackay was assisted by Mme. Sprotte at the piano, and Howard Martindale, 'cellist, who was accompanied by Mrs. E. W. Martindale.

Mme. Sprotte made a brief address before the programme, asking allowance for a first recital and for the diffidence of youth. She said that an artist should express her soul, and leave something of it with her audience. Miss Mackay's voice, however, needs no allowance, for it is of unusual strength and range; and while she brought us none of the "tears and shivers" that her instructor expects from a singer, we could only be grateful for her restraint, as the soul of a young girl is too subtle a thing to pass over the footlights. Miss Mackay sings with dignity and poise, and without extraneous manner. She has a remarkable control, and the faults for which we were prepared are occasional roughness in passage and insecure sustaining, which can be overcome in the course of study. Her tone coloring and flexibility which are difficulties for a full contralto, are matters for time.

The programme was varied, including dramatic and lyric styles. The old "Ah, Rendimi" was the piece de resistance, and also it presented to the young singer her gravest consideration. She sang also a group of songs by local composers, Gertrude Ross, Frederick Stevenson and Charles Cadman.

GODOWSKY RECITAL TONIGHT AT TRINITY.

Tonight, at Trinity Auditorium, Leopold Godowsky, the gifted pianist, will present the only public recital programme to be given in Southern California this season. He has returned to his home here, after a six months' tour which was not only the most extensive one of his career on this side, but the most satisfying in every degree. He has enjoyed a greater number of recital appearances than any other pianist now in America.

The programme for tonight will include the lovely B flat minor Chopin sonata, in the interpretation of which this master artist has no equal, a group of Chopin shorter numbers, Debussy's "Night in Granada," "Goldfish," and "Reflections in the Water," for the modern things; the Polka in A Flat (dedicated by Godowsky) by Rachmaninoff, the Russian pianist, MacDowell's "March Wind," the Humoresque from Godowsky's "Miniatures," and the always lovely "Campanella," by Paganini-Liszt.

Rachmaninoff, by the way, will arrive in Los Angeles next month; he and his wife accompanying Dagmar Godowsky to the coast; they will be house guests of the Godowsky's for the summer.

McCormack Success Continues.

The McCormack good luck continues as great as ever. On his tour westward he is greeted everywhere by wildly enthusiastic audiences. At the Convention Hall in Kansas City last night the record audience cheered him to the echo, most of them following his carriage to the hotel, where from the balcony of his suite he was obliged to appear and make a short speech before they were content to let him go.

He arrives with Edwin Schneider, his accompanist, Lieutenant Donald McBeth, violinist, and D. C. McSweeney, personal manager, on Thursday, in anticipation of his three concerts at Shrine Auditorium, scheduled for next Saturday afternoon, Tuesday and Thursday evenings, May 6 and 8.

A YOUNG AMERICAN TENOR IN CONCERT.

Joseph Conlin, young American tenor, until recently in the military service, will give a concert Friday evening at Trinity Auditorium. Mr. Conlin has a repertoire of operatic and lyric compositions that have met with approval of the musical public, as sung by him, both in this country and Europe. Many of these are on the programme for Friday evening, also popular ballads.

While in the service Conlin devoted his spare time to writing the book for an opera for which he is now composing the music. The story is to be American in plot and situation. In the season the young singer will later arrange for its production after his concert.

In his approaching recital Mr. Conlin will be assisted by the Zoellner Quartette, and Mrs. M. Hennion Robinson, pianiste.

POCKETS CLOSED TO LOAN.

Los Angeles People Seem Afraid to Take Good Government Investment.

Subscriptions which have been received to date are falling heavily below the amount bought by the same people in the preceding loans. If this tendency continues, it foretells a failure of the loan in Los Angeles city.

The headquarters records and precinct records of this and of the preceding campaigns are so complete that personal responsibility automatically places itself upon those who fail to subscribe in proportion to their recognized ability. To guard against this danger, a full meeting of the precinct committees is being called at once to insure their adopting the most effectual methods of recording and posting the amounts of all subscriptions at the precinct headquarters. Strong neighborhood committees will then go over these records in each precinct and determine just whose subscriptions are seriously inadequate.

[Signed] HENRY S. M'KEE,
Chairman Southern California Liberty Loan State Central Committee.

Los Angeles threatens to be the laggard city of the country in the Victory Loan campaign for funds with which to pay the government's honor debts. Cities of the same class in other sections are reporting subscriptions far in excess of those recorded here. Even San Francisco has passed us in the race. Chairman McKee and Campaign Manager Moulton appealed last night to civic pride to prevent the continuance of a condition which threatens to reflect seriously upon the patriotism of the citizens of the Southland.

According to the official figures issued at the close of business yesterday Los Angeles is not only behind contemporary cities in other States but is behind in her own district and her own county. Only 6.17 per cent. of the municipal allotment has been taken up. In the county the percentage is 8.64 per cent. and in the district 10.07 per cent. These percentages are comparable to a total of 23.41 at the corresponding time in the Fourth loan and indicate a pathetically apathetic attitude on the part of the public.

Put in another way Los Angeles city has taken up $1,965,900 of her quota of $31,848,900; Los Angeles county has subscribed $3,423,400 of her quota of $39,630,400 and the ten southern counties in the subdivision have subscribed for $5,402,600 of a total allotment of $53,643,350.

ONE DISTRICT OVER TOP.

Although the record in the official tabulation does not show it, because so many of the subscriptions made in East San Bernardino are filtered through the Santa Fe Railroad and have not yet been reported to the Federal reserve bank, that district has gone over the top with plenty to spare. Her quota is $76,550 and the subscriptions up to Saturday night were $150,000. Riverside, Santa Barbara and Orange counties are also doing very well, although the Riverside report is not complete in the official tabulation. The rest are scarcely in the running as yet. In the entire southern district only 19,712 separate subscriptions have been made and of these but 7695 are credited to Los Angeles city. The tabulation follows:

County—	Quota.	Reported.	P.c.

The programme at the Victory Ship tonight gives promise of being one of the most interesting and entertaining of the series. It is to be under the direction of the Jesse D. Hampton players and Wilfred Lucas will be the chairman. H. B. Warner, who has been at the Los Angeles studio for several weeks, will make his first public appearance at this time and will unburden himself of a "few well-chosen remarks." Mr. Warner is New York's most popular current matinee idol and the Los Angeles girls are all aflutter to gaze upon his manly figure.

"TROUPE ON DECK."

Then there will be Bill Desmond, in character of course, for Bill without his cowboy make-up would hardly be recognized by any crowd of movie fans. His "troupe" will also be litesally "on deck," thus bringing the rodeo and the sea into harmonious juxtaposition. A group of company beauties has consented to present themselves for ocular demonstration and the entertainment of the crowd. These include such well-known personalities as Carmen Phillips, Marguerite de la Motte, Kathleen Clifford, Barbara Castleton, Lois Wilson, Vivian Rich, Mary McIvor, Fritzie Brunette and a lot of others. Purchasers of a $500 (or more) bond will have the added felicitation of being "mugged" with the favorite twinkler and these pictures will be exhibited at a Big downtown theater later in the week. Motley Flint is expected to talk, and Chairman McKee has been invited to be present.

MISS KENNEDY SCORES.

At the ship last night Miss Madge Kennedy of the Goldwyn Studios played practically a lone hand for the colony of film stars. Largely through her efforts, the sum of $67,000 was subscribed, the Goldwyn Studios, subscriptions totaling $39,000. Clem Glass, vice-president of Brock & Co., jewelers, made an unsolicited subscription for that firm of $5000. Col. J. G. McGee, late of the Australian forces, spoke.

"THE PRICE OF PEACE."

The government film, "The Price of Peace," based upon the activities of the American boys in France, was shown yesterday at the Hamburger Fairyland Theater and will be repeated daily at hour and a half intervals from 10:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. No attempt is made to sell bonds at this place and all seats are free.

The aerial circus was at Long Beach yesterday and is playing Santa Barbara today. Oxnard and San Fernando are included in the Wednesday itinerary, afternoon and evening, respectively. Lieut. F. D. Hoyt is now in command of the squadron of three armored planes. He is assisted by Lieuts. Fay Wright, A. L. Foster, S. Hall, I. J. Williams, and Sergeants O. L. Holte and M. D. Kellogg.

Last night tank "Liberty" was at the school grounsd at Euclid and Stephenson avenues, where all of the surrounding precincts were represented in the contest for the honor flag. The Whippet tank performed a trench cake walk and other maneuvers. Tonight this tank will be at Indiana and Stephenson avenues for the Laguna district and the Whippet, the Arcadia Jazz Band and other special features will be included. This is also precinct night at the Victory ship, which means that the totals taken from the crowd will be credited to the precincts of the division, including the downtown districts.

The tank "Democracy" last night was at Lankershim, where a representation was present from all parts of the San Fernando Valley. Tonight this tank with its crew of returned heroes and special features will be at Sawtelle.

CORONA GOES OVER.

Corona, Riverside county, has gone over. The glad tidings were received last night from W. B. Clancy, county chairman. Corona's quota is $109,850; her subscription, $147,000. Chairman H. P. Lincoln of Santa Barbara also announces that Montecito has exceeded its quota of $252,000 and Santa Barbara city reports subscriptions of 50 per cent in excess of their quota. Goleta in the same county has a total of 70 per cent and Carpenteria and Summerland have both passed the 60 per cent mark.

Rev. W. B. Thompson addressed the 5000 men at the Los Angeles Shipyards plant yesterday, and following his remarks 90 per cent of the men pledged themselves to buy bonds. It is expected that the yards will be 100 per cent subscribed today.

The flying squadrons of the industrial organization will start today on a tour of the laundries of Los Angeles. They will be accompanied by Capt. W. G. Frazier of the tank organization of the United States army.

Precinct headquarters through Director R. H. Ballard and Mrs. J. T. Anderson, chairman of the Women's Liberty Loan committee, announced yesterday that instructions had been sent to all precinct chairmen to complete the census of their precinct and have it ready so that a complete record can be kept. This record will be open to all residents of each precinct. Every bond purchaser is urged to wear his button as this will be the insignia that will designate those who are doing their duty.

C. D. HILLMAN, JR., TO WED MISS YOUNG.

HIGH SCHOOL ROMANCE LEADS TO MARRIAGE; GROOM 19, BRIDE-TO-BE, 18.

Clarence D. Hillman, Jr., aged 19, son of the Pasadena land owner, and Miss Ruth M. Young, aged 18, will be married at St. Elizabeth's Church, Altadena, tomorrow morning. A high nuptial mass will be celebrated at 9 o'clock, and there will be a special choir and special music directed by Prof. F. A. Heinze, director of music at St. Andrew's Church, Pasadena. Miss Young is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Young of 1469 East Colorado street, Pasadena. Following the wedding there will be a reception and wedding breakfast at the home of the groom's parents, The Castle, Washington street and Marengo avenue.

The young couple first met at the Pasadena High School, from which Mr. Hillman graduated in 1917. He afterward attended Stanford University and the University of California, but lately has been assistant manager of his father's Estrella ranch at Paso Robles.

MONETA LODGE WILL GIVE BENEFIT PLAY.

A play entitled "A London Romance" will be given by Moneta lodge No. 128, Knights of Pythias, at Burke's Hall, Slauson and Moneta avenues, this evening, to add to their fund to care for members of the lodge who are in service, and who are now returning from overseas.

Several of the lodge members have been wounded in the fighting in Europe, and it will be the endeavor of the lodge to assist these in every way possible.

COME ON!

See here, old scout, you know, no doubt, that our boys licked the Hun; in Europe's clime they're marking time, they know their work is done; now patiently across the sea they long for this old land; they think you're true, they look to you to lend a helping hand; don't tell them that your heart is fat and concrete is your dome; come, lend your dough to end their woe and bring the boys back home!

LUKE McLUKE.

She screamed loudly and then crawled back and lay on a couch in front of a fireplace in the front room and waited for help to come. She was found there later. She had been shot five times. Ramsay was shot once through the head.

Ramsay is said to have a brother who is manager of the Long Beach Lumber company, and his father was said to be the head of a large lumbering company at Saginaw, Mich.

Several letters written by Ramsay to Mrs. Cole were found in the house. In one of these he said he was sorry for their quarrel and that he could not live without her.

In one letter written on April 19, he says: "My Dear Peggy: Am writing to see if you will please tell me why you wouldn't meet me or even call me over the 'phone Friday as you promised. Please, dear, if you can't have anything more to do with me, for goodness sake, let me know. Lovingly,

"LEWIS."

In a letter written on April 26, a few days before the slaying, he said: "Just let me know if there is someone else," and, "Have tried hard to get work, but so far have been unsuccessful. However, I haven't exhausted my list yet, and am going to start out again tomorrow. Think I shall go to San Pedro."

The letters were written on stationery of the Hotel Savoy, this city.

HANDBOOK SUSPECT HELD FOR FELONY.

METROPOLITAN SQUAD MORE SUCCESSFUL THAN DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

S. E. McRae, arrested by Sergt. Ed Slaughter and four other members of the Metropolitan Squad, was held to answer yesterday by Justice Hinshaw for the alleged operation of a handbook and the making of bets on horse races. McRae is the second man to be held to answer on this charge, which is a felony in contradistinction to a misdemeanor as handled previously. Of the seventeen men arrested in the raids conducted by District Attorney's investigators, one man so far has been held to answer.

W. L. Fore and Henry Delo, police officers, testified to handing McRae marked bills in making bets. Fore read several telegrams, introduced in evidence, and explained the code as given him by McRae. The bets were made Thursday and Friday of last week. Deputy District Attorney Heinecke prosecuted the case. Justice Harry N. Miller of Glendale, sitting for Justice Palmer, dismissed three handbook cases against J. C. Wynn, on motion of Deputy District Attorney Hill, because of lack of evidence. Three cases in which J. B. McGregor is accused of operating a handbook, were continued to May 14.

Justice Miller also continued till today cases against Byron McNutt, Ezekiel Trens, Ed Bastian and A. M. Wilkinson.

Divorce Suit Defendant Another Mrs. Elizabeth Feeley.

Mrs. Elizabeth Feeley, the Los Angeles policewoman, of 1020 East Twenty-ninth street, is not the Mrs. Feeley mentioned in the suit for divorce filed by Thomas N. Feeley, in the Superior Court several days ago. Yesterday she called attention to this fact, with the statement that she is not involved in any domestic difficulties and that the use of her name as the defendant in the divorce action is an error.

According to Loenholn & Walsh, attorneys for Thomas N. Feeley, the defendant in the action brought by their client is a Mrs. Elizabeth Feeley, now believed to be living in an apartment hourse near Twelfth and Figueroa streets, and is in no way connected with the policewoman.

FRENCH ORPHANS TO GET "POLY" FUND.

The $1200 that Polytechnic High School had on hand for the Red Cross when it disbanded has been turned over to the committee for the care of the French orphans. After a discussion, in which the French orphans, the army relief fund, the Armenians, the Salvation Army, and a clinic in Los Angeles figured as possible recipients, a vote was taken, and a ten-to-two decision in favor of the orphans was the result.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Banks Behind in Quota; Nuisance Tax Soon; Holiday Experiment.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

Not only is Los Angeles county falling behind in the Victory Loan campaign, so far as public subscription is concerned, but the banks of this county are also far in arrears on their assigned quotas of the Federal certificates of indebtedness. John U. Calkins, deputy governor of the Twelfth Reserve District, has brought the matter to the attention of Dr. John Willis Baer, county director of sales, in a communication which points out the fact that the quota for each bank in the latest issue of certificates, dated April 10, was one and two-thirds per cent. of the gross resources, and that the total subscription taken throughout this district is $7,450,000 short of the quota. This, together with the deficit of $4,450,000 on previous issues, brings the total deficit to $11,900,000. The Treasury Department has announced that the next issue of certificates will be dated May 1, maturing October 7, the quota for the district remaining the same as fixed for the previous issue. The banks are expected, and as a matter of fact will be bound to finance the government through these 4¼ per cent. short-term certificates, and this presents another unsurmountable obstacle to their taking the major portion of the loan allotment which, according to the opinion of many should-be subscribers, they should be.

The certificate system of raising ready money for emergency requirements has worked out very satisfactorily, but to keep it liquid the banks must be relieved from heavy obligations to take on large blocks of comparatively long-term indebtedness. Before the first Liberty Loan was floated 42 per cent. of the money subsequently raised by the sale of the three and a half was first realized by the sale of treasury notes to the banks. In the case of the second Liberty Loan 61 per cent. was anticipated by the sale of these certificates; the third, 63½ per cent.; the fourth, 66% per cent. Today the banks throughout the country hold something like $4,800,000,000 treasury certificates, which means that the government owes something like $300,000,000 more than will come in from the sale of Victory Bonds. It is easy to understand, in view of these circumstances, that the banks must pass the Victory notes along to the investor if they are to keep their decks clear for the handling of ordinary business.

Very little enthusiasm is displayed by local merchants over the new luxury taxes, which become effective on Thursday. The "nuisance taxes," most of the dealers call them, and assert that the results will in no way compensate the government for the annoyance to dealer and public. Price tags are being prepared which will be attached to articles coming under the purview of the act. These will carry three lines, the first the regular prices of the article, the second the amount of tax, and the third the total which the purchaser must pay. In most stores a duplicate of this tag will be filed, from which the government's share in the transaction will be figured and payment made. The tax averages 10 per cent. on such part of the retail price which is in excess of a specified price for each class of articles. For instance, umbrellas and parasols are to be taxed when selling for more than $4. Thus, a parasol selling for $5 must pay a tax of 10 per cent. on $1, making the total price $5.10. The tax is almost certain to be a source of trouble to the dealer, and irritation to the customer, especially the tax on soda fountain products, 1 cent on each 10-cent purchase or fraction thereof. A great deal of extra book-keeping will be involved, and a loss of time in handling crowds and making change will be another element which is expected to bring about agitation for an early repeal of the "nuisance tax."

Trade activity is increasing, and business both in Los Angeles and throughout the country is being conducted upon a wider margin of safety than for many years. This may be because producers are not taking the chances they formerly did, or because they do not find it necessary to shave the corners as closely because of the higher price level which now prevails. Whatever the reason there are fewer commercial failures than for the past twenty-six years and the total failures for the first three months of the year are the smallest in thirty-eight years. Leading economists predict that for a long period the United States will be busily engaged in supplying the demands of man throughout the universe which means employment for every person willing and able to work.

The progress of the loan is having so little effect upon business generally that bank clearing records are being broken with as great frequency as before the loan started. A daily total in excess of $9,000,000 is no longer of sufficient import to cause more than a passing ripple of interest and bankers think that before long the every-day average will approximate that figure.

In no large city in the United States do store employees receive the consideration they do in Los Angeles. An eight-hour day is the regular portion; many holidays not observed elsewhere are made the occasion for closing, and Saturday summer half holidays have been the rule for many years. Now the J. W. Robinson Company, announce a further concession in the interest of contented employees and a better service for the public, and during July and August this store will close all day every Saturday. This will give two full days off each week, and twice during the period, Independence Day and Labor Day, three-day vacations will occur. The plan has been found to work efficaciously in eastern cities, and the experiment from both its financial and psychological aspects will be watched with interest here.

Edward Elliott, assistant Federal reserve agent at San Francisco, has just issued a report of general business and agricultural conditions throughout the district in which he finds that crops are unusually favorable and that wheat sown in the fall has wintered well and the acreage is largely increased. Barley and oats have also made a favorable growth and the planting of sugar beets is well advanced. Bean acreage is less than last year, but cotton planting in both California and Arizona is progressing favorably and there will be little acreage reduction. Manufacturing and industry are fair. All shipyards strikes have been settled and the yards building steel vessels are resuming full activity. The number of unemployed throughout the district has been greatly reduced during the month. It is reported that in California there is now a surplus of 12,000 workmen as compared with 19,600 a month ago. Of these there are said to be 7000 in Los Angeles and vicinity, 4500 in San Francisco and 400 in Oakland. These include 7300 unskilled laborers; 1400 agricultural workers; 800 unskilled shipworkers, and 615 clerks. There is a shortage of farm laborers in Washington although wages run from $65 to $75 per month and board and lodging. In Arizona there are about 4000 miners out of employment, but many of these are likely to find farm employment if they care to take it. In Oregon there is a surplus of 2955 against 5985 on March 1, and it is not unlikely that inside of three months the surplus will have been entirely wiped out. Wages remain on an even keel, and the situation as a whole is most encouraging.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 28.—A note of caution pervaded today's stock market, but the absence of fresh complications in the foreign situation and publication of the revised League of Nations covenant furnished the incentive for another broad movement, encompassing many substantial gains.

Market letters over the week-end were mainly of an optimistic tenor, albeit stressing the wisdom of taking profits, especially in speculative issues which have recently scored the greatest advances.

Trading during the morning was in keeping with the feverish activity of the past fortnight, but tapered off at midday, only to resume its rapid pace in the final hour, when oils and other favorites soared to higher levels.

As is usually the case on the eve of the quarterly meeting, the course of United States steel was followed with keen interest for some hint respecting the "extra common dividend, but after fluctuating within extremely narrow limits, steel closed at a large fractional loss.

The market's course was mainly guided, however, by oils and so-called oil rails. Conspicuous in the first named division were Royal Dutch issues at net gains of 7 1-4 points, Texas Company 9 1-2 and Sinclair 3 3-4, while Mexican petroleum rallied over 5 points from its heavy opening.

Minor Rails were prominent, but failed to retain more than part of their 1 to 3 1-2 point rise and investment rails reacted moderately, but shippings, American International excepted, affected a revival of interest.

Independent steels were hesitant, but related equipments strengthened under lead of Crucible, Pennsylvania Seaboard and American and Baldwin Locomotives. Sales amounted to 1,530,000 shares.

Minor rails were the strongest issues of the bond market, Liberty and Internationals also improving. Total sales, par value, aggregating $12,675,000. Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Liberty Bond final prices today were: 3 1-2s 98.54. First 4s. 95.90; second 4s 93.60. First 4 1-4s 95.90; second 4 1-4s 93.84; third 4 1-4s 96.22; fourth 4 1-4s 93.44.

STATE'S CASE HARD HIT.

INVESTIGATION CALLED.

"Freddie" Frank was the next witness for the prosecution. He said he was engaged by the Mayor and City Prosecutor as an investigator.

Q.: Did you have any conversation with Mayor Woodman relative to your work?

A.: Yes, in the Mayor's office with City Prosecutor Widney. Woodman said he would work me out or the prosecuter's office at the expense of his private investigation fund. He said there was a matter needing investigation. Horace Karr had told me to see the Mayor. I told the Mayor that Karr said Dan Green and Hiram Wambold were in a game which they were protecting. When I went to get my money the Mayor wanted to know if I had any written report. I said I had reported verbally to Horace Karr. The Mayor said: "You understand I employed you to investigate the Bolsheviki and I.W.W.'s to see if they are gaining a foothold among the soldiers."

At this point, upon motion of the defense, the court ordered all of Frank's testimony stricken out and Frank was dismissed from the witness stand.

City Treasurer Ned Powell was next called to the stand by the prosecution. After being asked a few questions, he was dismissed by the prosecution.

CITY HALL.

S. V. Macgillivray, reporter for the Herald, was called by the prosecution and asked if he knew that Karr and Mayor Woodman were intimate. He said that Mayor Woodman told him a few weeks ago that if he (Woodman) was particularly friendly to any City Hall reporter that man was Earle Weight of the Examiner. This was ordered stricken out by the court and Mr. Macgillivray was excused.

SERGT. HACKETT INDICTED.

'political influence' to get Hackett on numerous occasions, and Karr, who has reasons that will become apparent later even to the District Attorney, whose eyes are now blinded and whose judgment badly warped by the brief glory of the present moment.

"Karr's story of protection from Hackett is absolutely untrue and if he collected any money from anybody on that basis the giver was a 'sucker.' "

BOND RAISED.

At the last minute, according to Mr. Ford, Dist.-Atty. Woolwine caused the bail to be changed from $5000 to $10,000. Mr. Ford had the $5000 ready in cash, but the last-minute change made it necessary to call in a surety company to fix the bonds.

Accompanied by Sergt. Hackett, J. J. Herlihy, of Mr. Ford's office, and W. N. Curran of the National Security Company, Mr. Ford left his office a little later, and succeeded in locating Superior Court Judge Jackson at the Union League Club.

It was then discovered that the warrant for Hackett's arrest could not be found, Mr. Ford stated he was willing to give the District Attorney the benefit of the doubt, and communicated with the Sheriff's office. Deputy Sheriff Bright was sent to represent the county, and was given the approved bond. Hackett and Mr. Ford left the club and went to dinner.

Sergt. Hackett declined to make any statement, except to point to his record of fifteen years' public service and his reputation among the police department members and his numerous friends in Los Angeles.

The grand jury is still delving into affairs at the City Hall. City Prosecutor Widney and three newspaper reporters were called as witnesses yesterday, and Patrolmen Bergman and Henry of the Purity Squad were in attendance. Four women, three of them negresses, also were called.

Deputy District Attorneys Clark and Stafford are conducting the present inquiry, which is said to center about a contemplated action on the part of the grand jury to remove a city official from office.

MURDER CHARGED.

Jose M. Rodriguez, a laborer of 643 North Broadway, is dead, and Lazar Hernandes of 153 North Glass street, is in the City Jail on the charge of murder as the result of a fight between the two men last night. According to the police, Rodriguez accused the other man of being too friendly with his wife, and an altercation followed in which Rodriguez was killed with a razor.

It is expected there will be more than 100 delegates present at the meeting, including representatives from chapters in all parts of Southern California.

The purpose of the conferences is to outline the work to be done during the next few months by Red Cross chapters, and the changes occasioned by the cessation of hostilities. It is expected that either John D. Miller of Los Angeles, Pacific Coast chairman, or A. B. C. Dohrmann of San Francisco, vice-chairman, will preside at tomorrow's meeting.

The remaining conferences will include: Tucson, May 2; Phoenix, May 3; San Francisco, May 9; Reno, May 10.

"East of Main Street."

Mrs. E. E. Leighton, the Mayor's sister, who gave her views on the graft trial to The Times last Sunday, yesterday drew attention to the fact that the sentence in her statement reading "the element east of Main street" should have read "that element east of Main street."

Said she:

"Mayor Woodman and myself know that there are just as splendid people east of Main street as there are anywhere in the world. Many of our very best friends live in that section, and some of the finest property in the city is located there. When the Mayor remarked that 'he thanked God he was not elected by that element along the east side of Main street,' he referred to those elements which are attacking him at this time, the gamblers and prostitutes and other denizens of the underworld, not one of whom supported him in his last campaign."

Good Words for Fleming.

Resolutions signed by eleven southern members of the State Legislature, commending Alexander P. Fleming for his efficient service in that body, and calling attention to the fact that he remained at work at these duties although a candidate for Council in Los Angeles, were received here yesterday. The resolutions state that Mr. Fleming "has accomplished great good for his county and for Southern California, while thus prejudicing his candidacy at said municipal election," and that "we express our deep appreciation of the untiring energy and self-sacrificing devotion of Hon. Alexander P. Fleming in the interests of the State during the session of the Legislature."

The signers are Joseph M. Argabrite, Ventura; Walter Eden, Santa Ana; Fred E. Lindley, San Diego; W. E. Oakley, Santa Maria; J. Stanley Brown, El Centro; Grace S. Dorris, Bakersfield; Chester M. Kline, San Jacinto; Samuel Knight, Redlands; Carlton W. Green, Paso Robles; Crombie Allen, Ontario, and W. A. Doran, San Marcos.

Dr. Houghton's Platform.

Dr. A. D. Houghton, candidate for City Council, and former member of that body, has issued his platform, which contains the following points:

"I stand for enforcement of law and a clean city government; for embodiment of the spirit and ideals of Los Angeles under the form of a beautiful civic center; for municipal ownership and distribution of power; for getting more revenue out of the city-owned utilities; for total abolition of liquor and vice in Los Angeles; for street widening and better approaches and viaducts and the abolition of grade crossings; for better police protection in the suburbs; for the harbor bonds; for the deportation of all first-paper aliens who forfeited their citizenship during the war; for the abolition of all special assessments and the introduction of the government cost plus method of contract in construction work, for civil service reform in the interest of returned service men, for increased pay for all employees and an investigation of food-profiteering and the high cost of living.

CANDIDATES TO BE IN PARADE.

Red Fire and Torches to Give Old-Times Touch.

Loftus Out of Council Race; Sanborn Succeeds.

BY THE WATCHMAN.

A mammoth parade has been arranged for 8 o'clock next Saturday night by the Association for Betterment of Public Service in honor of the nineteen candidates whom it has indorsed. The candidates will all be in the parade, and a dozen automobiles will carry banners illustrating the twelve principles and purposes of the association's platform.

The route will be from Ninth street to First on Main; First to Spring and south on Spring to Ninth; Ninth to Broadway, and north on Broadway to First. A turnout of hundreds of workers for the association ticket is expected, and there will be red fire and torches, with many touches of the old-time political street demonstrations.

The Association for Betterment of Public Service is anxious to secure a full expression of the will of the citizens at the primary election, and it hopes by means of this parade to center attention upon the present municipal issues and the stand being taken by the organization, so that a large vote may be polled next Tuesday.

WEAVER WILL LEAD

Sylvester L. Weaver, indorsed for Mayor, will head the candidates, and will be followed by Charles S. Burnell, for City Attorney; John S. Myers, for City Auditor; W. J. Sanborn, Fred C. Langdon, Bert L. Farmer, Frank E. Purcell, E. D. Seward, Fred C. Wheeler, Boyle Workman, A. P. Fleming and Ernest Brunton for City Councilmen; Dr. F. W. Steddom, Mrs. Grace R. Ashley, D. K. Edwards, Lynn Helm, C. C. Parker, C. E. Seaman and Bessie D. Stoddart for Board of Education.

Each candidate will have an automobile of his own, accompanied by friends with a big banner showing who he is and what he stands for.

The parade will follow up the big rally tomorrow night, when all the candidates will be presented to the public from the stage of Trinity Auditorium in the first meeting of the campaign staged in this city by the Betterment Association.

Loftus Retires.

W. J. Sanborn has been chosen by the Association for Betterment of Public Service to take the place of Frank L. Loftus in its list of indorsed candidates for the City Council. Mr. Loftus has withdrawn from the race because he feels his health will not permit a strenuous campaign. He requested W. A. Barker, president of the association, to release him as a candidate, although his name must remain on the ballot and may be voted by anybody who so desires. Mr. Loftus asks his friends to support Mr. Sanborn in his place and also the other eight candidates indorsed by the association.

Mr. Sanborn has the full support of Boyle Heights, which community has lined up with the Association for Betterment of Public Service forces to put over its entire ticket, say influential residents of that section.

Will Use an Airplane.

An unusual feature on any municipal campaign will be the use of an airplane to advance the interests of Meredith P. Snyder for Mayor.

Out of his personal friendship for Mr. Snyder, Cecil de Mille, director-general of the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, next Sunday will fly over Los Angeles, Hollywood, Edendale and other suburbs of the city, dropping dodgers telling of the Snyder candidacy.

Working for Zahn.

Otto J. Zahn, candidate for City Council, is acting strictly within the spirit as well as the letter of the law, accepting no campaign contributions and expending no more than the allowed 10 per cent. of the Councilmanic yearly salary, as provided in the city charter.

An active campaign of personal indorsement is being made for Mr. Zahn by the following committee:

George Alexander, J. A. Anderson, Mrs. W. H. Anderson, A. G. Bartlett, Hollis J. Backus, L. B. Bohrmer, Mrs. P. T. Bicknell, Ben F. Field, Jr., W. Blanchard, Benjamin F. Bledsoe, Reynold F. Political Notes.

Candidates for the Board of Education who have received indorsement from the Independent Realty Brokers' Association are Lewis D. Collings, Melville Dozier, D. K. Edwards, Lynn Helm, P. D. Noel, C. E. Seaman and Miss Bessie D. Stoddart.

Mrs. Vita Rising has been placed in charge of the woman's organization for Gesner Williams. Sub-organizations of women for the Williams campaign are to be formed in all parts of the city. Mr. Williams has been indorsed for Mayor by the Los Angeles branch of the Clean Government League of California, of which George Hargrave MacNeill is president and E. E. Haring secretary.

Judge T. L. Lewis, presiding judge of the San Diego Superior Court, gives a warm indorsement to the candidacy of John N. Metcalf for City Attorney. Mr. Metcalf was assistant to Judge Lewis when the latter was District Attorney of San Diego county. Judge Lewis says: "You proved your value as a member of my staff and showed marked ability for any part of the work you undertook. You were a thoroughly conscientious employee of the county and had the highest regard of the community, the courts and myself."

Many prominent lawyers are taking part in the campaign of Henry N. James for City Attorney. Mr. James and his aides are meeting daily at noon at his headquarters, 207 South Broadway, and are perfecting plans to reach every portion of the city.

Numerous organizations are giving their support to Ernest Braunton for City Council. Although Mr. Braunton lives in an extreme section of the city, he is known throughout its corporate limits, and widely throughout the southwest for his work on horticultural lines and as Park Commissioner of Los Angeles.

ON COPPER IMPORT CHARGE.

B. Horowitz, charged with receiving, buying and transporting 2663 pounds of copper unlawfully imported from Mexico into Cochise county, Arizona, made no fight to prevent his removal to the latter point for trial in the United States District Court, yesterday. He gave bond for his appearance before United States Commissioner J. D. Taylor, at Tucson, May 5.

NO "POLITICS" AT PRIMARIES.

Parties not Recognized at Next Month's Election, Registrar Explains.

Voters may cast their ballots for any candidates at the city primary election next month, regardless of the voter's or the candidate's politics. This was made plain yesterday in a statement issued by David B. Lyons, registrar of voters. Mr. Lyons said:

"My attention has been called to a rumor that at the coming city primaries, voters are legally bound to vote only for candidates whose political affiliations are the same as their own.

"This is not true. That restriction applies to August primaries, preceding general State elections. In the city primary no parties are recognized. Any voter may vote for any candidate, regardless of his or her or the candidate's political affiliations."

FRAUD THREADS BADLY SNARLED

Ancillary Receiver's Sought in Case Involving Two.

One's Said to be Bankruptcy Law Violator in East.

Would Tie up Large Sum in Cash, Also Real Estate.

A petition was filed in the United States District Court, yesterday by Max E. Sanders, trustee in bankruptcy in the Southern District of New York, asking for the appointment of an ancillary receiver, a temporary restraining order, an order to show cause and the appointment of a special master to take testimony in the matter of Louis Weiner, alias Herman Silver, an alleged bankrupt.

Several weeks ago, Weiner, with Louis Seldeen, was arrested in this city charged with using the mails in a scheme to defraud in connection with alleged wholesale thefts of silks, linen, woolen goods, laces, etc., from Berman Company and Hackel & Gutterman, Los Angeles merchants, by whom the prisoners were employed. A large amount of the loot was recovered in the room occupied by the pair in the I. W. Hellman Building, Federal officers say.

After the arrest of Weiner and Seldeen, it developed that Weiner was under indictment in New York, on the charge of violating the bankruptcy laws, and that silks, satins, laces, linen, woolen goods and cash valued at $20,000 had disappeared. Both men were held in $5000 bond on the local charge, but the bail of Seldeen was reduced to $2500, and he was released. Weiner is being held for the action of the New York authorities.

Berman Company and Hackel & Gutterman assigned their claims against Weiner to M. Broudy, who employed Isaac Pacht as attorney, to attach certain moneys and property in Weiner's possession. Attorney Philip Cohen represented Weiner.

The petition signed by Receiver Sanders says an attachment was issued against a lot in Long Beach, five lots in Marigold Acres, San Bernardino county, $334 in the Citizens' National Bank, $4649 in the Westlake branch of the Home Savings Bank, one Maxwell automobile and office furniture and fixtures at 213 I. W. Hellman Building. The money on deposit in the Westlake Bank was in the name of Sylvia Seldeen, wife of Louis Seldeen, jointly charged with Weiner for using the mails in a scheme to defraud.

It is further declared in the bill of complaint that an agreement was reached by which a part of the money and property attached should be turned over to Berman Company, part to Hackel & Gutterman, part to M. Broudy, as their assignee, part to Paul Blair, private detective who arrested Weiner and Seldeen, and who it was alleged in the preliminary examination had been offered $1000 for the release of Seldeen, part to Isaac Pacht, who represented Broudy in the attachment proceedings, and part to Philip Cohen, who represented Weiner.

The complaint further asserts that all of this property belongs to the creditors of Weiner in New York, and was removed from the jurisdiction of the court there unlawfully when he fled from that State after March 27, 1918, when he was declared a bankrupt and Sanders was placed in charge of his property.

It is also alleged that some of the property is still held by Louis Seldeen, by his wife Sylvia Seldeen, and by Chief of Police Butler. The Federal court is asked to restrain all the persons and firms mentioned from disposing of any of this property until a special master shall be able to take testimony.

ALLEGED BOLSHEVIK MAGAZINE DENOUNCED.

HARBOR JUSTICE WISHES EDITORS WERE THE ONES ON TRIAL.

Police Judge Hugh J. Crawford of Los Angeles Harbor expressed his regret yesterday that the editors of the socialist magazine, "The New Justice," were not on trial instead of two of its solicitors, when E. W. Ulrich and C. B. Irish answered to a charge of distributing copies of the publication without a license. Justice Crawford freely expressed his opinion of the magazine when Attorney J. H. Ryckman, one of the contributing editors, appeared as attorney for Irish.

The magazine is published from Mr. Ryckman's office and the issue seized contained articles defending the Russian Bolsheviki and also an appeal for funds for the defense of members of the I. W. W. who are under arrest.

Mr. Ryckman argued that the ordinance under which the two men were arrested applied to the circulation of dodgers and advertisements and not to magazines. The court took the case of Irish under advisement until May 5. Meanwhile Irish was released on $100 bail. He is employed in one of the shipyards.

Ulrich pleaded guilty and was given a suspended sentence of 100 days. His father, Sergt. E. G. Ulrich, who was recently released from the army, asked permission to testify in his behalf but was so overcome with emotion that he left the witness stand without uttering a word. Young Ulrich is 23 years of age and Irish is 49.

FOR SANTA FE TRACK.

An ordinance granting a franchise to the Santa Fe Railway Company to construct a second track across Main and Chavez streets is to be prepared by the City Attorney. The City Council so instructed him yesterday.

Periodic Bilious Attacks.

Persons subject to periodic bilious attacks will observe that their appetite fails them just before an attack. That is, they do not really crave food, but eat because it is meal time. If they will eat only a light meal and no meat, then take two of Chamberlain's Tablets, the attack may be avoided.—[Advertisement.]
